STATEMENT OF INSTITUTIONAL MISSION

Ringling College of Art and Design recognizes that artists and designers play a significant role in society. The College's primary mission is to provide programs leading to degrees that prepare students to be discerning visual thinkers and ethical practitioners in their chosen area of art and design.

Visual arts professionals must understand diverse aspects of past and present cultures, and develop their capacity for creative expression and effective communication. Ringling's curriculum, therefore, balances the teaching of technical knowledge and skills with the development of critical, conceptual and creative abilities and supports courses that provide historical, multicultural, global and future perspectives. Ringling faculty consists of professionally active and teaching-oriented artists, designers and scholars.

Ringling College of Art and Design strives to enroll both full- and part-time students from diverse backgrounds who intend to become professionals in the visual arts. Through its policies and practices, the College supports excellence in teaching and fosters the aesthetic, intellectual, professional, personal, and social development of its students. Academic programs and advising, career services, and an extensive co-curricular student life program prepare students for an art or design profession, or when appropriate, for continued studies on the graduate level. In addition to its degree program, Ringling College offers courses, lectures, exhibitions and other art-related services to the local and regional community through its gallery, library, continuing education and community service programs.

Through the efforts of its Board of Trustees, administrators, faculty, support staff, alumni, and friends, Ringling endeavors to provide the necessary resources, services and environment to fulfill its institutional mission.

Founded in 1931, Ringling College of Art and Design is a private, independent, nonprofit, four-year college.

CORE VALUES

In support of the Mission we value:

- The arts as essential in the cultural and intellectual life of a society.
- Rich and varied arts education that engages innovation and tradition.
- Educational experiences in and out of the classroom that nurture lives of learning and creativity.
- Development and support of the whole student.
- Academic freedom, inquiry and freedom of expression.
- Integrity and social responsibility in an interdependent world.
- Diverse community that serves as source of empowerment.
- Indicators of the Mission and Values in action:
- Preparing students as future artists and designers by providing a curriculum that explores ideas, technical and conceptual skills, and aesthetic choices. In addition to appropriate support for the major disciplines, this includes support for the liberal arts as an essential component, an adequate number of qualified faculty, high standards in teaching with attention to appropriate class size and provision of adequate academic support through facilities and services.

- Attending to the whole student by providing qualified staff and appropriate services, adequate and safe facilities for on-campus life. This strengthens the classroom and educational experiences and helps to lay the foundation for a life of continued growth.
- Recognizing the importance of an engaged faculty of working artists, designers, writers and researchers as absolutely essential to the educational process. This takes place through an environment that nurtures creativity, provides ongoing professional and artistic development opportunities and supports interdisciplinary collaboration.
- Upholding academic freedom and a safe environment for members of the campus community to responsibly question, examine, and explore all intellectual ground. This creates an environment of intellectual enrichment open to all and one that supports creative risk-taking and experimentation as well as the ongoing exploration of the history and traditions of the visual arts.
- Exploring ways to play a greater leadership role in the advocacy, understanding and protection of the visual arts at the community, state, national and international level. This includes recognizing and providing opportunities that assist the entire campus in the understanding of the social role, value and ethical implications of the artist/designer in society.
- Engaging actively in the exploration of historical, multicultural, global and future-oriented perspectives, and striving for a diverse educational environment of inclusiveness, acceptance and equal opportunity.
- Promoting greater awareness and a more active commitment to environmental issues in a future-oriented perspective that acknowledges our individual and institutional relationship with the earth and our obligations to conserve natural resources.
- Building a community of mutual respect for differences, that values relationships and works to break down barriers that divide. On campus this means continuing to provide opportunities for personal connection and building bridges across departments and disciplines. It is a campus community of shared responsibility working together toward common values and goals that will enable each person to continue a life of learning and growth.
- Adopted by the Board of Trustees February 13, 2003

- Financial Aid: Anticipated aid will be deferred for those students with a Financial Aid Notification Letter. If the anticipated financial aid is reduced or cancelled the student is responsible for the balance due. The Office of Financial Aid may be contacted at finaid@ringling.edu.

- Full Service Payment Plan, administered by Transact/Cashnet: The Full Service Payment Plan provides you the ability to finance the balance due for the semester, interest free and beginning July 1, 2020. Refund Policy

Students who are admitted and register for classes at Ringling College of Art and Design are financially responsible for associated charges. Students who officially withdraw from all courses during the first eight weeks of a semester will receive refunds as follows:

Withdrawal before the end of:	Tuition/ Technology fee	Housing	Board
10th day of semester	90%	None	50%
26th day of semester	50%	None	None
57th day of semester	25%	None	None
58th day of semester, and thereafter	None	None	None

In accordance with Florida law, a full refund of tuition and registration fees paid by the student is available prior to the commencement of instruction, if the student submits a written request to the institution within three working days of the payment. All refunds will be paid within 30 days of the student's official withdrawal date.

Title IV Federal Financial Aid

A student who receives Federal Pell Grant, SEOG, Stafford Loan or PLUS Loan funding and withdrew from the College is subject to the Return of Title IV Funds regulations. Students with funds from any of these programs “earn” their financial aid dollars while enrolled. If a student withdraws prior to completing 60% of a semester, a prorated portion of the federal financial aid dollars must be considered “unearned” and returned to the federal programs. Unearned financial aid dollars returned to the federal aid programs could cause students to owe the College a significant amount upon withdrawal. In addition to the amount of federal aid the College must return, students who received financial aid for other educational costs, including off-campus living expenses, may be required to repay a portion of those funds to the federal programs. Failure to return aid due back to the federal aid programs will result in loss of eligibility for federal assistance.

Past Due Indebtedness

Students are expected to keep their accounts current. Any student with past due indebtedness is not allowed to participate in pre-registration, room lottery, registration, enroll for any subsequent semester, obtain an official transcript or a diploma. The College reserves the right to cancel the enrollment of a student with past indebtedness; the cancellation of enrollment, however, does not relieve the student of the incurred debt. In the event an account becomes delinquent, the College reserves the right to assign the account to the credit bureau and/or a collection agency, at which time the student may be responsible for all associated collection fees, costs, and expenses incurred in such collection efforts.

STUDENT ACCOUNTS / BURSAR

Student Account Information

The Office of Student Accounts / Bursar is pleased to offer students information which will be helpful in planning and paying for Ringling College of Art and Design educational costs. A student's financial responsibilities to the College include meeting payment deadlines, fulfilling loan or grant requirements and addressing outstanding balances, even if someone else is making the payments for the student. As part of the registration process, all students acknowledge they are responsible for payment of their student account and related expenses.

It is important to understand that information and communications will be geared toward and directed to the student, rather than a parent or guardian. If a parent or other individual handles the student's educational finances, students are encouraged to take the first step in their involvement by discussing the information contained here.

Billing

The Office of Student Accounts / Bursar is responsible for billing and collection of all tuition, fees and charges. Students are welcome to come in and discuss their balances and methods of payment. Appointments are available from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday- Friday during the academic year. The office is located on the 2nd floor of the Ulla Searing Student Center.

Billing statements are sent to the student in the student's name. Statements are posted online each month and could also be mailed to the student's permanent address when classes are not in session or may be delivered to their campus mailbox during the school year. All students should view their statement in their portal each month so they have the most recent information regarding their student account.

Students and authorized users are notified via their Ringling email address when billing statements are available on Self-Service. Each student is responsible for monitoring their account balance on Self-Service and keeping track of payment due dates. Since the student will be the only recipient of the statements, they will need to communicate their account status to anyone else responsible for paying the charges.

Payment Policy

As mentioned, students who are admitted and register for classes at Ringling College are financially responsible for all associated fees and charges. Full payment and/or acceptable documentation which demonstrate that the student's balance will be fully paid must be received prior to the published deadline. Acceptable documentation includes enrollment in the Full Service Payment Plan administered by CashNet, a financial aid notification letter, a copy of an outside scholarship/third party award letter or a copy of a billing authorization or sponsorship letter. Alternative/Private Loans may not be deducted without approval from the lender. Please include the student's name and Ringling College of Art and Design ID number on all payments and correspondence.

Changes in schedules during the defined add/drop period will result in adjustments to the student account. Students with drawing from a class or classes after the defined add/ drop period will not receive an adjustment to their student account.

Students who officially withdraw from all courses during the first eight weeks of a semester will receive tuition, technology fee and board refund in accordance with the schedule found in the Student Handbook and Schedule of Fees. In accordance with Florida law, a full refund of tuition and registration fees paid by the student is available prior to the commencement of instruction, if the student submits a written request to the institution (within three working days of the payment). All refunds will be paid within 30 days of the student's official withdrawal date.

Balance Due Accounts

Students are expected to keep their accounts current. There are potential consequences of which the student should be aware if he or she does not meet their payment responsibilities. A financial stop will be placed on a student's record if the student owes the College an outstanding debt. The debt could include, but is not limited to, outstanding tuition, fees, parking fines and returned checks. Financial stops may prevent the student from participating in pre-registration, room lottery, registration, re-admittance, receiving or having a transcript mailed to another institution and receiving their diploma. The financial obligation must be paid in full in order for the stop to be removed.

The College reserves the right to cancel the enrollment of a student with past indebtedness; the cancellation of enrollment, however, does not relieve the student of the incurred debt. Any student with past due indebtedness may not attend classes or be permitted to move into campus residences nor be allowed to participate in pre-registration, room lottery, registration, enroll for any subsequent semester, obtain a transcript, or receive a diploma until their accounts are settled with the Office of Student Accounts/Bursar Office. In the event an account becomes delinquent, the College reserves the right to assign the account to the credit bureau and/or a collection agency, at which time the student will be responsible for all associated collection fees, costs and expenses incurred in such collection efforts.

Methods of Payment

Online Payments

Credit card (VISA, MasterCard, Discover and American Express) and electronic check (ACH) payments may be made using our online secure payment portal. Financial Aid Recipients

Financial aid will be disbursed and credited to the student account when all required documents have been received and approved by the Office of Financial Aid and the enrollment status meets all requirements.

Anticipated Financial Aid

Anticipated aid (pending financial aid contingent upon enrollment status and other requirements) will be deferred for those students with a Financial Aid Notification Letter and, if applicable, have also completed the federal financial aid verification process. If the anticipated financial aid is reduced or cancelled, the student is then responsible for any modification to the balance due. Likewise, if financial aid is refused, denied or decreased, payment is due to the College. It is the student's responsibility to notify the Office of Student Accounts/Bursar if there is a change in their financial aid. It is recommended that each student review their account periodically through Self-Service.

Disbursement of Financial Aid

Not all students are at the same point in financial aid processing, so not everyone will have their funds disbursed at the same time. The billing statement will reflect actual funds applied or received and anticipated (pending) grants, scholarships and loans. If a student's financial aid is noted as "anticipated aid" on the student statement, patience is appreciated as the Office of Financial Aid and the Office of Student Accounts/Bursar work with each student to complete the disbursement process. If the financial aid appears on the student statement as a credit, then funds have been disbursed.

Students and parent borrowers will be notified in writing or electronically when a loan is disbursed. The notification will include the date and the amount of the disbursement, the right of the student or parent borrower to cancel all or a portion of the loan funds, and the procedures, including timeframes, by which they must notify the College they wish to cancel the loan or a portion of the loan.

Private Scholarships

The Office of Student Accounts/Bursar will notify any student by e-mail when a check needing endorsement arrives. The student should respond immediately. Scholarship funds will be applied to the student's account when received and properly endorsed. The funds will not be divided between fall and spring semesters unless directed by the donor.

Alternative Financing

Many students use private student loans (alternative loans) to help fund educational costs. Most private loan programs require a creditworthy cosigner. The College must have lender approval before the loan amount will be deducted as anticipated from a student's account.

Credit Balances & Overpayments

If a student overpays their account, they may be entitled to a refund. Payments made in any part by a credit card will be refunded as "credit back" transaction to the credit card used for that transaction. Payments made by debit card in person will be refunded by check. For those students enrolled in FSPP, the contract will be reduced by the credit balance showing on the current student statement.

If a student has a credit balance resulting from an overpayment by personal check and/or financial aid, the refund will be made payable to the student, except for Direct Plus loan recipients (please see below). If the student has signed up for eRefund the money will be deposited directly in the student's bank account and they will be notified by e-mail when the money has been disbursed, otherwise the student will be refunded by paper check.

Physical checks will be mailed to the permanent home address listed with the Office of the Registrar.

If a Direct PLUS loan is awarded and disbursed to a student's account, any credit balance (check) will be issued to the Direct PLUS borrower. The check will be mailed to the address on file in the Office of Financial Aid for the parent borrower. The amount of the check will not exceed the amount received from the loan provider.

FINANCIAL AID

Scholarships, Grants and Loans

Purpose & Philosophy

The purpose of the Office of Financial Aid is to provide resources for students who otherwise would be unable to attend Ringling College. Our financial aid programs consist of institutional merit-based scholarships and need-based grants as well as federal and state grants, student loans and student employment. The Office of Financial Aid is committed to helping students achieve a Ringling College education. Our staff members assist students and their families with a high degree of personalized service. We provide comprehensive financial guidance and support over the entirety of students' educational experience at Ringling.

Applying for Financial Aid

Accepted students are automatically reviewed for merit scholarships. These scholarships are based on various measures of achievement including portfolio score and Grade Point Average (GPA). Financial need is not a factor in determining merit scholarships. Incoming students who have completed the application process by February 15th for the following Fall semester are automatically considered Ringling College merit scholarships. For need-based financial aid, the College strongly encourages each student to submit the U. S. Department of Education's Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year, whether or not aid was received in prior years. The FAFSA is available on-line at www.fafsa.gov.

With a completed FAFSA, the College will consider students for all need-based federal, state and institutional aid for which they are eligible. Federal aid consists of grants, loans and work study. In addition to the Bright Futures Scholarship program, other sources of aid from the State of Florida include need-based and non-need based grants. The College offers grants to students based on demonstrated financial need. Available federal funds can only be applied to coursework leading to a degree.

Academic Requirements

Merit scholarships awarded through the College require recipients to earn and maintain a minimum of a 2.5 cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA). Federal financial aid recipients must be in good academic standing, earn a minimum of a 2.0 semester GPA, and maintain a 2.0 cumulative GPA. Students may not use institutional, federal, or state financial aid to pay for courses that they audit.

Full Time Enrollment Requirement

Ringling College of Art and Design awards all institutional financial aid (merit scholarships, endowments, and need-based grants) based on full-time enrollment status. Students awarded Ringling financial aid are required to maintain full-time enrollment (e.g. 12 credit hours or more) each semester in order to receive the full amount of their awards. Students who attend less than full-time will automatically have their Ringling scholarships and grants adjusted based on the number of credit hours they are enrolled for the semester. Students unable to attend full-time due to extenuating circumstances may appeal to the Director of Financial Aid.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

In accordance with Federal and State regulations, the following guidelines apply to all students requesting Title IV funds (Federal Pell Grant, Federal SEOG, Federal Direct Stafford Loan or Federal Direct PLUS Loan, Federal Work Study) regardless of whether the student has previously received Title IV aid.

Financial aid recipients are required to meet Ringling College's Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements. SAP provides qualitative, quantitative, and incremental standards by which the College can determine that students receiving financial aid funds are maintaining SAP requirements for their course of study. Failure to maintain SAP in accordance with current policy requirements will result in the loss of financial assistance.

The Office of Financial Aid completes a SAP review annually at the end of the spring semester. All attempted credits are counted, irrespective of when and whether or not financial aid was received. The College counts all Incompletes ("I"s), Withdrawals ("W"s), Credit / No Credit, Pass / No Pass and all repeated coursework.

If students transfer coursework from other institutions, the College will count all attempted credits accepted in the SAP calculation, for both progress (67% completion rate of all coursework) and maximum time frame (150% of published program length).

When students are not meeting SAP, the College will offer one semester (maximum) of additional financial aid by placing the students on "Financial Aid Warning" (defined below) before aid is terminated, unless the students have reached or exceeded the maximum time frame requirement (see Maximum Time Frame, below).

Qualitative Measurement for Financial Aid

A total quality point value is determined for the term using the quality point system:

A = 4	C- = 1.67
A- = 3.67	D+ = 1.33
B+ = 3.33	D = 1
B = 3	D- = .67
B- = 2.67	F = 0
C+ = 2.33	W = 0
C = 2	I = 0

Students must maintain at least a 2.0 cumulative GPA at the time of the SAP review at the end of the spring semester. All course grades will be taken into consideration including "I" (Incomplete), "F" (Failure) and "W" (Withdrawal).

Quantitative Measure

Students must complete at least 67% of credit hours attempted to remain compliant with SAP.

Credit hours progression will be based on a cumulative total of credit hours attempted to credit hours earned.

The following grades will not be considered completed credits: F, W, WF, I, and N.

Repeated Course Work

Repeated course to count toward your financial aid enrollment status, you may only repeat a previously passed course once (for a total of two attempts). If you enroll in a previously passed repeated course for a third time, this course will not count toward your enrollment for financial aid purposes. This rule applies whether or not the student received aid for any previous enrollment in the repeated course.

Financial Aid Warning

Students who fail to meet the SAP standards will be placed on Financial Aid Warning. Students can look at this as a second chance to keep their financial aid. Students on Financial Aid Warning who fail to meet the SAP standards for that semester will be placed on Financial Aid Termination (see Loss of Financial Aid, below).

Maximum Time Frame

Maximum hours to earn degree: To quantify SAP, the College uses federal law requirements in order to set a maximum time frame in which students are expected to complete their degree. The maximum time frame cannot exceed 150% of the published length of the program measured in credit hours attempted. To identify the maximum time frame of 150%, multiply the total credits required times 150%. Students who have reached or exceeded the maximum time frame of 150% or more are required to successfully petition the College by way of written request each semester in order to have their financial aid reinstated (see Appeal Process, below).

Federal Direct Loan Usage Limit

All first-time Federal Direct Loan recipients who borrow on or after July 1, 2013 have limited eligibility for Direct Subsidized loans, defined as a period not to exceed 150% of the length of the borrower's education program.

Loss of Financial Aid

Students who do not meet SAP requirements will be subject to termination from receiving further financial aid. SAP standards are checked and verified each semester.

Generally, students may fail to not meet SAP standards for the following reasons:

- They have reached the maximum time frame of their program.
- Did not complete the semester with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better.
- They do not complete 67% of attempted credits cumulatively.

Additionally, the following are other considerations that students must meet to maintain SAP requirements:

- 1) Repeating any course in which a grade of "C" or better is received is not permitted in determining enrollment for financial aid eligibility. A course in which a grade of "D" or "F" is received may be repeated one time.
- 2) Incompletes ("I") will be considered only if they are made up by the dates posted in the official semester calendar.

Once students reach their maximum time frame, and/or does not meet the SAP standards after one semester of financial aid warning, they will be terminated from receiving further financial aid assistance.

Appeal Process (Federal): Financial Aid Probation

Under certain conditions, students may be eligible for a semester of Financial Aid Probation, which is the status assigned to a Ringling student who has failed to make SAP, has appealed, had their appeal approved and their eligibility for federal student aid reinstated. Students who have had financial aid terminated may submit a written appeal with an academic plan of study to the Office of Financial Aid.

The letter of appeal should describe in adequate detail those extenuating circumstances which made it unreasonable or impossible to meet the terms and conditions required to maintain SAP. Student must work with an Academic Advisor to complete an academic plan as part of the appeal process. The academic plan must include a list of classes with associated credit hours needed to graduate, which classes directly relate to graduation requirements, and a narrative of the action plan to ensure success for the remainder of the student's college career at Ringling College.

Students paying for their own classes or sitting out for an enrollment period does not necessarily re-establish aid eligibility. Students for whom financial aid has been terminated for reasons other than exceeding the maximum time frame component may receive financial aid reinstatement by successful appeal or by meeting both of the following criteria:

- 1) Achieve the required cumulative GPA and;
- 2) Successfully complete 67% of the total cumulative credit hours attempted at the College.

Action taken on a financial aid appeal is communicated to students in writing by postal mail or email. Students who have an appeal approved will be placed on Financial Aid Probation status for the subsequent semester(s). While on Financial Aid Probation status, students must maintain a specified minimum semester GPA, complete a specified percentage of semester coursework, and be within the 150% maximum time frame.

Loss of Institutional Sponsored Scholarships

Students must be enrolled full time and receive a minimum 2.5 cumulative GPA at the end of the spring semester each academic year for automatic renewal of College sponsored scholarship and grant funds.

Institutional Sponsored Scholarship Appeal Process

Students who do not meet the required GPA requirements for automatic scholarship renewal will have the ability to appeal to the Office of Financial Aid. At the end of each spring semester, students' grades are reviewed and those who did not meet the minimum requirements will be notified by the Office of Financial Aid of the appeal process and the steps they must take within a specified time frame to appeal the loss of the institutional funds.

Return of Federal Title IV Financial Aid

Students who receive Title IV funds and withdraw from the College are subject to the Return of Title IV Funds regulations.

Students with funds from any of these programs "earn" their financial aid dollars while enrolled. If a student withdraws prior to completing 60% of a semester, a prorated portion of the federal financial aid must be considered "unearned" and returned to the federal programs. Unearned financial aid dollars, which have to be returned to the federal aid programs, could cause students to owe the College a significant amount upon withdrawal.

In addition to the amount of federal aid Ringling College must return, students who received financial aid for other educational costs, including off-campus living expenses, may be required to repay a portion of those funds to the federal programs. Failure to return aid due back to the federal aid programs will result in loss of eligibility for federal financial assistance.

Institutional funding will be pro-rated depending on the date the student withdraws. The Office of Financial Aid's policy coincides with the Bursar's date of withdrawal for tuition refunds.

State Financial Aid

State of Florida Financial Aid

To receive assistance from the State of Florida, including the Effective Access to Student Education (EASE), a student must be a legal resident of the state. Where financial aid eligibility is concerned, a resident is defined as one who has established and maintained legal residence in Florida for at least 12 months prior to the enrollment period. This residence must be for the purposes of establishing a permanent home, and not merely be incidental to enrollment at an institution of higher learning. Attending college in Florida will not, in and of itself, meet the residency requirement for state aid.

Dependent Students can receive State of Florida financial aid if their parents qualify as a Florida resident per the state's statutory regulations. Information on state programs that the College participates in and eligibility requirements can be found at www.FloridaStudentFinancialAid.org.

State Of Florida Requirements For Continuing To Receive State Aid

Students receiving any assistance from the State of Florida, including the Effective Access to Student Education (EASE), MUST:

- 1) Be enrolled in a baccalaureate program for at least 12 semester hours per semester at the end of the drop-add period.
- 2) Complete the equivalent of 24 semester hours by the end of the spring semester during each academic year.
- 3) Maintain a cumulative G.P.A. of 2.0 or better at the College.
- 4) Not have previously received a baccalaureate degree.

The State of Florida has additional requirements regarding Bright Futures eligibility. Please visit www.FloridaStudentFinancialAid.org.

Residency

Students who are dependent for financial aid purposes are considered legal residents of the same state as their parents. Students 24 years of age and older are considered to be independent of their parents for the purpose of determining residency. Students will be asked to document their claim to Florida residency pursuant to Florida statutes and state Board of Education administrative rules.

Out of State Students

Non-Florida residents may be eligible for aid from their home states. They should contact their appropriate state educational agency to make this determination.

Educational Records

These records directly relate to a student and are maintained by Ringling College.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Of 1974 (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

- 1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the College receives a request for access. Students should contact the Registrar's Office with requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
- 2) The right to request an amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate. Students may ask the College to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate. They should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the College decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the College will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
- 3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or support staff position (including security personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the College has contracted (such as an attorney or auditor); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the College discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.
- 4) The right to file a Report with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C., 20202-4605.

The College may release information without the student's consent where the information is classified as "Directory information." The following categories of information have been designated by the College as directory information: name, address, telephone listing, e-mail address, photograph, place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, full-time/ part-time status, and the most recent previous educational institution attended by the student.

Direct questions concerning this law and the College's policy concerning release of academic information to Advising & Registration Services, 941-359-6116.

Limitations On Student Rights

There are some limitations on the rights of students to inspect records. Students shall have no right of inspection or review of:

- 1) Financial information submitted by their parents / guardians.

- 3) Confidential letters and / or recommendations in the file subsequent to Jan. 1, 1975, associated with admissions, employment, or job placement or the receipt of an honor or honorary recognition, if the student has waived his or her right to inspect confidential letters and /or recommendations.
- 4) Educational records containing information about more than one student, in which case the institution will permit access only to that part of the record pertaining to the inquiring student.

Waiver Of Student Rights

Students may waive any or all of their rights under FERPA. Ringling College does not require waivers and no institutional service shall be denied to students who fail to supply waivers.

All waivers must be in writing and signed by the student. Students may waive their rights to inspect and review either individual documents (e.g., letter of recommendation) or class of documents (e.g., admissions file). The items or documents, to which students have waived the right of access, shall be used only for purpose(s) for which they are collected. If used for other purposes, the waivers shall be void and the student may inspect the documents. The student may revoke the waiver in writing, but by revoking it, he or she does not regain the right to inspect and review documents collected while the waiver was in force.

Eligible Persons Able To View The Record

In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), the student records at Ringling College (in the Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services) are open for inspection only by the student and as per paragraph #99.31 of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, and to the following:

President's List, Academic Probation, Academic Dismissal, and Withdrawal Dates are noted on the transcript, if applicable. Unofficial transcripts are available online via Self-Service. Transcript fees are listed on the Advising, Records & Registration website. The Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services will not release transcripts to students who owe the College money or have defaulted on educational loans.

Second Bachelor Degree Requirements

To obtain a second bachelor's degree, students must meet the following requirements:

1. Hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university.
2. Complete a minimum of 30 credits of new upper-level coursework with Ringling College, after the completion of the first degree and admission into the second-degree major. The combined total must be no less than 150 credits for the two degrees.

Office and be admitted, or if a former Ringling College student, with the Registrar's Office and be readmitted to the College.

4. Complete Ringling College's major requirements (see Catalog for more detailed information). If any of these requirements were satisfied in the previous degree, the remainder necessary to complete the minimum 30 credits of new coursework should be satisfied with courses related to the major.
5. A minimum grade point average of C (2.0). The GPA will be calculated on the basis of courses taken after completion of the first bachelor's degree and admission to the student's second bachelor degree major at Ringling College.
6. The degree requirements for students who enroll continuously are determined by the Catalog in effect at the date of enrollment following admission into the second bachelor's degree major at Ringling College.
7. Must comply with all other Ringling College regulations.

Address Change & Release Of Information

Notify the Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services of address changes. It is important to remember all Ringling College communications sent home are mailed to the permanent address furnished to the Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services by the student.

Directory Information

Directory information includes the following: student name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, picture ID, dates of attendance, class year, previous institutions attended, major, awards, honors, degrees conferred, past and present participation in officially recognized sports and activities, date and place of birth.

Academic Advising

The advising system is based upon the theory of developmental advising, and thus combines personal, academic and career counseling services. First-year students are advised about the transition to college, goal setting and personal and academic matters by the designated First-Year Faculty Coordinators, the Director of Advising, the Academic Advisors, and the Office of Student Life staff.

Upper-level students receive advice about their program of study from the Academic Advisors and their Department Head. They receive advice about careers and graduate schools from Department Career Advisors and the Center for Career Services. The Office of Student Life staff will provide personal counseling and advice about the transition to a career and life after Ringling College.

The Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services tracks the progress toward a degree for all students. Students, however, are ultimately responsible for ensuring they have completed the academic requirements for their degree. Academic Advisors provide special help to students on probation, international students, readmitted students and those with disabilities. Throughout their four years, students are encouraged by their advisors "to clarify interests, skills, attitudes and values; develop habits of discipline; experience choice and develop autonomy; and develop purpose and direction."

Schedule Changes

Students may add and drop classes through the first Friday of the semester. Students may withdraw classes without academic penalty through the 10th week of each semester. The deadlines each semester are included in the Academic Calendar. Classes dropped after the first week of the semester, but before the deadlines, will have a "W" (Withdrawn Passing) recorded on the student's academic transcript.

If a student withdraws from a class after the deadline, a "WF" (Withdrawn Failing) will be recorded for that class on the transcript. A "WF" impacts the G.P.A. in the same manner as an "F." Students may appeal a "WF" grade to the Academic Standards Committee, which is chaired by the Vice President for Academic Affairs or designee. Official "Drop" forms are available from the Academic Advisors.

Please note that withdrawals may affect financial aid eligibility. It is the student's responsibility to check with the Office of Financial Aid before officially withdrawing from a class.

Scheduling

Completing required coursework in the prescribed order will assure students of enrollment in all required courses for their major within the time frame proposed for graduation. If required courses are taken out of sequence, the student will forfeit priority status for the course and will be enrolled on a space-available basis, possibly delaying graduation.

Retention Rate

Through its admissions practices, curricular programs, academic advising and student services, Ringling College strives to retain and graduate a high percentage of students who enroll.

Change Of Major

"Change of Major" forms are available in the Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services. They must be signed by an Academic Advisor and Department Head for the student's prospective major. Admission to majors with limited space is decided on a competitive basis with incoming transfer students.

Students must declare a major during the first semester of their first year.

Preferred Name Process

Ringling College has established procedures which would allow you, if you so desire, to use a name different than your legal name on the following college records:

- Ringling College account name
- Student Email account
- Ringling College ID card
- Power Campus SelfService
- Canvas
- Draw
- Library Information System

Because of processes that exist between the email system, Power Campus, and the identity management system changing the Ringling College account name and the student email account can only be done during the time in-between semesters. Preferred First Name Changes can be made with the Office of the Registrar only once. Notes on legal name change:

For name change on the following Ringling College documents, a legal name change is required:

- Transcripts
- Degree Certificates
- Financial Records
- Employment and Payroll Records
- Enrollment Data
- Financial Aid Documents and Mailing Information

To change the name on these records, you must make a legal name change through state authorities.

Contact the Registrar's Office for the application form. Upon submission of your preferred first name, your choice of preferred first name will be reviewed by the Office of the Registrar. Once your preferred first name is approved, it will appear in the first section Self-Service. If your preferred first name is not approved, your legal name will remain the only name on your record at the college.

Examples of preferred first names that will not be approved:

- Names used for the purpose of misrepresentation
- Names containing non-alpha characters
- Names containing foul or inappropriate language

Classroom Policies

While each instructor has his or her own policies regarding classroom conduct and requirements, the College does have a few policies covering all classes.

- Smoking and alcoholic beverages are prohibited in all classrooms, whether or not class is in session.
- No pets are allowed in class. Exceptions will be made in the case of service dogs.
- Because of past abuse, cell phones, radios, tape decks, headsets, iPods, televisions, and other audiovisual equipment are also prohibited during classtime.
- The College's dress code requires shoes and appropriate shirts be worn during all classes, as well as in the Alfred R. Goldstein Library, Ulla Searing Student Center, dining facilities, and galleries.

It is the instructor's sole prerogative to determine whether a student is:

- 1) In a fit condition to perform classroom work (in other words, is not under the influence of alcohol or drugs and is not sleeping).
- 2) Indeed, working on assignments for that particular class (rather than working on projects for another class or doing freelance work).
- 3) Distracting other students as to impair the learning environment.

If the instructor finds a student in violation of any of these provisions, or the policies outlined in the course syllabus, he or she may require the student to leave the classroom and may subsequently mark the student absent, which could affect the student's final grade.

Trustee Scholars Program

Every educational institution has an aura, which pervades the campus, and the Trustee Scholarship Program rewards what is truly honored, prized and admired at Ringling College. Selection as a Trustee Scholar is the highest honor awarded at the Ringling College of Art and Design. The award recognizes:

- Exceptional talent and distinction of mind.
- Contributions to the department, College and / or community during the sophomore and junior years.
- On-campus leadership and citizenship and / or the ability to be a department or Student Life mentor.

Each spring, prior to the April meeting of the Board of Trustees, the faculty of each major and the staff of the Office of Student Life, meet to select the names of two candidates for the Trustee Scholarship. Student nominees are asked to submit digital images and / or video with descriptive information, written artist statement and résumé to be presented to the Trustee Scholars Selection Committee for review and recommendation. The materials of the award recipients will later be on permanent file in the Alfred R. Goldstein Library. Each Trustee Scholar is awarded a $5,000 scholarship and is introduced to the Board of Trustees at a special reception following the selection process. While completing their senior year, Trustee Scholars will work closely with the department faculty or Office of Student Life staff to serve as mentors to other students.

If Reports from faculty or students occur regarding the condition of the studios in the morning, then studio hours will be reduced.

7. After midnight, 2 or more students must be in a room for it to remain open. If a facility is found with less than 2 students occupying it, a Public Safety Officer will ask the student to leave and will lock the room.
8. Public Safety Officers are not authorized to make exceptions to the approved building hours unless notified by the Vice President for Academic Affairs or designee.

Health & Wellness

Ringling College of Art and Design is committed to engaging students, faculty, and staff, in recreation, health, and wellness through an environment that promotes awareness, understanding and opportunities for achieving a healthy lifestyle. The Health and Wellness program takes a holistic approach to campus health by offering diverse programming and integrating medical, counseling, and fitness programs into Ringling's exceptional learning environment in an effort to meet the needs of today's students.

Medical Services

Ringling College has partnered with Sarasota Memorial Hospital to offer on-campus medical services. An APRN or PA is available 8:30am-4:30pm Monday through Friday with medical oversight provided by the physician group that staffs Sarasota Memorial's Urgent and Emergency Centers. The on-campus Health Center is located on the northeast corner of Bradenton Road and Martin Luther King Jr., Way.

Basic visits at the off-campus Sarasota Memorial Urgent Care Centers (smh.com/urgentcare) are also available to all enrolled Ringling students at no additional cost when the on-campus center is closed. (Costs may be incurred to the student if any additional services are provided.)

The Health Center is equipped to diagnose and treat most common illnesses and conditions including: colds and flu, earaches, sore throats, eye injuries, bronchitis, minor lacerations and burns, sinus infection, skin rashes, urinary problems, physicals, gynecological problems, and sprains, strains and fractures.

There are no out-of-pocket costs to see a provider for a general medical office visit.

The following services are provided at no additional cost for Ringling students:

- Visits with a mid-level provider
- Annual flu shot for every student
- Annual routine female gynecological exam and pap smear

- Allergy injection therapy
- On-site laboratory testing including urine dip, rapid strep, and pregnancy
- After hours visit with a physician provided at any Sarasota Memorial Hospital Urgent Care Center location at no cost to students. (Costs may be incurred to the student if any additional services are provided.)
- STD Testing (Gonorrhea, chlamydia, bacterial vaginosis, trichomoniasis, yeast, and HSV culture)
- Emergency Contraception

The following services can be provided at the on-campus health center for an additional fee. Some of these fees can be billed to insurance depending on individual coverage or can be paid for at the time of service utilizing our discounted self-pay prices:

- Vaccinations
 - Medications administered in the clinic
 - Outside laboratory fees for tests that cannot be completed in the on-campus clinic
 - Medical supplies such as splints and slings
 - Laceration repair and incision and drainage procedures.
- The following services are not provided directly onsite but can be arranged and coordinated within Sarasota Memorial's comprehensive network of services:
- Radiology services
 - Physical therapy services
 - 12-lead EKG
 - Follow up care for specialist visits within Sarasota Memorial's comprehensive Health Care System
 - Urgent or emergency room care

The Student Health fee helps make our Health Services possible. A valid, working ID card are required for admission to the Health Center, and students are required to complete a medical questionnaire and show their Ringling ID and insurance card when visiting the on campus Health Center or SMH Urgent Care Center. The Health Center and SMH Urgent Care Centers are not emergency facilities. For emergency care call 911, visit a local ER, or contact Public Safety. For non-urgent questions or more details contact 941.301.4000 or email medical@ringling.edu during the regular academic year.

On-Campus Psychiatry and Psychopharmacological Referrals While classes are in session, we have a psychiatrist available for limited hours several times a month in the on-campus Health Center. For students interested in exploring medication as an option to help with short- or long-term mental health concerns, they can contact the counseling center to setup a referral appointment with a College Counseling Center staff member. Transferring prescriptions from a home psychiatrist is welcomed, though a referral from one of our mental health counselors is required in all cases. For students with existing prescriptions, and/or those who are receiving continued care from home providers which many students continue to do, please let your therapist know so all providers may communicate. By working as a team with your existing provider, we are able to provide the most complete service and ensure a higher continuity of care for you. If you are receiving medication, please continue to stay in contact with your existing provider regularly via phone and during breaks as possible for medication management, and let your therapist know about any changes to your medication. Off-campus referrals for local psychiatrists can also be provided upon request for students requiring more specialized treatment.

Controlled substance prescriptions are not prescribed by the psychiatrist on site. Our goal is to help support your total health and long-term success. Students with ADHD diagnoses or other disorders requiring controlled substances should ensure they have a complete learning evaluation

(which includes 4-6 hours of testing) from an off-campus psychologist in the past three years (a diagnosis from a GP is not sufficient). The Counseling Center can be helpful in providing lists of local psychologists who provide such testing. If you are being prescribed medication of any kind please ensure that your medication is locked up when unattended and remains in the original containers at all times.

Counseling

College can be an exciting time as well as a time when students are faced with major life challenges and stressors. The Peterson Counseling Center, located on-campus in the Student Health Center at Ringling College, provides a safe, supportive atmosphere for students. The staff consists of qualified, trained mental health care professionals who serve students and are concerned with providing them the best possible treatment.

Services include short-term one-on-one sessions with a counselor, psychiatry, support and counseling groups, and emergency psychological services. Common concerns confronting students include low self-confidence, self-defeating behaviors, academic problems, questioning one's feelings, and decision making dilemmas.

Feedback from students who have used the services of the Peterson Counseling Center shows that when they actively engage in the therapeutic process they often feel relief, clarity, a new perspective, and an improved overall sense of well-being.

Counseling services are available with an appointment and are generally offered Monday through Friday. All services provided by Ringling College counselors are confidential and free to enrolled students. In order to follow legal guidelines and protect confidentiality, students will need to complete a release of information form if they wish to allow the staff to confirm attendance or otherwise communicate with a parent, faculty member, or outside provider. Copies of the release which must be signed by the student may be found on our website.

The Peterson Counseling Center is housed in the Student Health Center on the corner of Old Bradenton Road and Martin Luther King Jr. Way. For the most up-to-date information please visit us online at <http://health.ringling.edu> or email counseling@ringling.edu

Hospitalization Campus Return Policy

Ringling College of Art and Design prioritizes student safety. Therefore, after a student returns to campus from an involuntary hospitalization, or Baker Act, the student must furnish the hospital discharge paperwork to be reviewed by the Peterson Counseling Center before being eligible to return to their residence and attend classes. Ideally, the documentation should clearly state a diagnosis, treatment provided to the student while at the hospital and recommendations for treatment after discharge. Further, the student must meet with a staff therapist at the Peterson Counseling Center within two business days of discharge from the hospital to assure, to the best of our ability, that the student is made aware of the support services on campus, and offered those services to utilize. If treatment is being recommended and pursued off campus, the student will need to sign a release of information for the Peterson Counseling Center to consult with treating provider to ensure continuity of care and that any future burgeoning safety concerns can be swiftly and collaboratively addressed. Regardless of off-campus care, the student will still need to meet with the Peterson Counseling Center for an initial consultation.

Any time international students leave the United States and go to a foreign country, the DSO must revalidate the I-20. International students must have a Social Security card in order to work on campus. The student must have a signed offer to work from the College in order to apply for the Social Security card along with an Enrollment Certification letter from the DSO. The DSO can provide more information on employment options for international students.

The College wants to embrace everyone's right to freedom of speech as long as it does not cross the line to hate speech and violate our Code of Conduct and/or the law. We do not condone this behavior in any way. We do not condone words of incitement, hate speech, fighting words, obscene material, or other non-verbal symbols conveying these ideas. Freedom of speech is a protected right and we at the College want all to feel comfortable to exercise this right.

Words of Incitement

Incitement is speech that is intended and likely to provoke imminent unlawful action. In Brandenburg v. Ohio (1969), the Supreme Court of the United States held that in order to lose First Amendment protection as incitement, speech must be "directed to inciting imminent lawless action and is likely to produce such action."

Hate Speech

Hate speech is any form of expression through which speakers intend to vilify, humiliate, or incite hatred against a group or a class of persons on the basis of race, religion, skin color, sexual identity, gender identity, ethnicity, disability, or national origin.

Fighting Words

Fighting words are those that, by the very act of being spoken, tend to incite the individual to whom they are addressed to respond violently and to do so immediately, without any time to think things over.

Obscene Material

Obscene expression may be loosely understood as "hard-core" depictions of sexual acts. You do not have a First Amendment right to produce, transmit, or even, in many situations, possess obscene material on campus.

Non-Verbal Speech

Non-verbal symbolic speech is the action clearly conveys a specific message to anyone who sees and reads it.

Volunteerism

The Office of Student Volunteerism and Service-Learning coordinates community service projects for Ringling College. The staff help match volunteer opportunities with student interests and talents, and oversee a number of volunteer initiatives each year. Students can participate in the College's outreach programs, paint murals for non-profit organizations, get professional experiences by volunteering in their fields or assist with other numerous projects that benefit the College's surrounding community.

Outreach programs include, but are not limited to after-school projects teaching art, literacy skills, homework assistance, or teaching art to varying community populations such as those in nursing homes, substance abuse programs or those with disabilities.

Every year the Volunteer Program employs student-workers through Federal Work Study. This group, called RVo (Ringling Volunteerism), works hard to recruit new student volunteers, implement new marketing strategies, increase campus club and organization involvement, and strengthen the College's existing partnerships with local non-profit organizations.

The Volunteer Program at Ringling College of Art and Design makes every effort to provide experiences for students that offer opportunities to use art and other skills in service to the community. Staff members work with the service beneficiary agencies to consider student schedules, safety and skills required to complete the projects. When the project suggests that special safety techniques or equipment requires training, the Student Volunteerism and Service-Learning staff arranges with the site to provide and / or provides such. Students must also take responsibility in choosing actions that secure their own safety.

Also, please note that the campus is a member of the Premises Protection Plan, which allows the Sarasota Police Department to come onto the campus for any incident that they feel should be investigated. At that time, they may ask to see a student's ID. Failure to comply with legitimate requests to show a student's ID is a violation of the Student Code.

During move out of housing space, students are expected to leave assigned residence hall spaces, apartments, and common spaces without damages, clean and free from trash and personal items. Additionally, residences are inspected prior to break closings, and may be inspected at other times if needed. Personal items should be stored in a clean and orderly manner to promote proper hygiene and lessen the risk of pest infestation and fire hazards due to furniture or personal items blocking safe exit, excessive trash, grease in stove area, papers and other combustibles on the floor. Students found in violation of the policies outlined in the Student Handbook during Health and Safety Inspections may be subject to a conduct hearing.

Water Response and Mold Prevention Program

It is the College's goal to maintain the highest quality living environment for student residents. In the interest of achieving this goal, student should take a moment to read the following information regarding simple measures that they can take to avoid, and if necessary to address, mold and mildew problems in their student housing.

Molds and mildews are microscopic organisms found virtually everywhere in environment, both indoors and outdoors, which spread through airborne spores. When excess moisture is present inside a building, mold and mildew can accumulate and grow. If not addressed, accumulations of mold and mildew can lead to adverse health effects, such as allergy symptoms or respiratory problems.

The best way to avoid problems with mold and mildew is to prevent excessive moisture build-up. Excess moisture can collect from a wide variety of sources including plumbing leaks or other sources of water infiltration: large fish tanks, showering, laundering, cooking or even watering plants. Other factors, such as poor air circulation, extreme differences in indoor and outdoor temperatures or failure to quickly clean up spills, can contribute to excessive moisture. In order to minimize opportunities for mold growth, it is essential to limit these sources of moisture build-up.

There are several measures that a student can take to reduce moisture in their student housing and to discourage the growth of mold and mildew:

- 1) Make sure their student housing is properly ventilated by operating their HVAC system and / or by opening windows and doors. Make sure that the Air Conditioning unit in your room or apartment is set on the "Auto" function. Proper air circulation will help prevent excess moisture build-up in more humid areas.
- 2) Use the preinstalled fans in their bathrooms to minimize moisture build-up.
- 3) Wipe down visible moisture accumulation on windows, walls, ceilings, or other surfaces as soon as possible.
- 4) Clean kitchens and bathrooms regularly.
- 5) Promptly call Ringling College's Facilities Service Response at 941.309.4208 or place a maintenance request on the student portal to report any signs of water leaks or infiltration or any signs of excessive mold or mildew growth.

Following these simple steps will dramatically reduce the likelihood of mold and mildew problems in a student's housing and will allow the College to respond promptly should a problem develop. If students have any questions regarding this information, please contact the Associate Dean of Residence Life or reslife@ringling.edu, and he will be happy to assist.

Lockout Policy

Students are responsible for carrying their own keys at all times. In the event of a lockout, please contact:

- Office of Residence Life 8:30a.m. - 8:30p.m.
- Resident Assistant on duty 8:30p.m. - 12a.m.
- Office of Public Safety 12a.m. – 8:30a.m.

Students must present their valid Student ID when requesting to be let into their room. Every lockout will be logged. On the second occurrence, the student will be charged $10 to be let in and $10 each time after that.

Visitation Policy

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, residents are not permitted to have outside visitors in their room. The visitation policy will be reviewed and updated periodically during the pandemic. If a resident is found in violation of the Visitation Policy, it may result in the guest being asked to leave immediately and the resident being held accountable for violation of the visitation policy through the disciplinary process.

Institutional Policy Governing CCTV

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to govern the use of closed circuit television (CCTV) equipment to record and periodically monitor activity in public areas of the campus for the purpose of law enforcement, safety and security, while retaining a balance in protecting the privacy of its community members.

Definitions

CCTV - A generic term used to describe a variety of video security technologies. More specifically, CCTV refers to a system in which one or more video cameras are connected in a closed circuit or loop, with the images produced being sent to a central video monitor and recording system. As used in this policy, the term CCTV applies only to video images that do not have an aural component.

Concealed CCTV Equipment - A hidden camera that is either not visible from normal view or disguised as another object.

Overt CCTV Equipment - A camera is overt when it is not hidden from general view or disguised as another object, regardless of whether or not an individual actually sees the monitoring device or knows of its existence. Unless specifically stated otherwise, all CCTV equipment referenced in this policy and the CCTV Operational Procedures will be overt CCTV equipment.

Scope

This policy applies to all College personnel in the use of CCTV technology.

Policy

The Ringling College of Art and Design is committed to enhancing the overall safety of members of the College community. Toward that end, it is the policy of the College to utilize CCTV to enhance personal safety, help deter crime, collect information and evidence of actual or potential criminal activity, and protect property. The use of CCTV will be conducted in a manner consistent with the values of the institution, including a reasonable expectation of privacy, and in compliance with all Federal, State, and Local laws, and existing College policies, including the Non-Discrimination Policy and Sexual Harassment Policy.

The Department of Public Safety, under the supervision of the Director of Public Safety and with the authorization of the Vice President for Finance and Administration and the Senior Officers of Ringling College of Art and Design, may install, maintain and use CCTV equipment at locations on College owned or controlled property where it is believed that the use of this equipment will contribute to the safety and security of persons and/or the protection of property. The Director of Public Safety and designated Public Safety staff members are authorized the use video equipment as outlined in this policy. The CCTV Oversight Committee may approve other personnel to view live images at approved locations.

The Department of Public Safety, along with other Departments as appropriate, shall be responsible for all installed CCTV equipment. Safety and security purposes include, but are not limited to the following:

- Recording of building perimeters, entrances and exits, lobbies and corridors, receiving docks, specialized spaces containing high value items and cashier locations.
- Recording of access-controlled locations.
- Recording of locations protected by intrusion alarms, and hold-up alarms.
- Recording sidewalks, and parking lots.
- Reviewing recorded images as part of a criminal investigation.
- Conducting surveillance of areas prone to on-going criminal activity.
- Recording of ATM locations.
- Recording of call box or blue light security phone locations.

The Department of Public Safety, with the assistance of Facilities Maintenance and Institutional Technology, shall make efforts to inform members of the College community of the presence and purpose of CCTV systems through appropriate signage, information on the College's website, and other means as decided by those departments. Concealed CCTV may be initiated to address serious, repetitive campus violations or at the request of law enforcement officers in compliance with Federal, State and Local laws and in connection with suspected criminal activity. Concealed CCTV will not be used inappropriately.

Personnel involved in the use of CCTV shall be appropriately trained and supervised in accordance with College policies and procedures. Violations of the established policies and operating procedures may result in disciplinary action and possible termination.

To assist with this College policy, a CCTV Oversight Committee (the Committee) shall be established to oversee the Department of Public Safety's use of CCTV. The Committee will consist of:

- VP for Finance and Administration
- VP for Human and Organizational Development
- VP and Dean of Students
- Director of Institutional Technology
- Academic Affairs administrative representative
- Asst. VP/Director of Facilities
- College Counsel (advisory, as needed)
- Director of Public Safety (ex-officio) (non-voting)
- Public Safety Technology Specialist (ex-officio) (non-voting)

The Committee is to serve several functions. First, the Committee shall review the purposes of the proposed CCTV system and operating procedures. Second, the Committee shall approve camera locations prior to the installation of cameras including the review of a site location map indicating camera placement, field of view, design intent and site challenges. Members of the College community who may wish to express privacy concerns regarding the placement of cameras may petition the Committee to review the appropriateness of a given camera or cameras. The Committee shall determine the appropriateness of an installation weighing the concerns of the person(s) making the requests against the safety, security and crime prevention value of the camera(s) and render a determination as to whether or not a camera should be removed or changed.

The Committee is responsible for developing guidelines for the release of CCTV images. In addition, the Committee may review a log of all requests received by the Department of Public Safety to release recorded video images obtained through CCTV use and the course of action taken based upon the approved guidelines. Requests from individuals to review images or for Public Safety to review camera images related to incidents will be reflected in incident reports and logged. Excluded from review by the Committee are releases of recorded video images directly related to a search warrant or subpoena.

Hurricanes & Tornadoes

As with all coastal cities in Florida, Sarasota may be threatened by hurricanes and tropical storms. Ringling College property may be subject to evacuation during a hurricane.

If it appears a hurricane may be approaching this area, the College community will be notified the area is under a hurricane watch. In that case, there are several things students should do. If the students have a car, they should make sure the gas tank is full in case students are told to evacuate. Also, collect water in containers to be used in the event that water service is lost. Students should have a flashlight (and batteries) in case of a power failure. Candles are prohibited in the halls and are not suitable for high winds.

Remember, hurricanes are sometimes accompanied by tornadoes in their fringe areas.

Tornado Watch means that tornados are possible, but there is no immediate danger. Remain alert for approaching storms. Tornadoes occasionally develop in areas where a severe thunderstorm watch or warning is in effect. Remain alert to signs of an approaching tornado and seek shelter if the skies become threatening.

Tornado Warning means a tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar. Danger exists in these situations and you should move to a place of safety:

- Smaller interior rooms and hallways of a building offer the best protection.
- Stay away from windows, doors and exterior walls if possible. Most injuries are from flying debris. Seek cover under a sturdy piece of furniture if available.
- All Clear: remain in protected area until “all clear” is announced or relayed by the Office of Public Safety or by your supervisor, RA or other authorized individual.

Hurricane Evacuation

All Resident Students

When the College's immediate area is placed under a Tropical Storm Watch or Warning and / or a Hurricane Watch, the College's Emergency Response Team (ERT) will automatically enter an alert status and closely monitor the weather. The President, or his appointee, will confer with the Emergency Response Team and make decisions regarding the cancellation of classes, closing of the College and securing facilities, based on the strength, location and predicted path of the storm.

When the College's immediate area is placed under a Hurricane Warning, the President may declare a state of emergency, depending on the strength, location, and predicted path of the storm. If a state of emergency is declared, a mandatory evacuation of campus will normally be initiated, with all offices closed for non-essential personnel and food service operations discontinued. If a state of emergency is announced and evacuation ordered, the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students will initiate the evacuation of residential students.

Commuter Students

The College cannot provide housing for commuter students during an evacuation. Hurricane maps and other information about the Sarasota area are available at the Sarasota County Government website at: <http://maps.scgov.net/evacinfo/evacinfo.aspx>.

College Cancellation

If classes are cancelled, notification will be sent via the college's Emergency Notification System, by email, posted on www.ringling.edu and will be recorded on the switchboard at 941.351.5100.

Cancellation would most likely occur in the event of an impending weather emergency.

Hurricane Plan Preparation

Ringling College will activate our Hurricane Plan when a storm is projected to approach our area. In the event that Ringling College decides it is in the best interest of the students to evacuate the campus, we need your assistance in order to best protect you, our community and the campus.

Evacuation Information

All notices about evacuation, closure of the campus and re-opening of the campus will be sent to all members of the Ringling College community via the RCAD Alert system (which distributes via text message, email, and voice message to registered cellular phones). Please be sure your cellular contact information is updated within self-service at my.ringling.edu. Updates will also be posted at www.ringling.edu/alert. Information is also posted with the local media. Prior to any evacuation, students residing on-campus will meet with their RA's to review procedures.

Planning

1. Have a plan. Every student needs to have a plan for two evacuation potential locations: (1) in Sarasota or a nearby county and (2) home or other location further away.
2. Students may wish to develop a budget to share driving and hotel expenses with other students.
3. Students/Parents may wish to purchase a refundable plane ticket that can be used during hurricane season or holiday travel.
4. Again, make general plans now. When a storm is approaching the area, talk with your loved ones to let them know your specific plans about where you will go.
5. Make sure your loved ones know how to contact you and stay in touch with them throughout the storm.
6. Before leaving campus, be sure to designate an out-of-state family member or friend to serve as an Emergency Contact.
7. Before you leave the campus, and if you change locations after leaving the campus, be sure to update your information on the Emergency Contact Information and Evacuation Worksheet.

8. Be sure to include in your plan a safe location for your animal(s) if you have any. This may be with you, with a friend, in a kennel in a non-evacuation zone, or in a pet friendly shelter (You will need vaccination records.). Do not leave your animals behind.
9. If you have not made an evacuation plan, you will be taken to an area shelter once the area shelters open. Public Shelters are a last option because they are less comfortable and it is more difficult for you to secure your belongings.

Vehicles

1. As a storm approaches and definitely before evacuation, fill your gas tank and prepare your vehicle for travel. Gas may be hard to find during the evacuation. Prices may also increase due to the demand.
2. Take your vehicle with you, if possible. If this is not possible, make sure that your vehicle decal is properly displayed so that you can be identified as the owner.
3. Review your automobile insurance policy to determine if damage during a hurricane is covered

Emergency Supply Kit

An emergency situation can be frightening, especially when your parents cannot be with you at the time of the emergency. It is your responsibility to be prepared before, during and after the emergency. One way to be prepared is by putting together an emergency supplies kit. Below is a list of essential items that you should prepare to have handy in case of an emergency.

1. Non-perishable food
2. Can opener
3. Battery powered hand crank AM/FM radio
4. NOAA Weather radio with extra batteries
5. Flashlight and extra batteries
6. First aid kit
7. Prescription medications
8. Personal hygiene items
9. Blanket, pillow, and towel
10. Clothing
11. Extra set of car keys
12. Contacts or glasses
13. Cash and change (ATM's may not function)
14. Some form of personal ID (License, Passport, etc.)
15. Cell phone, chargers (consider a solar charger)

Animal supplies (Proper ID, collar, vaccination paperwork, cage, leash, ample water and food, and any necessary medication)

Preparing Your Residence

1. Take your most important belongings, valuables and personal documents with you.
2. Take course materials with you.
3. Empty and unplug your refrigerator. Wrap towels at base to absorb water in case of defrost due to power outage.
4. Remove and cover electronic items that may be damaged by water.
5. Unplug all power cords.
6. Close and lock windows if operable. Do not tape.
7. Remove your trash.
8. Lock your door.
9. Ringling College is not responsible for any vehicles left on-campus.
10. Ringling College strongly encourages you to know what is in your family's homeowner's policy as some do not cover residence hall rooms. Consider getting renter's or property protection insurance and check to see if your belongings are covered because of a hurricane.

Emergency Communications

Updates will be sent via the Emergency Notification System, email, posted on www.ringling.edu and will be recorded on the switchboard at 941.351.5100.

Basic First Aid

The Office of Public Safety and the Health Center provides basic first aid supplies.

SAFETY & SECURITY

Ringling College Office of Public Safety is located on the first level of the Kimbrough Building and provides protection and service to the College community by foot, motorized carts, and vehicular patrol 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Public Safety is composed of a Director, Assistant Director/Technology Specialist, and public safety and communications officers. They are charged with the responsibility of making sure federal, state, and local laws, as well as College policies and procedures are obeyed and enforced. Officers respond to emergencies and calls for general assistance; respond to fire and burglar alarms; lock and unlock campus facilities according to schedules; monitor campus activities; and coordinate response efforts in the event of an incident or emergency.

The Public Safety Office works directly with various campus offices to address security and safety concerns associated with lighting, landscaping, environmental safety, and life safety issues. Once a concern is noted, the Office of Public Safety forwards the information to the appropriate department for corrective action.

Ringling College is located in an urban environment and the Office of Public Safety constantly considers a variety of safety initiatives in new construction or renovation planning. Initiatives may include, but not be limited to, lighting, video surveillance, electronic access control, and crime prevention through environmental design techniques to provide the highest level of safety for our students, faculty and staff.

Public Safety Officers are not commissioned law enforcement officials and do not possess the authority to make arrests. The jurisdiction of Public Safety Officers is limited to properties owned or controlled by the College. Public Safety Officers receive training in first aid, CPR/AED, and fire safety. Criminal background checks are conducted on all officers as well as preemployment education level verification, previous employment history, and motor vehicle verification checks.

The Office of Public Safety does not have any written "memorandum of understanding" (MOU) agreements with local and state law enforcement agencies for response or investigation of crimes, but maintains strong working relationships with the Sarasota Police Department; the Sarasota County Fire Department; and other state and regional law enforcement/emergency services providers.

Ringling College of Art and Design occasionally contracts with the Sarasota Police Department to provide commissioned armed law enforcement officers to patrol the campus or to staff special events. Additionally, the College on occasion will contract with an outside security vendor to provide supplemental security coverage.

Communications Center Kimbrough Building

The Office of Public Safety Communications Center is staffed 24 hours a day and is responsible for answering calls for assistance from the campus community and public; answering calls from the blue light assistance towers and red emergency phones; assists walk-ins as needed; monitors security technology; and dispatches security officers to respond for calls for service. The Communications Center also coordinates contact with local emergency service providers.

Security Awareness And Crime Prevention

The Ringling College of Art and Design Office of Public Safety encourages everyone to be aware of their environment, stay alert, report suspicious activities, take precautions, and report all crimes/incidents. By being proactive, you can play an important role in not only protecting yourself, but also helping others to be safe. With your help, the Office of Public Safety can provide a safe educational environment in which the College community members can excel.

The programs outlined below if practiced could possibly reduce the odds of you falling victim to a crime. Take a moment to review the programs so you will be better prepared to stay safe.

During orientation in August and throughout the year, students are informed about a variety of services offered by the Office of Public Safety. Crime prevention programs are offered on a continual basis. Additional safety tips are available by visiting the Public Safety webpage at <http://PublicSafety.ringling.edu>

Periodically during the academic year, the Office of Public Safety, in cooperation with other College organizations and offices, will present crime prevention awareness sessions on topics such as active assailant, frauds and scams targeted at college students, residential hall security, sexual assault, stalking, theft prevention, etc.

Safety Escort Service

The Office of Public Safety is available to provide safety escorts to all Ringling College of Art and Design students, faculty and staff during the hours of darkness upon request.

The Security Escort Service is provided for the purpose of safety and security to all locations within the Office of Public Safety patrol area. The primary goal of the security escort service is to allow safe travel from one location to another with a greater sense of security.

Call 941-309-4121 to arrange for the escort or request additional information. In the event of an emergency, call 941-359-7500.

Identification Cards

All individuals need to display their ID Card while on-campus. It is the responsibility of the ID card holder to report any ID card that fails to operate correctly, is lost and/or stolen, immediately to the Residential Life Office or the Office of Public Safety.

Video Security (CCTV System)

The Office of Public Safety strategically deploys a state-of-the-art video security system to record interior and exterior public space areas of the campus. The system provides a deterrent to criminal activity and provides valuable information for investigative purposes. The system is recorded 24 hours a day seven days a week.

REPORTING CRIMES AND EMERGENCIES PROMPTLY

To help provide a safe and secure environment, all members of the Ringling College community, including campus visitors, are expected, requested, and encouraged to accurately and promptly report all crimes, emergencies, and public safety related incidents to the Office of Public Safety or the appropriate police agency. Reporting is strongly encouraged, even if the victim of a crime elects to, or is unable to (due to physical and mental incapacitation), make such a report. Reporting may be accomplished by contacting Public Safety directly at 941-359-7500 or in person at the Kimbrough Building (Communications Center). If there is an actual emergency requiring police, fire or medical response, please call 9-1-1 from a campus phone. In addition, blue light assistance towers and red emergency phones are located on campus. These phones automatically ring to the Public Safety Communications Center. By promptly reporting all criminal offenses described in the law, it will ensure inclusion in the annual crime statistics and will aid in providing timely warning notices to the community, when appropriate.

Public Safety Communications Officers are available 24 hours per day at 941-359-7500 to answer your call. If you are unsure what you have witnessed or experienced is a crime, please contact the Office of Public Safety and we will assist you with your situation. In response to a call, Communications Officers will take the required action, either dispatching an officer to your location, asking you to come to our office, or assisting you in contacting another agency such as the Sarasota Police Department. Response time may be affected by various factors, such as the number and location of available personnel and/or their involvement at the time a report is received. Response to an incident may also involve other personnel, such as Office of Residential Life staff in an incident of a drug violation in a residential hall, members from the Counseling Center in the case of a sexual assault, and/or an outside police agency or other agencies if an incident requires specialized abilities beyond the capabilities of Public Safety. To contact Sarasota Police Department, who have law enforcement jurisdiction covering the Ringling campus, please dial 9-1-1.

Criminal and policy violation reports involving students are reviewed by the Office of Student Life for potential conduct action. If assistance is required from the Sarasota Police Department or the Sarasota County Fire Department, a Public Safety Officer will contact the appropriate unit.

Emergency Phones On-Campus

Blue light assistance towers are located on-campus in parking lots and along walkways. The blue light assistance towers include phones which provide a 24-hour direct phone link to the Public Safety Center. Each tower has two activation buttons: one for "information" and one for "emergency." When the blue light assistance tower is activated by using the "emergency" button, the constantly burning blue light at the top of the tower flashes. A security camera is focused on each blue light assistance tower, enabling the Communications Officer on duty to see the caller while talking to the individual on the phone.

These blue lights assistance towers are not restricted to emergency situations and may be used for non-emergency purposes.

Most classrooms and other areas have red emergency phones that also dial directly to the Public Safety Communications Center. Both of these devices can also be used to access Security Escorts.

How to Activate the Blue Light Assistance Towers

Step 1: Push either the Emergency or Information Button.

Step 2: A call is immediately placed to the Office of Public Safety.

Step 3: Speak clearly.

Step 4: State your emergency or question to the Communications Officer.

Step 5: Follow the Communications Officer's instructions.

When speaking to the Public Safety Communications Officer, speak in a calm and clear manner while providing as much detail as possible related to the emergency or your non-emergency request. The Public Safety Communications Officer will send Public Safety personnel and/or other emergency responders to your location based on the information you provide.

If you are in immediate danger, or are being followed, activate the nearest blue light assistance tower and if necessary keep moving activating additional blue light assistance towers as you proceed to a safe location to call 941-359-7500. A security camera is trained on each of the blue light assistance towers so that the Public Safety Communications Officer on duty will have a visual as well as verbal contact with the user.

The Office of Public Safety tests the blue light assistance towers on a regular basis to assure operational compliance. Anyone experiencing a problem regarding the condition and/or use of the blue light assistance towers should contact the Public Safety Communications Center immediately by calling (941) 309-4121.

ACCESS TO TIMELY INFORMATION "TIMELY WARNINGS"

In an effort to provide timely notice to the Ringling community, and in event of a crime which may pose a serious or on-going threat to our community, the Office of Public Safety will issue "timely warning" crime bulletins to notify members of the community about serious crimes that occur on College designated property (on campus, non-campus, and public property). The Timely Warning requirement applies to Clery Act crimes and all require a case-by-case assessment as to whether the report presents a serious or continuing threat to the campus community. Timely Warnings are typically issued for the following Uniform Crime Reporting Program (UCR)/National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) crime classifications: murder/non-negligent manslaughter, major incidents of arson, robbery, and sex offenses. Cases of aggravated assault and sex offenses are considered on a case-by-case basis, depending on the facts of the case and the information known by the Office of Public Safety. For example, if an assault occurs between two students who have a disagreement, there may be no on-going threat to other College community members and a Timely Warning Notice would not be distributed. In cases involving sexual assault, they may be reported days, weeks, months or even years after the incident occurred, thus there is no ability to distribute a "timely" warning notice to the community. Sex offenses will be considered on a case-by-case basis depending on when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported, and the amount of information known by the Office of Public Safety. Cases involving property crimes will be assessed on a case-by-case basis and alerts will typically be sent if there is a discernible pattern of crime.

The Public Safety Director or Assistant Public Safety Director reviews all reports to determine if there is an on-going threat to the community and if the distribution of a timely warning is warranted. Timely Warning Notices may also be posted for other crime classifications and locations, as deemed necessary. Public Safety works to collect this information by requesting all campus security authorities (CSA's) and local law enforcement agencies to report crimes in a timely fashion so a Timely warning can be issued if necessary.

The Public Safety Director or Assistant Public Safety Director will typically draft the Timely Warning. They will review and revise the text as needed then transmit the email containing the Warning to the College community as a blast email. Members of the Communications Office may assist with the Timely Warning if needed. Updates to the college community about any particular case resulting in a Timely Warning may also be distributed electronically via blast email or posted on the College website. Public Safety may also use additional methods to distribute the Timely Warning, including using the Campus Emergency Alert System, postings in residential halls, and sending messages to department phones.

It should be noted that an institution is not required to provide a timely warning with respect to crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor. Additionally, all Timely Warnings will be provided to students and employees in a manner that is timely, that withholds the names of victims as confidential, and that will aid in the prevention of similar occurrences.

Warnings will include the crime or incident, location, description of the perpetrators, time and date of occurrence, and any other information deemed necessary.

Anyone with information warranting a Timely Warning should report the incident to the Office of Public Safety by phone at 941-359-7500, or in person at the Public Safety Office in the Kimbrough Building.

EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION (IMMEDIATE)

The College's comprehensive campus emergency preparedness and response plan includes information about the management of emergency response and operations, emergency operations center (EOC), and communication responsibilities, including the use of electronic and cellular communication. College offices are responsible for developing contingency plans and continuity of operations plans for their staff and areas of responsibility. The College conducts announced and/or unannounced emergency response drills and exercises each year, such as tabletop exercises, functional exercises, and tests of the emergency notification systems on campus. These tests are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution.

Several members of the Office of Public Safety have received training in Incident Command Systems (ICS) and response to critical incidents on a college campus. When a serious incident occurs or emergency exists that causes an immediate threat to the health or safety of students and employees on campus, the first responders to the scene are usually the Office of Public Safety, Sarasota Police Department and/or the Sarasota County Fire Department, when their assistance is necessary. These agencies typically respond and work together to manage the incident. Depending on the nature of the incident, other College offices and local or federal agencies could also be involved in responding to the incident.

The institution has general evacuation guidelines, in the event that a segment of the campus needs to be evacuated. The plan would be affected by a myriad of factors, including the type of threat, the occupancy of the other buildings and areas of the campus at the time of the incident, etc. Therefore, specific information about a multi-building or area evacuation cannot be shared with the campus community in advance. Ringling expects members of the community to follow the instructions of first responders on the scene, as this type of evacuation would be coordinated on-site.

In some emergencies, you may be instructed to "shelter-in-place". If an incident occurs and the buildings or areas around you become unstable, or if the air outdoors becomes dangerous due to toxic or irritating substances, it is usually safer to stay indoors. To "shelter-in-place" means to make a shelter of the building that you are in until it is safe to go outside. This means that if an incident occurs and the building you are in is not damaged; stay inside in an interior room until you are told it is safe to come out. If your building is damaged, take your personal belongings (purse, wallet, access cards, etc.) and follow the evacuation procedures for your building (close your door, proceed to the nearest exit, and use the stairs instead of the elevators). Once you have evacuated, seek shelter at the nearest College building quickly. If police or fire department personnel are on the scene, follow their directions.

College community members are encouraged to notify the Office of Public Safety of any situation or incident on campus that involves a significant emergency or dangerous situation that may involve an immediate threat to the health and safety of students and/or employees on campus. The Office of Public Safety has the responsibility of responding to, and summoning the necessary resources, to mitigate, investigate, and document any situation that may cause a significant emergency or dangerous situation. In addition, Public Safety has a responsibility to respond to such incidents to determine if the situation does in fact, pose a threat to the community, however other offices such as Facilities, student health, etc., may be involved in the confirmation process, depending on the nature of the potential threat. If an immediate threat exists, an institution must follow its emergency notification procedures but is not required to issue a timely warning based on the same circumstances; however, the institution is required to provide adequate follow-up information to the community as needed. If Public Safety, in conjunction with other campus officials (Facilities, Student Health Center, Student Life, etc.) or local first responders (Sarasota Police Department, Sarasota County Fire Department, etc.) confirm there is an emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat to the health or safety of some or all members of our community, Public Safety and/or designees, will collaborate, if needed, to determine the content of the message and they will initiate some or all of the systems listed below to communicate the threat to the College community or to the appropriate segment of the community, if the threat is limited to a particular building or segment of the population:

- Text messaging
- Phone messaging
- Telephone tree communications
- Campus wide email messages
- Facebook
- Twitter
- Paper fliers and bulletin board posting
- Person-to-person communication, using personnel from Student Life and Public Safety
- Website postings
- Two-way radio systems

Shelter in Place

Depending on the circumstances, when the College issues a campus alert calling for a shelter in place, you should:

- Move into or stay inside the nearest building.
- Go into an interior room or office with few windows, if possible.
- Turn off all lights.
- If possible, close and cover all windows and lock doors and turn off ventilation systems (including air conditioning and heat, bathroom and kitchen exhaust fans).
- If the door has a window, cover it.
- Then, stay away from windows and doors.
- Put cell phones and other electronic devices in silent mode.
- Remain in place until notified by proper College administration officials, Public Safety Officer, or any responding police or fire department personnel.

Evacuation

There may be situations when there is a dangerous condition inside a specific building and you need to evacuate quickly to ensure your safety. If notified to evacuate, please do so in an orderly fashion, move to a safe area away from the evacuated building, and alert others in your area if possible. In situations when you are ordered to leave an area, be sure to take necessary items such as medications, keys, glasses and wallets. You may not be able to return to your residence hall, office or classroom for some time. It is best to be prepared, just in case. Call 941-309-4121 to arrange for the escort or request additional information. In the event of an emergency, call 941-359-7500.

SAFETY TIPS

Your personal safety and the security of your property while on campus are shared responsibilities. Ringling College has made safety and security a priority through our commitment to a full-time, professional security department, security escorts, lighting, CCTV, emergency telephones, and ongoing educational safety awareness programs. The vast majority of crimes occurring on college campuses are crimes of opportunity that can be prevented. You can help by taking away the opportunity. We have prepared these safety tips to help reduce the opportunity for you to become a victim of crime.

Always remember...

- Prepare yourself physically and mentally for any emergency.
- If you have been personally threatened or if you have heard anyone at school mention the idea of committing acts of violence, take it seriously. Inform Public safety or other campus officials.
- Avoid working or studying alone in a campus building.
- Never leave your laptop computer, textbook, cellular telephone, book bag, purse, or other valuables unattended or out of your sight in dining areas, the library, common study areas, or outdoor spaces.
- Avoid isolated corridors, hallways, stairwells and restrooms.
- Keep emergency numbers in your cell phone, whether you live on-campus or off. If on campus, call 941-359-7500.

Residential Security

You can take several important steps to help protect yourself and your personal property:

- Lock your door when you are not in your room or suite.
- Lock your door while you are also in your room.
- Lock windows.
- Never prop open exterior doors. If you see a door propped, close it.
- Don't allow people you do not know to "Tailgate" behind you into the building! Every person who is authorized to be in your building should have either card access or a key. Politely tell them that you cannot allow them in and they should go to the Office of Residential Life to gain access. If someone follows you in anyway, call Public Safety immediately when you get to a safe place.

- If you see a suspicious person or someone you don't believe should be in or around the building, call Public Safety immediately.
- Never loan your access card or keys to anyone.
- Record the serial numbers of valuable personal property

Safety While Walking or Jogging

- Use the Public Safety Security Escorts after dark by calling 941-309-4121.
- Avoid walking or jogging alone, especially after dark.
- Always walk or jog in a familiar area.
- Tell someone where you are going and when you can be expected to return.
- Always choose a well-lit path, and avoid dark or vacant areas.
- Take note of the locations of Emergency Telephones along your route.
- Carry a cellular telephone and use it if you feel uncomfortable. If you exercise outdoors on a regular basis, vary your route and schedule.
- Have your access card or keys ready when returning to your residence hall or residence.
- Try not to overload with packages or other items. Keep your hands as free as possible.
- Do not wear music headphones while walking or jogging.
- If you carry a purse, carry it close to your body, preferably in front.
- If a thief confronts you, give the thief what they want. Don't try to pursue the thief. Try to get a detailed description and call Public Safety or 9-1-1 immediately.

Bicycle Security

Most bicycles are stolen because they are not locked correctly or not locked at all. Proper use of a strong, reliable lock will make a difference!

- Always lock your bike to a fixed, immovable object like one of the bicycle racks on campus. Park it in a visible and well-lit area.
- If a "U" Lock is used, position the bicycle frame and wheels so that as much open space as possible within the U portion of the lock is filled or taken up.
- Register your bicycle with the Office of Public Safety.
- Don't lock your bike to trees, handrails, lampposts, posts, or fences.
- Don't lock your bike to itself. If a thief wants your bike, it can easily be lifted up and carried away.
- Register your bicycle with the Office of Public Safety.

Additional Security Measures for Off-Campus Residents

- Be alert to your surroundings. If you suspect you are being followed, run in a different direction; go to the other side of the street, and yell for help; or head quickly to a lighted area, a group of people, or an Emergency Telephone.
- Lock your windows. If applicable, secure sliding glass doors.
- Become acquainted with neighbors. Know who belongs in your building.
- Don't put names on your answering machine or voicemail recorded greeting.
- When you are away from your residence, leave your interior lights on. Use a timer if you will be gone for more than one day.
- Don't hide a spare key outside your door.
- If you see a suspicious person, notify the police immediately by calling 9-1-1.
- If you arrive home to find your door ajar, hear unusual sounds, or believe your residence has been broken into, DON'T GO IN! Get to a safe place and call the police.

Important tips to consider before, during and after driving:

- Carry your keys when approaching your vehicle so that you can enter your car quickly. If you see someone loitering near your car, don't stop; walk to an area where there are other people.
- Try not to walk close to other parked vehicles and stay in the center of the access way. Travel and park on well-lighted streets.
- Keep your doors locked and windows closed.
- When stopping in traffic, leave enough distance between your vehicle and the one in front of you that you can pull away quickly if necessary.
- Be extra cautious if someone approaches your car.
- When returning home at night, call ahead and ask someone to watch for you while you walk from your car to your residence.
- Do not leave expensive property such as cellular phones, computers, cameras, purses and backpacks in plain view in your vehicle. Lock them in your trunk or take them into your residence.
- Lock your vehicle and secure the keys. Never hide a second set of keys in the vehicle.
- Never leave your motor vehicle unattended while running.
- If you are involved in an accident, call the police immediately.

Ride Sharing Services Safety Tips

Ride sharing services have become more popular and frequently provide a good alternative transportation method. As more and more members of our community use these services, we would like to offer the following safety tips for using these services:

Request Your Ride Inside

- Avoid spending unnecessary time outside alone. Wait indoors until your ride has arrived.

- Ensure the following descriptions match the ride share app:
 - License plate
 - Make of vehicle
 - Model
 - Color
 - Driver photo and name

Ask the driver: What's My Name?

- If the driver cannot answer that question or the vehicle information does not match, do not get into the vehicle

Be a Backseat Rider

- If you are riding alone, sit in the back seat. This gives you the opportunity to safely exit the vehicle on either side if necessary.

Remember: Ringling College Public Safety offers on campus security escorts after dark. Call 941-309-4121 to request a security escort.

BIKE REGISTRATION

All bicycles owned by students, faculty, and staff and used on campus must be registered with the Office of Public Safety. Registration forms can be completed at the Public Safety Office in Kimbrough Hall at any time. The registration decal is valid for four (4) years. There is no charge for bicycle registration or the permit sticker. The reflective registration decal must be affixed to the vertical part of the frame facing forward.

Parking and Storage

- All bicycles on campus must be parked or stored in a bicycle rack or in an area otherwise authorized.
- Bicycles may not be secured to fire hydrants, trees, parking signs, fences, posts, benches, stairwells and railings, ramps (handicap and/or other), or in the egress path of any building. Bicycles may be stored in student rooms or in office spaces as long as they are in a safe place not blocking egress, doorways, hallways, walkways, or exits. Bicycles may not be stored in common areas such as hallways, lobbies, stairwells, restrooms, etc.
- Summer storage for student bicycles is not available. Bicycles may not be left on racks over the summer break. Bicycles left on racks over the summer break will be removed and, if not claimed by the owner within 30 days, become the property of Ringling College of Art and Design to be used, donated, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of at the discretion of the College.
- Bicycle racks will be available for students who are assigned housing over the summer or have summer jobs on campus and for faculty and staff working the summer months.

Violation of Policy

Any bicycle in violation of the College's bicycle policy (unregistered, showing an expired registration decal, or improperly parked or stored) will be removed. If removal requires the cutting of a chain, cable, or lock, the College will not be responsible for replacing that chain, cable, or lock. To be reclaimed, a storage fee of $1 per day will be charged (maximum fee not to exceed $20). Any bicycle not claimed within 30 days from the date of removal will become the property of Ringling College of Art and Design and may be used, donated, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of at the discretion of the College.

Questions relating to safety, health or environmental issues should be sent to ehs@ringling.edu.

ANNUAL SECURITY AND FIRE SAFETY REPORT

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure Act, the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, and the Violence Against Women's Act of 2013, require U.S. colleges and universities to provide information to their campus communities about how to obtain a copy of their latest annual security and fire safety reports.

In accordance with these federal requirements, the 2020 Ringling College of Art and Design Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is now available to download online at: <https://www.ringling.edu/wp-content/uploads/2020/08/Clery-Act-2020-Draft-Annual-Report-as-of-Sept-25-TAW-edits-1.pdf>.

A paper copy may be obtained by visiting the Office of Public Safety on the first level of the Kimbrough Building at 1179 Dr. Martin Luther King Parkway, during normal business hours. Ringling College's latest report includes statistics for the previous three calendar years (2019, 2018 and 2017) concerning reported crimes that occurred in the following locations:

- On campus
- In certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Ringling College
- Public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus

The report also includes fire safety policies and statistics, emergency notification procedures, and protocols for missing persons.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT AND TITLE IX POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Ringling College of Art and Design (“Ringling” or “the College”) is committed to creating and maintaining a community in which students, faculty, and staff can work together in an atmosphere free from all forms of discrimination. Specifically, every member of the College community should be aware that Ringling College is opposed to discrimination on the basis of sex, gender, gender expression, gender identity, and sexual orientation, and that such behavior is prohibited by College policy. Such discrimination includes harassment on the basis of these traits, as well as sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking.

Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 (Title IX) is a Federal law which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in education, programs or activities. It provides that no person shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity provided through the College. This is not only the policy of the College, it is also the mandate under applicable federal and state laws and applies with regard to the College's employment, admissions, academic programs, scholarship and loan programs, and other College administered programs.

While it is often thought of as a law that applies to athletics programs, Title IX is much broader than athletics and applies to all programs at Ringling College. While compliance with the law is everyone's responsibility at Ringling College, the College has a designated Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator to oversee its response to all reports of Prohibited Conduct as defined by this Policy, and coordinate compliance with the mandates of Title IX. The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator are knowledgeable and trained in the College's policies and procedures, State and Federal laws that apply to sexual misconduct and harassment, and the dynamics of sexual misconduct and harassment.

Any individual may report Prohibited Conduct under this Policy, regardless of whether the person reporting is the person that is reported to have experienced the Prohibited Conduct. The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator are available to meet with any individual to discuss the options for resolving a report under this policy. The College will respond promptly in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent when the College has actual knowledge of Prohibited Conduct in an educational program or activity of the College. Where a report is made regarding Prohibited Conduct, the Title IX Coordinator will promptly respond to such reports by offering supportive measures, follow the fair and equitable grievance process outlined in this Policy to resolve allegations of Prohibited Conduct where a Formal Complaint is filed, ensure that appropriate discipline is issued when Prohibited Conduct is determined to have occurred, and take remedial action to restore or preserve equal access to the College's education and activities.

The College's programs and activities are conducted in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended, and with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and its implementing regulations as amended. Sexual harassment is also prohibited under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and other applicable statutes.

This Policy implements the mandates of the Non - Discrimination Policy with regard to sex discrimination, sexual harassment, and other sex - related prohibited conduct as defined below.

SCOPE OF POLICY

The Policy applies to students, faculty, staff, visitors, vendors, independent contractors, volunteers, and others who either conduct business with the College or conduct business on College owned or controlled property.

The Policy applies to Prohibited Conduct that:

- Occurs on campus;
- Occurs in connection to any College educational program or activity, including employment and admissions, regardless of where the conduct occurred; or
- Has continuing adverse effects on campus or on any member of the College community.

The purpose of this Policy is to:

- Define the forms of Prohibited Conduct that violate this Policy;
- Identify resources and support for members of the Ringling College community who may have experienced or been accused of Prohibited Conduct;
- Identify the Title IX Coordinators and their responsibilities related to the Policy;
- Provide information as to how an individual may make a report or Formal Complaint; and

- Provide information on how a Formal Complaint will be resolved, which may include informal resolution or a formal investigation and adjudication.

NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATION AND DESIGNATION OF TITLE IX COORDINATOR

Ringling College of Art and Design does not discriminate on the basis of sex, age, gender, color, race, national or ethnic origin, religion, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, genetic information, or any other basis prohibited by law, in its programs or activities. The College is an equal opportunity educational institution.

Title IX prohibits the College from discrimination on the basis of sex in the education programs or activities that it operates. This prohibition extends to admission and employment. This Policy provides for the prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging any action prohibited by Title IX, and explains the process that the College will use for doing so.

The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator have been designated and authorized to implement the Title IX program at Ringling College. The Title IX Coordinator has been designated and authorized to coordinate the College's efforts to address concerns relating to discrimination and harassment on the basis of sex. Any person may report sex discrimination, including sexual harassment (whether or not the person reporting is the person who experienced the conduct that could constitute sex discrimination or sexual harassment), at any time including non-business hours by contacting the Title IX Coordinator as follows:

The Coordinator oversees the administration of grievance procedures for faculty and staff, and coordinates training, education and communication of all College non-discrimination and non-harassment policies. The Deputy Title IX Coordinator oversees the administration of the grievance procedures for students and coordinates training, education and communication to students. Additional policies that work in conjunction with this Policy include the Non-Harassment Policy, Student Code of Conduct, and Non-Discrimination Policy.

The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator are knowledgeable and trained in the College's policies and procedures, state and federal laws, that apply to Sexual Misconduct and Harassment, and the dynamics of Sexual Misconduct and Harassment. The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator are available to meet with any individual to discuss the options for resolving a report under this policy.

In addition to addressing complaints against a particular party, the Title IX Coordinator also facilitates the handling of reports raised that the College's policies or practices may discriminate on the basis of sex. The Title IX Coordinator conducts an assessment of such concerns and, using procedures the Title IX Coordinator determines to be appropriate given the circumstances, works with the College to ensure that its policies and practices are compliant.

Any duties or discretion assigned to the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinator by this Policy may be assigned to a designee.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Acts of Violence: Acts of violence may include, but are not limited to:

- Recklessly causing bodily injury;
- Attempts to cause bodily injury; and
- Causing fear of immediate, physical harm through threat of force.

Actual Knowledge: The College has actual knowledge of allegations of Sexual Harassment – Title IX when notice of such allegations is provided to a Title IX Coordinator or any of the following College officials who have the authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the College: President, Vice President for Human Organizational Development, Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students, and the Vice President for Finance and Administration. The actual knowledge standard is not met when the only official of the College with actual knowledge is the respondent.

Bias: Bias means the tendency of an individual to share the perspective of one party over another party in a way that is unfair and not dependent on evidence. The following will not be considered evidence of bias, as indicated in the U.S. Department of Education's commentary to the Title IX regulations:

- The Title IX Coordinator's initiation of a formal complaint;
- An individual's decision that allegations warrant an investigation;
- An individual's current job title, professional qualifications, past experience, identity, or sex/gender;
- Use of trauma-informed practices when such practices do not rely on sex stereotypes,
- apply generalizations to allegations in specific cases, cause loss of impartiality, and result in prejudgment of the facts at issue.

The College will apply an objective (whether a reasonable person would believe bias exists), common sense approach to evaluating whether a particular person serving in a Title IX role is biased, and will exercise caution not to apply generalizations that might unreasonably conclude that bias exists.

Complainant: A Complainant is defined as an individual who is reported to have experienced Prohibited Conduct.

Consent: Affirmative consent is a clear, unambiguous, knowing, informed, and voluntary agreement between all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent is active, not passive. Silence or lack of resistance cannot be interpreted as consent. Seeking and receiving consent is the responsibility of the person(s) initiating each specific sexual act, regardless of whether the person initiating the act is under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol. Consent to any sexual act or prior consensual activity between parties does not constitute consent to any other sexual act. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. Consent may be initially given but may be withdrawn at any time by outwardly demonstrating such withdrawal by words or actions that clearly indicate a desire to end sexual activity. When consent is withdrawn or cannot be given, sexual activity must stop. Consent cannot be given when a person is incapacitated. Consent cannot be given when it is the result of force. Consent cannot be given by someone under the legal age to consent.

Education Program or Activity. Includes all of the College's operations, including locations, events, or circumstances over which the College exercises substantial control over both the Respondent and the context in which the conduct occurs; and any building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by the College.

Force. Force is the use of physical violence or physical imposition to engage in sexual activity with another person. Force also includes the use of threat, intimidation, or coercion to overcome a person's free will or resistance to freely giving consent. Threat, intimidation and coercion include:

1. Actual or implied declarations to inflict physical or psychological harm, to cause damages or to commit other hostile actions to obtain sexual activity from an unwilling participant, and
2. Applying unreasonable pressure to obtain sexual activity from an unwilling participant. Unreasonable pressure shall be assessed by factors such as the frequency, intensity, degree of isolation and/or duration of the pressure and must include a real or perceived attack on safety, character, values or morals.

Formal Complaint. A document filed in writing by a Complainant, or signed by the Title IX Coordinator, that alleges Prohibited Conduct against a Respondent and requests that the College officially investigate and resolve the allegation.

Human Rights Committee. A fact - finding committee whose purpose is to respond to and resolve harassment complaints that are not eligible for a hearing under this Policy, nor do they involve a student respondent (in which case they are handled through the Student Conduct process). The Committee is a standing committee appointed by the President and comprised of three faculty members, two staff members, and two students. The student members of the Committee will participate only in those cases where other students are involved as the complainant. The Title IX Coordinator shall assist the Committee in coordinating its responsibilities under this Policy, but shall not participate in deliberations except as needed to answer questions about the Policy or the investigation process if a member of the Human Rights Committee is unable to carry out their responsibilities in an impartial, unbiased manner, the Title IX Coordinator will designate an alternate official to serve on the Committee.

Incapacitation. Incapacitation occurs when an individual lacks the ability to knowingly consent to sexual activity. Incapacitation includes impairment due to drugs or alcohol (whether such use is voluntary or involuntary), lack of consciousness, intermittent consciousness, being asleep, being involuntarily restrained, physical helplessness, or from temporary or permanent mental impairment. A person is incapacitated when the person's perception or judgment is so impaired that the person lacks the cognitive ability to make, understand or act on considered decisions.

Incapacitation is not the same as an alcohol - induced "blackout." An alcohol - induced blackout is defined as a lack of memory for events occurring after consuming alcohol without a loss of consciousness. A blackout is memory loss during a period of impairment without the loss of other skills.

Factors that a person may use to determine incapacitation include, but are not limited to:

- Slurred speech
- Lack of motor skills or balance
- Inability to focus
- Confusion
- Vomiting
- Emotional volatility or reactivity
- Unusual behavior
- Bloodshot eyes
- Smell of alcohol on breath

A person who is incapacitated is unable to give Consent to participate in sexual activity. To engage in sexual activity with a person whom one knows or should know is incapacitated constitutes Prohibited Conduct and violates this Policy. Under this Policy, determinations as to whether a person should have known that another person was incapacitated shall be objectively based on what a reasonable sober person would have known about the condition of the incapacitated person in the same situation. Whether a person knew or should have known of another's incapacitation requires assessment of how alcohol is affecting the other person's:

- Ability to make decisions and exercise judgment;
- Awareness of surroundings and consequences of actions;
- Ability to appreciate the nature of any sexual acts and circumstances surrounding the acts

A party's own intoxication or impairment by alcohol or other drugs does not excuse Prohibited Conduct or remove a responsibility to obtain consent for all sexual acts.

Preponderance of the Evidence. A determination based on facts that are more likely true than not true. Using this standard, where the evidence in a case is in equipoise, the preponderance of the evidence standard results in a finding that the respondent is not responsible. The College applies this standard of evidence for Formal Complaints against all respondents regardless of status, and applies the same standard of evidence to all formal complaints of Prohibited Conduct under this Policy.

Respondent: A Respondent is defined as an individual who is reported to have committed Prohibited Conduct.

Supportive Measures: Non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized services offered to complainants and respondents as appropriate, reasonably available, and without fee or charge. This term also includes protective measures as referred to in the Clery Act.

PROHIBITED CONDUCT

This policy addresses a broad spectrum of behavior, all of which fall under the broad definition of Prohibited Conduct. The term Prohibited Conduct includes: sexual harassment – Title IX; sexual harassment – Non-Title IX; sex discrimination; harassment on the basis of sex, gender, or sexual orientation; sexual exploitation; retaliation; and false complaints and statements. Prohibited Conduct also includes means actual, attempted or alleged criminal sexual abuse as defined by the State of Florida.

Instructional material that is reported to form the basis for Prohibited Conduct shall not be deemed Prohibited Conduct unless the material is irrelevant to the subject of the course or the cumulative presentation of specific material is unbalanced to the degree that it rises to the level of Prohibited Conduct under this Policy.

Sexual Harassment - Title IX means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies the definition of one or more of the following: quid pro quo by an employee to a student; unwelcome conduct; sexual assault; dating violence; domestic violence; or stalking.

1. Quid Pro Quo Sexual Harassment

Quid pro quo sexual harassment occurs when a College employee conditions the provision of aid, benefit, or service of the College on participation in unwelcome sexual conduct.

2. Unwelcome Conduct

Conduct on the basis of sex that is unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the College's educational program or activity.

3. Sexual Assault

Sexual assault is a forcible or non-forcible sex offense as classified under the Uniform Crime Reporting system of the FBI, to include:

- a. Penetrative Sexual Assault – penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity. Attempts to commit penetrative sexual assault are also included within this definition.
- b. Fondling – Kissing, touching of the private body parts of another person, causing another to touch one's private body parts, or disrobing of another for the purpose of sexual gratification without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity.
- c. Incest – Sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
- d. Statutory Rape – Sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

4. Dating Violence

Dating Violence means an act of violence committed by a person who is or has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the complainant. The existence of such a romantic or intimate relationship is determined by the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interactions between the individuals involved in the relationship.

5. Domestic Violence

The term Domestic Violence includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed on the basis of sex by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction receiving grant monies, or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction.

6. Stalking

Stalking is engaging in a course of conduct on the basis of sex directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person with similar characteristics under similar circumstances to:

- Fear for the person's safety or the safety of others; or
- Suffer substantial emotional distress.

A course of conduct includes two or more acts, including but not limited to, those in which the alleged perpetrator directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means, follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about the complainant, or interferes with the complainant's property. The course of conduct must be committed on the basis of the victim's sex.

Sexual Harassment – Non-Title IX

Sexual Harassment – Non-Title IX is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is an explicit or implicit condition of an individual's employment, evaluation of academic work, or participation in any aspect of a College education program or activity; or
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for decisions affecting the individual; or
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance, i.e. it is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent as to create an intimidating, hostile, humiliating, or sexually offensive working, academic, residential, or social environment under both a subjective and an objective standard.

Sexual Harassment – Non-Title IX does not refer to occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature or to welcome conduct.

Stalking – Non-Title IX

Stalking – Non-Title IX is defined as stalking that meets the definition above under "Sexual Harassment – Title IX," but that does not occur on the basis of sex.

Domestic Violence – Non-Title IX

Domestic Violence – Non - Title IX is defined as domestic violence that meets the definition above under "Sexual Harassment – Title IX" but that does not occur on the basis of sex.

Sex Discrimination

Discrimination that occurs when conduct or a policy has the purpose or effect of restricting or denying access to opportunities, programs, or resources in relation to sex in a manner that interferes with an individual's ability to participate in any academic, extracurricular, research, occupational training, or other College education program or activity. Sex discrimination is prohibited in connection with housing, classes, counseling, financial assistance, employment, health and insurance benefits and services, and with regard to marital or parental status.

Sex discrimination does not include behavior that differentiates between sex/gender and is explicitly permitted by federal regulations, including single - gender housing and hiring when sex/gender is a bona fide occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of the College.

Harassment on the Basis of Sex, Gender, or Sexual Orientation

Harassment on the basis of sex, gender, or sexual orientation is defined as unwelcome verbal or physical conduct on the basis of one's sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation when:

1. Submission to or rejection of such conduct is an explicit or implicit condition of an individual's employment, evaluation of academic work, or participation in any aspect of a College education program or activity; or
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for decisions affecting the individual; or
3. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance, i.e. it is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent as to create an intimidating, hostile, humiliating, or sexually offensive working, academic, residential, or social environment under both a subjective and an objective standard.

Sexual Exploitation

Sexual Exploitation is when an individual takes non - consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another, for their own benefit; or to benefit anyone other than the one being exploited; and that behavior does not otherwise constitute one of the other prohibited conduct offenses. Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to:

- Prostituting another person (i.e. personally gaining money, privilege, or power from the sexual activities of another person)
- Non - consensual video, photography, audiotaping, or any other form of recording, of sexual activity;
- Non - consensual sharing or streaming of images, photography, video, or audio recording of sexual activity or nudity, or distribution of such without the knowledge and consent of all parties involved;
- Allowing others to observe a personal act of consensual sex without knowledge or consent of the partner;
- Engaging in voyeurism (being a "peeping tom");
- Knowingly or recklessly transmitting an STD or HIV to another person.

Retaliation

Retaliation consists of words or actions taken in response to reporting of a policy violation or participation in the College's complaint process or the follow up to a complaint. Neither the College nor any other person may intimidate, threaten, coerce, or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by this policy, or because the individual has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, or participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing under the regulations.

Intimidation, threats, coercion, or discrimination, including charges against an individual for code of conduct violations that do not involve Prohibited Conduct, but arise out of the same facts or circumstances as a report or complaint of Prohibited Conduct for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by Title IX or the regulations, constitutes retaliation. Complaints alleging retaliation may be filed according to the grievance procedures under this Policy.

Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false complaint or statement in bad faith in the course of a grievance proceeding under the regulations does not constitute retaliation, as described above, provided, however, that a determination regarding responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party made a materially false complaint or statement in bad faith.

False Complaints and Statements

An individual found to have made a false complaint or to have knowingly and willingly given false statements during an investigation will be subject to disciplinary action. Submitting a good faith complaint, concern or report of harassment will not affect the complainant's employment, grades, academic standing, or work assignments.

A SPECIAL NOTE TO FACULTY, TEACHING ASSISTANTS, STAFF, AND OTHER PERSONS IN POSITIONS OF POWER

Either type of sexual harassment may occur when a person who is in a position of trust or authority engages in behaviors or creates conditions that are inappropriate, unwanted, and/or non-reciprocal. This is especially true in instances of sexual harassment when an unwelcome personal element is introduced into what should be a sex neutral situation. Because of the difference in power between faculty and students, and between supervisors and employees, a faculty member or supervisor cannot be certain that a personal relationship is truly welcome or consensual. Moreover, other individuals may be affected by such relationships. Those who abuse, or appear to abuse, their power violate their responsibility to the community. The College expects the faculty and staff to be aware of the potential for problems and conflicts of interest.

REPORTING PROHIBITED CONDUCT AND ACCESSING SUPPORTIVE MEASURES

Any individual who believes they have experienced Prohibited Conduct has several options for addressing Prohibited Conduct, including reporting to the Title IX Coordinator, reporting to law enforcement, seeking confidential resources, or any combination of these. These options, as well as information regarding the privacy of such reports and amnesty offered for violations of other policies, are outlined here. This section also details the supportive measures that are available to individuals who report Prohibited Conduct to the Title IX Coordinator, as well as the options for emergency removal and administrative leave.

A. Reporting to the Title IX Coordinator

The College encourages all individuals to report information about any type of Prohibited Conduct to the Title IX Coordinator. Reports may be made online using the Ringling Reporting Form. Reports may also be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator by email, mail, telephone, or in person using the contact information listed above, or by any other means that results in the Title IX Coordinator receiving a verbal or written report. Such a report may be made at any time, including during non-business hours. Individuals may choose to make an anonymous report, however if an individual wish to remain anonymous, it may limit the College's ability to respond.

Faculty and staff (except for College Counseling staff and the Campus Chaplain since they are confidential resources) are required to report information to a Title IX Coordinator about any type of Prohibited Conduct. Such mandatory reports cannot be anonymous and must include the name of the employee filing the report, as well as all known information relating to the report. Additionally, as required by Florida law, upon notification of known or suspected sexual abuse, abandonment or neglect of a child under age 18, employees, students and volunteers must report as described in the Ringling College of Art and Design Child Protection Policy. This policy can be found in the student and employee handbooks.

Reports may also be made 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by calling Public Safety (941-359- 7500). A complainant or third party can request a campus safety officer to respond and take a report.

The College's goal is that all students report all incidents of Prohibited Conduct so that those affected can receive the support and resources needed. To encourage reporting, the College offers amnesty. This means that personal drug and alcohol use be exempt from disciplinary action in situations where Prohibited Conduct also occurs. However, the College may require educational programs about the use of alcohol or drugs and their impact.

Complainants may choose to put respondents “on notice” that their behavior was unwelcome, but doing so is not a prerequisite to initiating a report or Formal Complaint. Upon receipt of a report, the Title IX Coordinator will provide the complainant with a copy of or link to this Policy, offer an opportunity to discuss supportive measures, and provide information to the complainant of their rights as follows:

- 1) The right to contact or decline to contact law enforcement to pursue criminal charges, which may be done concurrently with, before, or after filing a Formal Complaint under this Policy. More information on law enforcement is below.
- 2) The right to access supportive measures under this Policy, regardless of whether the complainant chooses to file a Formal Complaint or report to law enforcement.
- 3) The right to file a civil action against the respondent, such as to request a protective order.
- 4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and other relevant legal authorities as may be applicable under the circumstances.
- 5) With regard to reports alleging sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking:
 - a) The right to receive information about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for those who have experienced these types of Prohibited Conduct, including resources within the College and in the community;
 - b) The right to receive information about options for, available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation, working situations, and other supportive measures;
 - c) The right to receive information about the procedures used to address reports and Formal Complaints as explained by this Policy, including disciplinary procedures.

The Colleges’ response to reports may be limited if the respondent is no longer on campus or is unknown. Nevertheless, resources and assistance may still be available and the complainant is encouraged to report the Prohibited Conduct to explore those options.

B. Reporting to Law Enforcement

When Prohibited Conduct may also constitute criminal conduct, individuals may file a report with the Sarasota Police Department or other law enforcement agency with jurisdiction, depending on the location of the incident.

If a complainant wishes to file a report with the Sarasota Police Department, a Ringling College staff member is available to assist. The College will not file a police report about the incident on the complainant’s behalf unless compelling circumstances, as outlined in the statement of privacy and confidentiality section, exist. The College’s response to a report is not impacted by the complainant’s decision to file a criminal complaint or the outcome of the criminal investigation.

Notifying the Sarasota Police Department will generally result in the complainant and, in some cases the respondent, being contacted by a police officer. The police department determines if a criminal investigation will occur and if the case will be referred for prosecution.

Under Florida state law, sexual misconduct may constitute a criminal act. However, the College conducts investigations and hearings and renders sanctions in an educational, non-criminal context. An act not criminally prosecuted may still violate College policy. Because the goals and objectives of the Policy differ from those of the civil and criminal justice systems, proceedings under the Policy are independent of civil and criminal processes and may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off-campus. On-campus adjudication does not preclude, limit or require a student’s or employee’s access to the state and federal justice system. A case not referred for criminal prosecution will still receive a College response.

To the extent permitted or required by law, the College will cooperate with law enforcement investigations. However, outside law enforcement agencies do not respond to Title IX violations, and respond only to allegations of criminal behavior. As a result, the College encourages reporting Prohibited Conduct to both the College and to local law enforcement, if the alleged sexual misconduct may also be a crime.

For those reporting to law enforcement, the Sarasota County Sheriff’s Office Victim Assistant Unit may be a helpful resource. The Unit may be contacted at (941) 861-4942 or victimassistance@scgov.net. The Sarasota County Sheriff’s Office Victim Assistance Unit provides services to any victim of any crime, including secondary victims and witnesses to crime. In addition, they provide short-term crisis support for persons experiencing traumatic situations that are not crime related (such as suicides). Services include crisis intervention, accompaniment through medical, legal, and judicial appointments related to the victimization, assistance with filing Injunctions for Protection (restraining orders), assistance in applying for Crime Victim Compensation where applicable, practical assistance, exploration of options, and community information and referral.

C. Privacy and Confidentiality

Under this Policy, the concepts of privacy and confidentiality are distinct concepts.

Privacy means that the information will be shared only with other individuals who have a “need to know” such information to implement this Policy, including to provide supportive measures. The College shall protect the privacy of individuals involved in a report of Prohibit Conduct to the extent allows by law and College Policy. The College is committed to protecting the privacy of all individuals involved in a report of Prohibited Conduct, and will balance individual privacy with its obligation to conduct a thorough review of allegations to protect the parties and the broader community and maintain an environment free from Prohibited Conduct.

The College will respect, to the greatest extent possible, the privacy of individuals who choose to report to non-confidential employees of the College, including the Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Title IX Coordinator. Except for the confidential resources identified in this policy, all other College staff and faculty who receive a report of Prohibited Conduct are required to report information regarding Prohibited Conduct to the Title IX Coordinator or the Deputy Title IX Coordinator for response. Under Florida law, the College is also mandated to report any abuse of a minor (under the age of 18) to the Florida Abuse Hotline at 1-(800) 962-2873.

Confidentiality governs the information held by certain individuals who learn of such information in the context of a privileged relationship, such as a counselor - patient relationship or in the context of confidential communications with clergy. Information that is subject to confidentiality shall not be shared except in certain situations, such as where the information indicates imminent threat to the health and safety of others, or where the individual is obligated to report child abuse or neglect. Note that limitations of confidentiality may exist for individuals under the age of 18.

Faculty, staff and students wishing to obtain confidential assistance without making a report to the College may do so by speaking with a confidential resource listed below. When an individual seeks medical treatment for sexual assault, medical personnel are required to report to the police, but such individuals are not required to file formal charges unless desired.

Where the College has received a report of Prohibited Conduct but the complainant requests that he or she remain unidentified, and/or requests that the College not pursue an investigation, the College must balance this request with its responsibility to provide a safe and non - discriminatory environment for all members of the community. The College is required to take all reasonable steps to respond to a report, but its ability to do so may be limited by the complainant's request. However, under compelling circumstances - including evidence of a pattern of repetitive behavior, the use of force or threat of force, or the use of a weapon by the respondent - the College may pursue additional information regarding the report, file a Formal Complaint, or take other appropriate measures without the complainant's consent. If the College is unable to take action consistent with the wishes of the complainant, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the complainant about the chosen course of action.

If a report of misconduct poses an immediate threat to the community when timely notice must be given to protect the health or safety of the community, the College may not be able to maintain the same level of privacy. Immediate threatening circumstances include, but are not limited to, reported incidents of misconduct that include the use of force, a weapon, or other circumstances that represent a serious and ongoing threat to the community.

All actions to address reports of Prohibited Conduct (including Formal Complaints, if filed) are conducted in compliance with the requirements of FERPA, the Clery Act, Title IX, the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) and College policy. The College will take great care with confidentiality of the victim including publicly available record-keeping (i.e. Clery Reporting) that excludes personally-identifiable information on the victims to the extent permissible by law. No information shall be released from these proceedings except as required or permitted by law and College policy.

D. Confidential Resources

Individuals may seek confidential resources, in addition to or instead of making reports to the College and/or law enforcement. Such confidential resources may be helpful in assisting an individual in determining whether and how to make such reports. Examples of available confidential resources include:

Medical Attention: Individuals who experience sexual assault should consider seeking medical attention through a local hospital or health care provider to address injuries, test for sexually transmitted infections, discuss emergency contraception options, and to preserve evidence in case the individual should choose to file formal criminal charges through law enforcement. The individual should not wash, shower, urinate, defecate, change clothes or douche prior to such medical assistance, even though that may be the immediate reaction, so as to best preserve evidence.

Medical providers are required to report sexual assaults to police, and any information reported to any police official is public information and is available to the local media. It is, however, the general practice of journalists not to release names of victims of sex offenses. Sarasota Memorial Hospital provides Sexual Assault Nurse Examinations through its Emergency Department to provide specialized care and services to individuals who have experienced sexual assault.

E. Supportive Measures

Supportive measures are non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized services offered as appropriate, as reasonably available, and without fee or charge to the complainant or the respondent before or after the filing of a Formal Complaint or where no Formal Complaint has been filed. Such measures are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the College's education program or activity without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the College's educational environment, or to deter Prohibited Conduct.

Supportive measures may include counseling, extensions of deadline or other course-related adjustments, modifications of work or class schedules, campus escort services, mutual restrictions on contact between the parties, changes in work or housing locations, leaves of absence, increased security and monitoring of certain areas of the campus, and other similar measures.

After a report is received, the Title IX Coordinator will offer to confer with the complainant about supportive measures. All individuals are required to report instances of another individual's failure to abide by any restrictions imposed by supportive measures, such as the violation of a mutual no-contact order. The College will take appropriate action to enforce a previously implemented interim measure, which may include a warning to the party or discipline.

Either party may access counseling services through the Peterson Counseling Center as part of Health Services or Employee Assistance Program, or through a referral to off-campus agencies. Information regarding these and other confidential resources is listed above.

F. Emergency Removal and Administrative Leave

If, after receipt of a report or Formal Complaint and an individualized safety and risk assessment, the College determines that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual arising from the allegations of prohibited conduct justifies removal of a respondent, the College may remove the respondent on an emergency basis. Threats must pose more than a generalized, hypothetical, or speculative risk to health and safety for emergency removal to be appropriate. The College will take steps to continue providing the removed respondent as much access to their educational activities as possible when the individual facts and circumstances of the removal are considered.

When a respondent is removed from campus through emergency removal, the Title IX Coordinator shall provide the respondent with written notice of the individual who will hear any challenge of the removal. The respondent may file a written challenge with such individual in writing within two (2) business days of the removal, and the challenge must include supporting documentation or evidence that the respondent does not pose, or no longer poses, an immediate threat to physical health or safety of any student or other individual arising from the allegations of Prohibited Conduct. The individual hearing the challenge shall be trained, impartial, and unbiased, and shall render their decision to the respondent and Title IX Coordinator within two (2) business days of receipt of the challenge.

This section does not preclude the College from placing a non-student employee respondent on administrative leave during the pendency of a Formal Complaint. Administrative leave is not subject to the challenge procedures applicable to emergency removals.

GRIEVANCE PROCESS

A. Formal Complaint

A Formal Complaint is a document filed in writing by a Complainant, or signed by the Title IX Coordinator, that alleges Prohibited Conduct against a Respondent and requests that the College officially investigate and resolve the allegation. The Formal Complaint may be filed with the Title IX Coordinator in person, by mail, by electronic mail, by in-person delivery, or through the online reporting form and must contain the Complainant's physical or digital signature.

In addition to the Complainant, a Title IX Coordinator can file a Formal Complaint. In the instances when the Title IX Coordinator signs a Formal Complaint, the Title IX Coordinator is not a Complainant or a party during a Formal Resolution, and must comply with requirements for any person involved in the response and/or resolution to be free from conflicts and bias.

A Formal Complaint may be withdrawn if the Complainant informs the Title IX Coordinator in writing that they want to withdraw the complaint or the allegations. The Title IX Coordinator may choose to withdraw a Formal Complaint if a Respondent is no longer participating in or attempting to participate in the College's education or program activity, the Complainant submits a written request to withdraw the complaint, or specific circumstances prevent the College from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination. Such a dismissal does not preclude the College from taking action under another college policy. No matter the reason for the withdrawal of a complaint, the parties will be notified simultaneously in writing of the decision to dismiss, including the reasoning.

The College will not restrict the ability of any party to discuss the allegations under investigation or to gather and present relevant evidence, exception where such discussions constitute Prohibited Conduct (for example, because they constitute retaliation as defined by this Policy).

B. Title IX Coordinator's Initial Review of the Formal Complaint.

A Formal Complaint may be resolved through either an Informal Resolution or a Formal Resolution. Informal Resolution for Prohibited Conduct may only be offered after a Formal Complaint has been filed, so that the parties understand what the Formal Resolution entails and can decide whether to voluntarily attempt informal resolution as an alternative. The Informal Resolution process is outlined in Section IV.

The Title IX Coordinator may consolidate Formal Complaints as to allegations of Prohibited Conduct against more than one Respondent, or by more than one Complainant against one or more Respondents, or by one party against the other party, where the allegations of Prohibited Conduct arise out of the same facts or circumstances. The same facts and circumstances means that the multiple Complainants' allegations are so intertwined that their allegations directly relate to all parties. Where multiple complainants or respondents are involved in the same investigation, the parties will only be provided with the appropriate portion(s) of the investigative documents that relate to the complaint(s) in which they are a party.

C. Investigation

The parties will receive written notice that a formal investigation has been initiated. The notice of investigation will include:

- the identities of the parties involved;
- the specific section/s of the policy allegedly violated;
- the precise conduct alleged to constitute the potential violation/s;
- the approximate date, time, and location of the alleged incident;
- a statement indicating that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process;
- a statement that the determination of responsibility will be made at the conclusion of a Formal Resolution;
- a notice that parties have the right to an advisor of their choice, who may be an attorney;
- the result of an initial assessment to determine whether the allegations suggest a potential violation of Sexual Harassment – Title IX with an indication that this decision will be reviewed again when the investigators prepare their report;
- the name of the investigators and the ability to challenge their participation for conflict of interest or actual bias;

The notice of investigation will include (continued):

- the appropriate policy language prohibiting a party from knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information; and
- a notice that Retaliation is prohibited.

The notice shall be provided reasonably in advance of any interview with the investigators, with sufficient time for meaningful preparation. The Title IX Coordinator, in consultation with the investigators, may amend the charges as part of the investigative process. The Title IX Coordinator will, if appropriate, issue amended charges in writing to both parties.

Where a party is invited or expected to participate, the College will provide written notice of the date, time, location, participants, and purpose of all hearings, investigative interviews, or other meetings, with sufficient time for the party to prepare to participate.

A party's advisor is permitted to attend any meeting or proceeding relating to the Formal Complaint. The advisor's role is to provide support and assistance during the process but not to speak on behalf of their party, unless required as part of the Hearing Resolution Process. If an advisor refuses to comply with these restrictions, or is disruptive to the process, the College may require the party to use a different advisor.

1. Investigator roles and participants' responsibilities.

The Title IX Coordinator will designate a trained investigator to conduct an adequate, reliable, and impartial investigation. The investigator may be an employee or an external contractor. In complex situations, the Title IX Coordinator may engage additional trained investigators to assist in gathering the information for the primary investigator. If a party has concerns that an investigator has a conflict of interest or bias, the party should follow the process for addressing these concerns outlined in the notice of investigation. The burden of proof and the burden of gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination regarding responsibility rests on the College and not the parties.

The investigator will offer each party the opportunity to be interviewed. The parties will have an equal opportunity to present witnesses, including expert witnesses, and to submit evidence. The investigator will also gather any available physical evidence, including documents, communications between the parties, and other electronic records as relevant, appropriate, and available. The parties may submit questions to be asked of parties and witnesses. The investigator will review submitted questions and, in their discretion, may choose which questions are necessary and appropriate to the investigation and conduct any follow-up, as they deem relevant.

2. Use of treatment records with written permission of the parties.

A person's medical, counseling/psychological, and similar treatment records are privileged and confidential documents that a party will not be required to disclose. Where a party provides their written permission to share medical, counseling/psychological, and similar treatment records as part of the investigation, only the portion of the records directly related to the allegations raised in the formal complaint will be included in the case file for review by the other party and for use in the investigative process.

3. Use of Complainant's prior sexual history and prior conduct of the parties.

Evidence related to the prior sexual history of the complainant is generally not relevant to the determination of a policy violation and will only be considered in very limited circumstances, for example, to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the alleged conduct. Where the existence of consent is at issue, the sexual history between the parties may be relevant to help understand the manner and nature of communications between the parties and the context of the relationship. However, even in the context of a relationship, consent to one sexual act does not, by itself, constitute consent to another sexual act, and consent on one occasion does not, by itself, constitute consent on a subsequent occasion.

Information regarding other acts by a party will be permitted as relevant where the nature and means of those other acts may affect credibility of the assertions in the current case. It is not required that the party have been found responsible for policy violations related to those other acts for them to be included in the current case.

Any party seeking to introduce information about prior sexual history or other acts by a party should bring this information to the attention of the investigators at the earliest opportunity. While the investigators may explore relevant areas of inquiry, the Title IX Coordinator has the discretion to make the final determination whether evidence of prior sexual history or other misconduct is relevant and should be included in the report.

4. Anticipated timeframe for completing investigation and process for requesting extension of time.

The College will seek to complete the investigation in a reasonable timeframe from the notice of investigation, typically within sixty (60) business days. This time frame may be extended for good cause with written notice to the parties of the delay and the reason for the delay. Good cause may be based on delays occasioned by the complexity of the allegations, the number of witnesses involved, the availability of the parties or witnesses, the effect of a concurrent criminal investigation, any intervening school break or vacation, or other circumstances, all of which will likely extend the length of time it takes to complete the investigation. The Title IX Coordinator will provide regular updates to all parties regarding the progress of the investigation.

5. Parties' review of evidence collected during investigation

The evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in the formal complaint will be made available to the parties and their advisors for review and inspection, including the evidence upon which the College may not rely in reaching a determination regarding responsibility, as well as inculpatory or exculpatory evidence. The parties will have 10 calendar days to review the evidence. The parties will be offered the opportunity to review the evidence and provide a written response that will be submitted to the investigator for consideration in their completion of the Investigation Report.

Due to the privacy of all those involved, evidence shared in an electronic format will not be printable, downloadable or electronically shareable by the parties or their advisors. Exceptions may be made in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Individuals who share evidence in violation of this prohibition may be subject to discipline or, if advisors, to removal from participation in the process.

6. Investigators will complete an investigative report.

Once the parties have reviewed the evidence and have submitted responses, or the time period to submit such responses has passed, the investigators will complete any follow up they deem necessary, and write the investigation report. The investigation report will include, but is not limited to, the following sections:

- overview of the complaint made and summary of the investigative methodology;
- summary of relevant information gathered, including:
 - timeline of incident being investigated; o
 - complainant's account of events;
 - respondent's account of events;
 - witness accounts;
 - evidence gathered;
- areas of agreement;
- areas of disagreement;
- assessment of whether or not the complaint meets one or more of the required elements of the definition of sexual harassment under Title IX, including rationale; and
- an appendix containing all of the collected evidence.

The investigation report will not include:

- Information about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior, unless:
 - The information is to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the alleged conduct; or
 - The information concerns specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent
- Information that is protected by a legally recognized privilege unless the person holding such privilege has waived the privilege; and
- A party's medical, counseling/psychological, and similar treatment records unless the party (or, in the case of a minor, the party's parent/guardian) has given voluntary, written consent.

7. Dismissal from Hearing Procedure

The investigators will consider whether the conduct alleged, if demonstrated by a preponderance of the evidence, would constitute Sexual Harassment – Title IX within the Scope of the Policy in light of the evidence gathered during the investigation, and make a recommendation to the Title IX Coordinator regarding the same. If Sexual Harassment – Title IX is properly alleged, the investigators will further determine whether those allegations meet all three of the following jurisdictional requirements:

- The Formal Complaint was filed when the complainant was participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the College;
- The reported Sexual Harassment – Title IX occurred against a person in the United States; and
- The reported Sexual Harassment – Title IX occurred in the College's education program or activity.

The Title IX Coordinator will review the recommendation of the investigators and make the final determination as to whether the conduct alleged, if demonstrated by a preponderance of the evidence, would constitute Prohibited Conduct within the Scope of the Policy and whether all three of the above jurisdictional factors are met. This determination is consequential because only cases alleging Sexual Harassment – Title IX shall be eligible for the hearing process.

The Title IX Coordinator will notify the parties, in writing, of the final assessment and whether or not the complaint will proceed to a hearing or be transitioned for adjudication under another College Policy. This decision may be appealed by either party. Instructions and grounds for the appeal will be shared by the Title IX Coordinator in the cover letter for the investigation report. Parties have 3 business days after receipt of the investigative report to submit in writing an appeal of the transition to another policy or the failure to transition to another policy, and the other party will be provided with 3 business days in which to respond to such appeal.

Cases that are eligible for hearing will continue using the Hearing Resolution Process outlined in this Policy. All other cases shall be handled as follows:

- Where the Respondent is a student, the investigative report shall be referred to the Office of Student Life, which will utilize the student disciplinary process for Non-Academic Conduct in the Student Handbook to adjudicate the case. Appeals shall be handled pursuant to that process.
- Where the Respondent is not a student, the matter shall be referred to the Human Rights Committee, which shall review the investigative report and make a determination based on the preponderance of the evidence as to whether Prohibited Conduct occurred.

A designated member of the Human Rights Committee will prepare a report containing the Committee's findings and conclusions. Sanctions will be determined by an appropriate Vice President according to the list of potential sanctions in this Policy. The parties will receive copies of the report and notification of any sanctions that are issued. Appeals shall be handled as indicated in this Policy, except that an Appeals Panel consisting of three Vice Presidents selected by the Title IX Coordinator shall be used in lieu of a single Appeals Officer.

Where a case is not eligible for hearing but involves sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking allegations, the following procedural protections will be available to both parties through the Student Conduct or Human Rights Committee procedures outlined above:

- Continued access to informal resolution procedures until a determination is reached as to whether a Policy violation occurred;
- Continued access to supportive measures;
- Procedures are conducted by officials that receive annual training on issues related to dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking and on how to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of the victims and promotes accountability;
- Continued ability to bring an advisor of choice to any related meeting or proceeding;
- Both parties receive simultaneous written notice of the result of the disciplinary proceeding, the procedures for appeal, any changes to the result, and when such results become final.

8. Responses to Investigative Report

The parties have 10 calendar days beginning at the conclusion of the 3 - day appeal window, if no appeal is filed, or beginning at the receipt of the appeal decision if an appeal is filed, to submit their written response to the Investigation Report. The response may include an assertion that evidence not summarized in the report, but present in the case file, should be considered as relevant.

II. Hearing Resolution Process

A Hearing Resolution will be used to resolve cases that include charges of Sexual Harassment – Title IX and meet the jurisdictional requirements listed in the section above regarding “Dismissal from the Hearing Process.” If such cases also include other charges, all the charges in that case will be handled at the same time through the Hearing Resolution process. A Hearing Resolution includes a pre - hearing conference, a live hearing, decisions about responsibility and sanctioning by the Decision - maker, and an optional appeal process.

A single Decision - maker will typically conduct the live hearing. The Title IX Coordinator chooses a trained, impartial decision - maker, who may be but is not required to be an employee. The Decision - maker cannot be the Title IX Coordinator or the investigator(s) who investigated the case.

The Hearing Resolution Process typically concludes in thirty business days from receipt of the parties' responses to the investigative report. This time frame may be extended for good cause with written notice to the parties of the delay and the reason for the delay. Good cause may be based on delays occasioned by the complexity of the allegations, the number of witnesses involved, the availability of the parties or witnesses, the effect of a concurrent criminal investigation, any intervening school break or vacation, or other circumstances, all of which will likely extend the length of time it takes to complete the Hearing Resolution Process.

Each party must have an advisor at the hearing. If a party does not have an advisor present at the live hearing, the College will provide without fee or charge to that party, an advisor of the College's choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, to conduct cross - examination on behalf of that party.

1. Pre - Hearing Conference

Each party will have their own Pre - Hearing Conference. The Title IX Coordinator will communicate to the parties, their advisors, and the Decision - maker, the date, time, and format for their Pre - Hearing Conference. The Title IX Coordinator, the Decision - maker, and the advisor must be in attendance. While the parties are encouraged to attend, they are not required to do so.

During the Pre - Hearing Conference, the advisors must share with the Decision - maker their list of witnesses to appear at the hearing, the identity of any requested witnesses that were not questioned during the investigation, the request for any new evidence to be considered that was not submitted previously to the investigators, and the availability of the advisor and the party for hearing dates.

Evidence and witnesses may only be presented at the hearing if they were submitted to the investigators and made available to the parties for review, unless they were unavailable at the time of the investigation or the relevance was unknown until the investigative report was submitted. The Decision-maker will address any requests at the Pre-Hearing Conference to present new evidence and new witnesses.

The advisor is strongly encouraged to discuss lines of questioning with the Decision-maker at the Pre-Hearing Conference to obtain guidance from the Decision-maker on relevancy prior to the hearing. The Decision-maker will discuss the expectations and guidelines for appropriate behavior and decorum during the hearing.

After reviewing each party's witness list, the Decision-maker may, in their discretion, add names of other witnesses contained in the report for the purpose of appearing at the hearing and submitting to cross examination.

After the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conferences, the Title IX Coordinator will provide each party and their advisor with written notice of the date, time, and manner for the hearing, which will typically occur no less than 5 business days after the conclusion of the final pre-hearing conference.

2. Live Hearing

The live hearing may be conducted with all parties physically present in the same geographic location or, at the College's discretion, any or all parties, witnesses, and other participants may appear at the live hearing virtually.

Regardless of format, the hearing will be recorded or transcribed, and the recording or transcript will be Ringling's property, and will be made available to the parties for review and inspection upon their request during the pendency of the process.

Those persons present during the entirety or at designated portions of the hearing include: Complainant; Complainant's advisor; Respondent; Respondent's advisor; Decision-maker; Title IX Coordinator; witnesses; other appropriate individuals at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator (for example, an interpreter or someone needed to provide reasonable accommodations due to a disability).

The Decision-maker will provide an introduction detailing the purpose of the hearing, have those present identify themselves and their role, remind all parties of the expectation to be candid and honest in their response, and provide a brief overview of the procedure and the anticipated order of the hearing.

All evidence subject to the parties' inspection and review during the investigation will be available at the hearing to give each party equal opportunity to refer to such evidence during the hearing, including for purposes of cross-examination.

The advisors will be responsible for orally asking relevant questions, including those questions which challenge credibility, to the other party or parties and any witnesses directly, in real-time and in a manner that, in the Decision-maker's sole discretion, is not inappropriate, harassing, intimidating, irrelevant, or redundant. Cross-examination will never be conducted by a party personally. Only relevant questions may be asked of a party or witness. Relevant questions are those tending to prove or disprove a fact at issue. The Decision-maker may ask questions and elicit information from parties and witnesses on the Decision-maker's own initiative to aid the Decision-maker in obtaining relevant evidence.

Questions that are not relevant include:

- Repetition of the same question;
- Questions related to information about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior, unless:
 - The information is to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the alleged conduct; or
 - The information concerns specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent;
- Questions related to information that is protected by a legally recognized privilege; and
- Questions related to a party's medical, counseling/psychological, and similar treatment records unless the party has given voluntary, written consent.

The Decision-maker will objectively evaluate all evidence, including inculpatory and exculpatory evidence, to determine its relevance, materiality, weight and reliability. Credibility determinations will not be based on an individual's status as a complainant, respondent, or witness.

Before a party or witness answers a question by an advisor, the Decision-maker will first determine whether the question is relevant and briefly explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant, or request rephrasing of the question. The Decision-maker is not required to give a lengthy or complicated explanation of a relevancy determination during the hearing. The Decision-maker may later send to the parties any revisions to the explanation of relevance that was provided during the hearing.

If a party or witness does not submit to cross-examination at the live hearing, the Decision-maker must not rely on any statement of that party or witness in reaching a determination regarding responsibility. The Decision-maker cannot draw an inference about the determination regarding responsibility based solely on a party's or witness's absence from the live hearing or refusal to answer cross-examination or other questions. However, video evidence showing the conduct alleged within a complaint may be considered, even if the party does not submit to cross-examination. Further, a respondent's verbal or written conduct that is alleged to constitute the sexual harassment at issue is not considered to be the respondent's "statement" and thus, information about or evidence of such conduct may be admitted even if the respondent does not submit to cross-examination.

3. The Decision-maker will issue a written determination of responsibility.

After the hearing, the Decision-maker will issue a written determination of responsibility. The determination of responsibility will be based on a preponderance of the evidence and will include:

- Identification of the allegations potentially constituting sexual harassment
- A description of the procedural steps taken from the receipt of the Formal Complaint through the determination, including any notifications to the parties, interviews with parties and witnesses, site visits, methods used to gather other evidence, and hearings held;
- Findings of fact supporting the determination;
- Conclusions regarding the application of the Policy to the facts;
- A statement of, and rationale for, the result as to each allegation, including a determination regarding responsibility, any disciplinary sanctions Ringling imposes on the Respondent, and whether remedies will be provided by Ringling to the Complainant, and;
- Ringling's procedures and permissible bases for the Complainant and Respondent to appeal.

The determination will lay out the evidentiary basis for conclusions reached in the case. The determination will be provided to the parties simultaneously. The determination becomes final only after the time period for appeal has expired or, if a party does file an appeal, after the appeal decision has been sent to the parties.

If an appeal is filed, the determination becomes final on the date that the College provides the parties with the written determination of the result of the appeal. If an appeal is not filed, the determination becomes final on the date on which an appeal would no longer be considered timely. The Title IX Coordinator may determine whether it is appropriate to stay the sanctions pending the determination becoming final, taking into account the safety of the complainant and the campus community, the severity of the behavior, and the effect on the College's ability to address the behavior if the sanctions are stayed.

III. Appeals

Complainants and Respondents may appeal the Decision-maker's determination regarding responsibility, or Ringling's dismissal of a Formal Complaint or any allegations therein to the Title IX Coordinator who will initiate the appeal process. Ringling will notify the other party in writing when an appeal is filed and implement appeal procedures equally for both parties. Both parties will have a reasonable, equal opportunity to submit a written statement in support of, or challenging, the outcome. The Appeal Officer, who is the decision-maker for the appeal, will issue a written decision describing the result of the appeal and the rationale for the result and provide the written decision simultaneously to both parties.

Grounds for appeal include:

- Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
- New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made, that could affect the outcome of the matter, and;
- The Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or Decision-maker(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against Complainants or Respondents generally or the individual Complainant or Respondent that affected the outcome of the matter.

All grounds for appeal will be available to all parties.

The Title IX Coordinator shall appoint a trained, impartial Appeals Officer, who shall be a Vice President of the College or shall be external to the College, depending on availability and circumstances.

When the typical or alternate Appeal Officer is unable to serve, or is not otherwise designated in this policy, the Title IX Coordinator will select a trained individual to be the Appeal Officer with notice to the parties. The Appeal Officer cannot be the same person as the Decision-maker for the hearing, the investigator, or the Title IX Coordinator.

The Appeal Officer must be a neutral and impartial decision-maker. The parties will be informed, in writing, of the specific Appeals Officer. Within 1 business day of receiving the notice of the designated Appeals Officer, the complainant and the respondent may submit a written request to the Title IX Coordinator to replace the named Appeals Officer if there are reasonable articulable grounds to establish bias, conflict of interest or an inability to be fair and impartial.

The designated Appeals Officer will only be replaced if the Title IX Coordinator determines their bias precludes impartiality or constitutes conflict. Additionally, an Appeals Officer who has reason to believe they cannot make an objective determination must recuse themselves from the process.

A complainant or respondent must submit a written appeal to the Title IX Coordinator and within 5 business days of receipt of the Notice of Outcome. The written appeal must include the specific basis for the appeal and any information or argument in support of the appeal. Upon receipt of the appeal, the Title IX Coordinator will provide the other party notice of the appeal and the opportunity to respond in writing to the appeal. Any response to the appeal must be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator within 3 business days from the other party's receipt of the appeal. Appeal responses are shared with the other parties but no reply is permitted.

The Appeals Officer will make a decision regarding the written appeal and, within 10 business days of receipt of all appeal documents, notify the complainant and the respondent of the outcome. The Appeal Officer may affirm the finding(s); alter the finding(s); alter the sanctions; or request that additional steps be taken.

Appeal decisions are final. All appeal deadlines may be extended for good cause by the Title IX Coordinator. Any extension will be communicated to the parties.

IV. Informal Resolution Process

Informal resolution permits the parties to seek resolution of Formal Complaints of Prohibited Conduct. Ringling does not require as a condition of enrollment or continuing enrollment, or employment or continuing employment, or enjoyment of any other right, the waiver of the right to an investigation and adjudication of Prohibited Conduct under Ringling's grievance process. Similarly, Ringling will never require the parties in a Prohibited Conduct allegation to participate in an informal resolution process, as described below.

After the report of Prohibited Conduct or after the filing of a Formal Complaint of Title IX Sexual Harassment, if all parties voluntarily consent in writing, Ringling will assist the parties in an informal resolution process. An informal resolution process is available at any time prior to reaching a determination regarding responsibility in the grievance process, except in the cases of a report that an employee engaged in Sexual Harassment – Title IX against a student.

Before initiating an informal resolution, Ringling will: (1) provide the parties a written notice; and (2) obtain the parties' voluntary, written consent to the informal resolution process. The written notice that Ringling will provide to the parties will disclose the allegations, the requirements of the informal resolution process, and any consequences resulting from participating in the informal resolution process, including the records that will be maintained or could be shared.

Ringling's informal resolution process enables that, at any time prior to agreeing to a resolution, any party has a right to withdraw from the informal resolution process and resume the grievance process with respect to the report or Formal Complaint. The Title IX Coordinator will appoint a trained, impartial informal resolution officer to facilitate the informal resolution process.

Upon initiation of the informal process as described above, the informal resolution officer will attempt to resolve the dispute through meetings with the parties. Although an in-person or a restorative justice conference may be suggested, parties will never be required to meet directly with one another as part of the informal resolution process unless they mutually agree to do so.

When sexual harassment allegations can be resolved through alternate resolution by mutual consent of the parties and on a basis that is acceptable to the informal resolution facilitator in consultation with the Title IX Coordinator, the resolution process shall be considered finally decided and there will be no subsequent process or appeal.

V. Sanctions and Remedies

Where a respondent is determined to have engaged in Prohibited Conduct, the Decision-maker shall determine appropriate sanctions, in consultation with an appropriate administrator based on the status of the respondent (student, employee, or other). The Title IX Coordinator will determine an appropriate administrator for consultation based on the circumstances.

Students determined to have engaged in Prohibited Conduct are subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Conduct as contained in the Ringling College of Art and Design Student Handbook, whether or not formal criminal charges are filed by the victim.

A student found in violation of this Policy may be sanctioned with the following, or any combination thereof: disciplinary warning, reprimand, educational interventions, assessment by the counseling staff, community restitution, denial of privileges, work projects, restitution, fines, disciplinary probation, final disciplinary probation, behavioral agreement, no contact orders, suspension, expulsion, termination of employment, and other restrictions as to access and use of College facilities, property, or activities.

Employees determined to have engaged in Prohibited Conduct are subject to disciplinary action. Such employees may be sanctioned with the following, or any combination thereof: a warning, reprimand, educational interventions, counseling, no contact orders, probation, suspension, transfer, demotion or immediate termination of an employee in accordance with the policies and procedures outlined in the Faculty or Staff Handbook, as well as other restrictions as to access and use of College facilities, property, or activities.

Respondents who are neither students nor employees are also subject to disciplinary action, including but not limited to the following, depending on the amount of control exercised by the College over the Respondent: warning, reprimand, educational interventions, restitution, no contact orders, termination of contract(s), and restrictions as to access and use of College facilities, property, or activities.

Ringling will provide remedies to a Complainant designed to restore or preserve equal access to Ringling's education program or activity. Such remedies may include the same individualized services provided as supportive measures; however, remedies need not be non-disciplinary or non-punitive and need not avoid burdening the Respondent where the Respondent has been found to have engaged in Prohibited Conduct.

The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for effective implementation of remedies. Where the final determination has indicated that remedies will be provided, the Complainant can then communicate separately with the Title IX Coordinator or their designee to discuss what remedies are appropriately designed to preserve or restore the Complainant's equal access to education. Remedies for a Complainant which do not affect the Respondent must not be disclosed to the Respondent.

TRAINING

The College will ensure the Title IX Coordinators, investigator(s), decision-makers, appeals officers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process receive training on the definition of Sexual Harassment – Title IX, the scope of the recipient's education program or activity, how to conduct an investigation and grievance process including hearings, appeals, and informal resolution processes, and how to serve impartially, including by avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias. Additionally, these individuals must receive annual training on issues related to dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking and on how to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability.

The College will ensure that decision-makers receive training on any technology to be used at a live hearing and on issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant.

The College will ensure that investigators receive training on issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence.

Any materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, appeals officers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process must not rely on sex stereotypes and must promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual harassment.

Training materials shall be posted on the College's website in compliance with the Title IX regulations.

MAINTENANCE OF RECORDS

The College shall maintain all records and documentation for each case for seven (7) years from the date a report is received. With regard to Records of Sexual Harassment – Title IX, the records will include:

- Each investigation including any determination regarding responsibility and any audio or audiovisual recording or transcript, any disciplinary sanctions imposed on the respondent, and any remedies provided to the complainant designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity;
- Any appeal and the result therefrom;
- Any informal resolution and the result therefrom;
- All materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, appeals officers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process;
- Documentation of any supportive measures taken in response to a report or formal complaint of Sexual Harassment – Title IX, including documentation regarding the basis for any conclusion that the College's response was not deliberately indifferent;
- Documentation of why a complainant alleging Sexual Harassment – Title IX was not provided with supportive measures, including the reasons why such response was not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.

Non-Harassment Policy

Ringling College of Art and Design maintains a professional work and academic environment in which all employees and students are treated with respect and dignity. A vital element of this atmosphere is the College's commitment to equal opportunities and the eradication of discriminatory practices including harassment, with the goal to provide an academic and institutional climate of non-harassment. Forms of harassment that are encompassed by this policy include harassment based on sex, age, gender, color, race, national or ethnic origin, religion, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, genetic information, or any other basis prohibited by law. Harassment is specifically prohibited by state and federal law and instances of harassment may result in both civil and criminal liability on the part of the individual harasser as well as the College. Harassment's destructive impact wastes human potential, demoralizes employees and students, and perpetuates the tendency for further unacceptable behavior. For these reasons, the College is opposed to harassment in any form in its workplace and activities. This policy establishes procedures to address problems and questions regarding harassment in a prompt, discreet and fair manner. All employees and students are expected to comply and cooperate with its provisions and in accordance with the code of professional ethics.

Sexual Harassment: Due to the inherent complexity of sexual harassment, the College maintains a Sexual Misconduct Policy to address reports and formal complaints of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. Individuals who have experienced this type of conduct are encouraged to contact a Title IX Coordinator for more information about supportive measures, available resources, reporting to law enforcement if desired, and the formal complaint process for investigating and adjudicating sexual harassment:

A Special Note to Faculty, Teaching Assistants, Staff, and Other Persons in Positions of Power: Harassment occurs when a person who is in a position of trust or authority engages in behaviors or creates conditions that are inappropriate, unwanted and/or non-reciprocal. This is especially true in instances of sexual harassment when an unwelcome personal element is introduced into what should be a sex neutral situation. Because of the difference in power between faculty and students and supervisors and employees, a faculty member or supervisor cannot be certain that a personal relationship is truly welcome or consensual. Moreover, other individuals may be affected by such relationships. Those who abuse, or appear to abuse, their power violate their responsibility to the community. The College expects the faculty and staff to be aware of the potential for problems and conflicts of interest. Conduct that rises to the level of Prohibited Conduct under the Sexual Misconduct Policy will be handled according to that Policy.

The Human Rights Committee: The Human Rights Committee is a fact-finding committee whose purpose is to respond to and resolve harassment complaints, except as otherwise indicated in the Sexual Misconduct Policy. The Committee is a standing committee appointed by the President and comprised of three faculty members, two staff members, and two students. The student members of the Committee will participate only in those cases where other students are involved. The Vice President for Human and Organizational Development will serve as coordinator without vote. If the complaint should be against the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development, one of the committee members is to serve as the coordinator, with vote.

Student to Student Harassment: Student-to-Student harassment complaints are to be processed under the disciplinary procedure established and operated by the Office of Student Life, except as otherwise indicated in the Sexual Misconduct Policy. All other harassment complaints are to be processed by the procedures outlined in this policy.

"On Notice" Option of Complaint: Individuals who feel they have been harassed may choose to put the offender "on notice" that the offender's behavior is unwelcome. Often this direct communication by the individual brings a stop to the harassment, and no further action is necessary.

Use of the "on notice" option is not a prerequisite to initiating the complaint procedures set forth in this policy, and the College will not refuse to investigate a complaint on the grounds that the victim did not have a discussion with the offender. In other words, the victim always retains the right to avoid direct interaction with the offender and to initiate the complaint procedure explained in this policy.

Procedures for Informal Complaint: Individuals who believe they have been the victim of harassment that does not fall under the Sexual Misconduct Policy may seek an informal resolution of the problem. Use of the informal complaint procedures is not a prerequisite to initiating a formal complaint.

Informal complaints may be oral or written and directed to the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or to any member of the Human Rights Committee. Informal resolution will generally involve the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or the Human Rights Committee serving as mediators in an effort to resolve the complaint. The accused will be informed of the existence and nature of the informal complaint and will have an opportunity to respond. The Human Rights Committee or the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development, serving as intermediaries, will seek a resolution that both the complainant and the accused can agree upon. If no mutually satisfactory resolution can be found, the Human Rights Committee, the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development, and/or the complainant can decide if further action is appropriate.

Procedures for a Formal Complaint: Harassment complaints that do not fall under the Sexual Misconduct Policy are to be directed to the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or to a member of the Human Rights Committee. The Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or the contact person on the Committee will prepare a written record of the individual's factual allegations which the complainant will then have the opportunity to review before signing. Although complaints should be brought as soon as possible, preferably within six months after an offensive incident, the College recognizes that the sensitivity involved in certain situations may cause individuals to delay taking action.

Once the initial complaint is prepared, the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or the contact person on the Committee shall convene the entire Human Rights Committee to review the complaint, and to conduct an appropriate investigation of the allegations. This investigation may be limited to mediation and a negotiated settlement between the complainant and the accused. Based on the evidence collected, a designated member of the Human Rights Committee will prepare a report containing the Committee's findings and conclusions.

Possible outcomes of the investigation are that the allegations are substantiated, or that allegations are not substantiated, i.e. an inconclusive investigation. In the event the allegations are substantiated, the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or the Human Rights Committee may endeavor, through mediation, to reach a negotiated settlement of the complaint.

If a negotiated settlement cannot be reached, the Human Rights Committee will refer the matter to the College's Vice Presidents for resolution. The Vice Presidents will not reopen a completed investigation unless it can be shown that the investigating individuals made specific errors in reviewing the facts. The Vice Presidents will consider the findings and recommendations of the Human Rights Committee and, in consultation with the President, render a decision. Decisions will be made using the preponderance of evidence standard (i.e. it is more likely than not that the alleged conduct occurred).

Protection of Complainant and Others: All information regarding harassment will be kept in confidence to the greatest extent practicable and appropriate under the circumstances. The College cannot guarantee that the identity of the complainant will be concealed from the accused harasser, but any retaliation committed by the accused harasser by way of irresponsible, malicious or unfounded complaints will be investigated. If an investigation reveals that the complainant falsely accused another of harassment knowingly or in a malicious manner, the complainant will be subject to appropriate sanctions and/or discipline.

In order to ensure that a complete investigation of harassment claims can be conducted it may be necessary for the College to disclose to others portions of the information provided by the complainant. The College will try to honor any complainant's request that the College not disclose certain information provided, consistent with the College's obligation to identify and correct instances of harassment.

Penalties: Every claim of harassment will be considered on its own merits. The College will take whatever corrective action and/or disciplinary measures it considers appropriate under the circumstances, including but not limited to counseling, reprimand, probation, suspension, transfer, demotion or immediate termination of an employee or student in accordance with the provisions, policies and procedures outlined in the appropriate Faculty, Staff or Student Handbook.

Child Protection Policy

It is Ringling College of Art and Design's policy to take all appropriate steps to protect the health and welfare of the children who come to the Ringling College campus and of children with whom our employees, volunteers and students interact in other locations. Ringling College of Art and Design will comply with all applicable reporting laws.

Under Florida law, all faculty and staff are required to report suspected abuse, abandonment, or neglect of a child under age 18 by any individual, regardless of if the person is a parent, legal guardian, or unknown individual to include but not limited to a parent, legal custodian, caregiver or other person responsible for the child's welfare which includes a person who has permanent or temporary care or custody or responsibility for the supervision of such child (including any employee of the College) or any household or family member of the child. Additionally, faculty and staff are further required to report if a child is in need of supervision and care and has no parent, legal custodian, or other person responsible for the child's welfare.

Abuse, abandonment, or neglect includes:

1. Physical injury, whether visible or not, under circumstances that indicate that a child's health or welfare is harmed or at substantial risk of being harmed;
2. Mental injury, meaning the observable, identifiable and substantial impairment of a child's mental or psychological ability to function, under circumstances that indicate that a child's health or welfare is harmed or at substantial risk of being harmed;
3. The failure to provide essential care and attention to a child (e.g., leaving a child unattended), under circumstances that indicate that the child's health or welfare is harmed or there is a substantial risk of harm, or that there is mental injury to the child or a substantial risk of such injury; and
4. Any act that involved sexual molestation or exploitation of a child (e.g. any sexual contact or conduct with a child), regardless of whether physical injuries are present.

This policy applies to all faculty, staff, volunteers and students of Ringling College of Art and Design. Additional individuals or organizations doing business at or with the College may also be required to acknowledge and comply with provisions of this policy, as determined by the College. The policy applies to the Ringling College of Art and Design campus, all properties owned or leased by the College, and all off-campus sites at which students, faculty, staff and volunteers participate in college-sponsored activities.

Please also refer to the Ringling College of Art and Design Sexual Misconduct Policy, which prohibits sexual misconduct and requires reporting of known or suspected incidents of sexual misconduct of any person, regardless of age. This policy can be found in the student and employee handbooks.

Ringling College sponsors a number of programs for children.

The College requires that children in these programs be appropriately supervised by adults with the proper training and credentials, and subject to criminal background check clearances as required by Florida state law and the College. All program adults (paid staff or volunteers) must receive appropriate information in maintaining professional boundaries at all times when working with children in the program (See Appendix A below).

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

A. Florida Law mandates the reporting of any suspected child abuse, abandonment or neglect. Anyone who has reason to believe that a child has been subjected to abuse, abandonment or neglect must immediately report to the Florida Department of Children and Families by one of the following methods: (1) call the Florida Abuse Hotline at 1-800-962-2873, (2) via fax at 800-914-0004, or (3) online at <https://reportabuse.dcf.state.fl.us>. Instructors and other personnel will be required to provide their names to the DCF hotline staff. All other reporters may remain anonymous, but a record that a report was made will be maintained by the College. If you see a child in immediate danger, call 911. Colleges and Universities that "knowingly and willfully" fail to report suspected child abuse, abandonment or neglect or prevent another person from doing so now face fines of up to $1 million for each incident, and the penalty has been increased from a misdemeanor to a felony. Individual employees face personal criminal liability as well. A person who is required to report known or suspected child abuse, abandonment or neglect and who knowingly and willfully fails to do so, or who knowingly and willfully prevents another person from doing so, is guilty of a felony of the third degree. The personal criminal penalties include a fine of up to $5,000 and up to 5 years imprisonment for each incident not reported.

B. In addition to making the reports required by Florida law, any employee or student of Ringling College of Art and Design who has reason to believe that a child has been subjected to abuse, abandonment or neglect on the Ringling College campus, any properties owned or leased by the College, or during an event/function sponsored by the College must notify Public Safety (941-359-7500), the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development in the Office of Human Resources or the Vice President for Student Life as soon as possible. Public Safety or the Vice President will immediately notify the President. Any employee or student who has reason to believe that a child has been subjected to neglect or abuse at any off-campus sites at which students, faculty, or staff participate in college-sponsored activities must immediately notify the director of the off-campus site and the Ringling College program director. The Ringling College director will notify the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development as soon as possible.

C. Any faculty or staff member who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse, abandonment, or neglect must report his or her suspicion to the appropriate medical examiner.

D. "Mandatory Reporters" in Florida are defined as: social workers, teachers and other school personnel, physicians and other health-care workers, mental health professionals, child care providers, medical examiners, coroners, and law enforcement officers.

CONFIDENTIALITY

All matters pertaining to a report of abuse, abandonment or neglect must be held in the strictest confidence. A person who knowingly and willfully makes public or discloses any confidential information commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, and may be punishable by Florida law.

FALSE REPORTING

All good faith reporting of any instance of suspected child abuse, abandonment or neglect provides immunity and protection from adverse civil liability and/or employment discrimination. Under Florida law, a person who knowingly and willfully makes a false report of child abuse, abandonment, or neglect, or who advises another to make a false report, is guilty of a felony.

APPENDIX A

Guidelines for Those Working With or Around Children

Child abuse is a difficult and emotionally-charged subject. These guidelines are intended to provide information about your conduct in order to prevent abuse or unfounded allegations of abuse; and explain how to respond to abuse or suspicions of abuse.

Code of Conduct for Working with Minors

You have a duty to the children with whom you work, to the college and to yourself to prevent any abuse or improper behavior. You also have a duty to prevent unfounded accusations of abuse, by adhering to a proper code of conduct when working with minors.

- Never use any form of physical or emotional punishment to discipline children participating in the program
- Never engage in rough or sexually provocative games, including horseplay
- Do not allow children to sit on your lap
- Do not allow any inappropriate touching, including between children
- Be aware of the impact of your words and language on young children
- Do not swear, or use or respond to sexual innuendo, never make a sexually suggestive comment, even in fun
- Do not allow children to use inappropriate language unchallenged
- Be aware of situations in which actions can be misconstrued or manipulated by others (for example, being alone with the last child to leave a class); conduct all dealings with children in a public environment as much as possible, in order that all behavior can be readily observed

- Do not spend time alone with a child away from others; try to avoid being alone with a child, particularly in a restroom, changing area, or shower area (follow the "rule of three" and always make sure there is another person with you). Should you need to be alone with a minor in a changing or shower area, by no means should you be unclothed with a minor, and showering or bathing with minors. Even when you are not alone with one child, is never acceptable.
- Children should use a buddy system or otherwise be encouraged to stay together when going to the bathroom, on field trips or when leaving the classroom area
- Do not give any child a ride in a car or van unless you have express permission from the parents
- Do not appear to favor one child more than another, do not give gifts to any one child in a program, do not accept expensive gifts from any child in the program
- Be professional and maintain the highest standards of personal behavior at all times; do not drink alcohol or smoke when working with minors
- Do not tell children "this is just between us" or use similar language that encourages children to keep secrets from their parent/guardian

What if a Child Tells Me He or She is Being Abused?

- Stay calm; ensure that the child is safe and feels safe
- Assure the child that you are taking what he/she says seriously
- Be honest; explain you will have to tell someone else. Avoid making promises you cannot keep
- Make a note of what the child has said as soon as possible
- Do not confront the alleged abuser
- Do not investigate on your own
- Report the situation to the Title IX Coordinator, Christine DeGeorge, Vice President for Human and Organizational Development at 941-359-7619, or the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, Dr. Tammy Walsh, Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students at 941-359-7510.

Americans With Disabilities Act Student Policy

Ringling College of Art and Design will provide reasonable accommodations for those individuals with a disability, in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, Amended of 2009. Such accommodations will strive to ensure that the necessary service and facilities are provided so no individual is unfairly excluded or segregated. Prior to admissions acceptance, Ringling College will furnish general accommodation information upon request. After admissions acceptance, individual accommodation needs must be discussed with the Director of Student Access Services. Appropriate documentation of the disability will be required as needed. Students who expect to need some disability-related support should submit the most current print information they have to Student Access Services. Documentation submitted will be reviewed and discussed with the student to determine appropriate accommodations. Should more information be needed, the student will be informed and the staff will work with the student to get further documentation in a timely way.

Documenting Your Disability: Any student who may need services should make an appointment to discuss those needs with the Director of Student Access Services.

Printed information such as IEP's, 504 plans, psycho-educational and other evaluations are extremely helpful, particularly if the information is up to date. Specific guidelines for good documentation support are available on the Access Services website.

Receiving Accommodations for your Disability

Ringling College of Art and Design values all students and is proud of the diverse community they create. As part of their commitment both to diversity and equity, the college strives to achieve a welcoming, robustly supportive atmosphere in and out of the classroom and recognizes the legal right of every student to equal access to all educational, recreational and other activities sponsored by the college. To achieve equal access, students with disabilities may need accommodation in classes or for other college-sponsored events. To secure accommodations, students must register with Student Access Services in the Alfred R. Goldstein Library, Room 220, and must follow the posted procedures for securing accommodations.

Ringling College instructors must receive an accommodation letter from Student Access Services or they will not provide disability-related accommodation. Furthermore, a disability accommodation is not retroactive, so students must meet with the Director of Student Access Services early in each semester if they expect to require accommodations. Accommodations are effective only for one semester, so students must renew approved accommodations each fall and spring.

Appeal Procedure

If a student's request for accommodation is denied or the student is dissatisfied with the implementation of the accommodation for any reason, the College encourages the student to report the problem to the Director of Student Access Services and work with SAS to resolve the issue. The Director of Student Access Services may contact faculty members or other people on campus who were involved in order to determine the best resolution for the student while ensuring that college programs and curricula are respected. This informal process represents the most direct and fastest means of addressing such problems. Student Access Services will already be familiar with the student's accommodation agreement and can usually make determinations quickly and fairly. In the case of classroom accommodations, such as for testing, time is critical, so complaints should be lodged as soon as possible so a prompt resolution can be achieved.

If the student remains dissatisfied with the accommodation or the grievance concerns the decisions or behavior of the Director of Student Access Services, a formal grievance may be submitted in writing to the Dean of Undergraduate Studies / ADA Coordinator (officer). That officer will review the issue, completing any necessary investigation to determine the details and rationale for any decisions or changes made to the original accommodation agreement. The officer will then provide the student and other parties concerned with a written decision in response to the grievance.

Investigation, including conversations with the student, staff or faculty involved and others in the campus community who may have information, will be completed as quickly as possible. The goal will be to reach a determination so that students and those working with them can move forward. Students or their representatives may appeal if new information is available or if they feel the process was not followed. Otherwise, Ringling College will regard the officer's decision as final and all parties involved will be expected to implement its provisions.

At that point-or at any time during the process-if students are not satisfied, they also have the right to pursue a complaint to federal or state authorities, such as the Federal Office for Civil Rights.

Animals and Pets on Campus

I. Summary

Ringling College prohibits animals in any College-controlled buildings, except for those animals that are specifically exempted by this policy. In addition, while on College-controlled property, animals must be attended and restrained at all times.

II. Purpose

While Ringling College appreciates the special nature of the owner-pet relationship, the College is a workplace and residence for many people and the welfare of the entire community must be considered paramount. The College recognizes that animals have the potential to impose on the safety, health, personal well-being and comfort of faculty, staff, students, and visitors as well as the sanitation, housekeeping and physical condition of the College-controlled buildings and property. Animals are restricted on College-controlled property to provide a safe and healthful environment for members of the Ringling College community to study, work, and live; to preserve the integrity of its grounds, buildings, and other property; and to comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

III. Policy Statement

The College prohibits individuals from bringing dogs, cats, or other pets and animals inside any College-controlled buildings, except for those animals that are exempted from this policy. In addition, while on College-controlled property, animals must be attended and restrained at all times.

This policy applies to all College-controlled buildings, grounds, and spaces. This includes, but is not limited to, such facilities as classrooms, libraries, studios, food service areas, private offices, administrative spaces, or public access areas.

The College may require any person with an animal to remove the animal from College-controlled property. In the event a visitor who is not a regular member of the Ringling College community brings an animal or pet onto College-controlled property, these animals are prohibited from College-controlled buildings, unless exempted by this policy. Any dog, cat, or other animal brought to College-controlled property must be licensed and fully inoculated in accordance with local regulations, with the burden of proof on the owner to demonstrate their compliance. Fecal matter deposited by any dog, cat, or other animal brought to College-controlled property must be removed immediately and disposed of properly by the owner. If the owner is personally unable to perform this task, the burden is on the animal owner to arrange for removal of fecal matter. Animal owners are responsible for any damage caused by their pets.

When Public Safety observes or is made aware of an unrestrained or unattended animal, a reasonable attempt will be made to locate the animal's owner. Public Safety will remind pet owners of the policy and ask that the animal be taken home. If attempts to locate the owner are unsuccessful, the office will arrange to have the animal removed from College property. Whenever possible, Public Safety will use a no-kill pet shelter for relocating stray animals.

Faculty, staff, and students who fail to comply or who interfere with the implementation of this policy, will be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the appropriate disciplinary procedures for employees and students.

To report a violation of this policy, contact the Office of Public Safety at (941) 359-7500.

IV. Exemptions

- Animals used for approved educational purposes. Approval by the Vice President for Academic Affairs is required according to the procedures below.
- Service Animals performing their duties (see definition) (procedures can be found in Procedures for Service Animals and ESAs)
- Service Animals-in-training participating in Ringling College's approved programs (see definition) (procedures can be found in Procedures for Service Animals and ESAs)

- Emotional Support Animals (procedures can be found in Procedures for Service Animals and ESAs)

- One-Time events involving animals. Approval by the Vice President for Student Life is required, according to the procedures below.

V. Procedures for Requesting an Exemption for Educational Purposes.

Exemptions must be registered by the requestor with the Office of Public Safety. Owners of animals approved for an exemption will be required to provide a Veterinarian Verification showing proof of up-to-date inoculations. To be granted such an exemption, an individual must make a specific request by filling out a Request for Animal On Campus Form.

One-time exemptions may be granted by the Vice President for Student Life for events involving animals.

Individuals seeking permission to have an animal for educational purposes in the degree program or the non-degree programs should contact the Office of Academic Affairs for approval by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Other inquiries should be directed to the Vice President for Student Life.

Exemptions must be approved by the Vice President of Student Life or the Vice President of Academic Affairs, and registered with the Office of Public Safety.

Procedures for Service Animal or Emotional Support Animal owners/handlers seeking exemption as a reasonable accommodation for a disability are described in the Service Animal and Emotional Support Animal Procedures.

VI. Appendix of Definitions

1. College-controlled buildings and property: building or property that is owned, operated, or maintained by Ringling College.
2. Attended and Restrained: in the immediate vicinity of the owner or handler, and either on a leash of six feet or shorter, in a cage, or in the case of a service animal, voice or signal controlled. To be attended, an animal may not be left fastened to a stationary object.
3. College Residential Housing: College housing provided for students including: Goldstein; Appleton, Idelson & Harmon; Keating; Ulla Searing Student Center; The Cove; Roy & Susan Palmer Quadrangle; Bayou Village Apartments; Bridge Apartments; 2409 Bradenton Road; Near Campus Houses.
4. Service Animal: as defined by the ADA, any dog (or miniature horse), individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including, but not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals with impaired hearing to intruders or sounds, pulling a wheelchair, fetching dropped items, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, or performing other duties. Crime deterrence, emotional support and/or companionship are not “work” or “tasks” that qualify an animal as a “service animal.” A miniature horse may be a service animal under this policy if (1) the miniature horse is housebroken; (2) is under the owner’s control; (3) the premises or facility can accommodate its type, size, and weight; and (4) its presence will not compromise legitimate safety requirements necessary for safe operation of the facility or the program.

5. Service Animal In-Training: a dog (or in some cases a miniature horse) that is being trained to serve as a service animal. Service animals in training must already be obedience trained, and undergoing specific training related to the tasks that they will provide. The animal must be housebroken and controlled. A Service Animal In-Training only assumes this title while in the active action of training

6. Emotional Support Animal: animals that provide a sense of safety, companionship, and comfort to those with documented disabilities, and the animal is necessary to afford the person with a disability an equal opportunity to use and enjoy the residential facility.

Service Animal and Emotional Support Animal Guidelines

I. Overview

Ringling College of Art and Design is committed to providing appropriate access to its facilities and programs in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Fair Housing Act, and applicable state law. These procedures establish the scope of access and procedures for individuals who use service animals, who are accompanied by a service animal in training, and for students living in College housing who require an Emotional Support Animal (ESA) as a reasonable accommodation to a disability.

The College will determine, on a case-by-case basis and in accordance with applicable laws and regulations and these Procedures, whether a service or ESA may be present on College premises as a reasonable accommodation to a disability.

II. Service Animals

1. Definition of a Service Animal:

A service animal is defined by law as either a dog or a miniature horse that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability. The tasks that a service animal is trained to perform must be related to the person’s disability, meaning the animal is trained to take a specific action to assist the person with a disability as necessary. Examples of such work or tasks include, but are not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals with impaired hearing to intruders or sounds, pulling a wheelchair, fetching dropped items, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, or performing other duties. Crime deterrence, emotional support and/or companionship are not

“work” or “tasks” that qualify an animal as a “service animal.”

A service dog can be any breed or size. It might wear specialized equipment such as a backpack, harness, or special collar or leash, but this is not a legal requirement. Further, presence of such a vest or certificate does not establish that an animal is a service animal. A dog is a service animal only if it provides a specific, demonstrable service to its partner. Campus personnel who are unsure whether an animal is a service animal should contact the Office of Accessibility Services. Staff there will then determine the animal’s status and may request a meeting with the student to assist in that determination.

A miniature horse may be a service animal under this policy if (1) the miniature horse is housebroken; (2) the miniature horse is under the owner’s control; (3) the premises or facility can accommodate the miniature horse’s type, size, and weight; and (4) the miniature horse’s presence will not compromise legitimate safety requirements necessary for safe operation of the facility or the program.

If an animal meets this definition, it is considered a service animal regardless of whether it has been licensed or certified by a state or local government or training program.

2. Allowable inquiry for service animals

College Officials may make inquiries within the parameters allowed by this procedure and in compliance with federal law, to determine if the animal is a service animal and allowed on the premises. When it is not readily apparent what service an animal provides, only limited inquiries are allowed. College officials may ask two questions of a person with a service animal: (1) is the service animal required because of a disability of the handler? (2) What work or task has the service animal been trained to perform.

College officials may not inquire about the disability of the individual with the service animal, require medical documentation, require a special identification card or training documentation, require that the animal wear a vest or other identifier, or ask that the service animal demonstrate its ability to perform the work or task. While it is not required that persons with disabilities (called partner here) register with the Office of Accessibility Services, it is helpful to do so in order for Ringling to best accommodate their needs. It is required that appropriate veterinary documentation of the animal be provided to Residence Life.

3. Rights of an individual with a service animal.

A qualified service animal is permitted to accompany a person with a disability everywhere on Ringling College of Art and Design campus, including food service areas, except in situations where safety may be compromised or where the service animal may interfere with the fundamental nature of the activities being conducted. Examples may include, but are not limited to, laboratory settings or areas requiring protective clothing.

4. Service animal etiquette Partners:

The partner should ensure as much as possible that the service animal does not approach or interfere with other individuals in classes or dining areas or with the personal belongings of others. Except if performing a service directly related to the partner's disability, dogs should remain quiet on the floor during classes and in dining facilities. If dogs accompany partners to classes, it is particularly important that they remain quiet and still through classes, unless performing services. The service animal must not block identified fire or emergency exits.

The Public:

Faculty members who have questions about the presence or behavior of service animals have been instructed to contact the Office of Accessibility Services, which will then make contact with the animal's partner and request a meeting if appropriate.

Service animals are not pets, but rather working animals performing an important job. As such, service animals should be left alone (not petted, spoken to, played with, fed) by other members of the community. College personnel- staff and faculty- will make efforts to inform those in their areas of proper service animal etiquette. Partners are encouraged to set their own boundaries through educating the public on proper means of interacting with their service animal as well.

5. Requirements: safety, care and control of service animals

The following requirements apply to service animals and their partners anywhere on campus, including classrooms and dining areas.

Local ordinances regarding animals apply to service animals, including requirements for immunization, licensing, noise, restraint, at-large animals, and so forth. Dogs must wear a license tag and a current rabies vaccination tag.

The service animal must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the individual must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls. A person accompanied by a service animal may be asked to remove the service animal from Ringling premises if the animal is posing a direct threat to the safety of others, or is out of control and the owner does not take effective action to control the dog.

If the animal is not housebroken, a partner may be asked to remove the service animal from Ringling premises. The animal must be trained to eliminate waste at appropriate times and places. A partner is responsible for cleaning up the animal's feces. The partner should always carry equipment and bags sufficient to clean up and properly dispose of the animal's feces. Partners who are not physically able to pick up and dispose of feces are responsible for making all necessary arrangements for assistance. The college is not responsible for these services.

A partner may be asked to remove a service animal from Ringling premises if the animal is disruptive. Examples include, but are not limited to, barking other than for warning or protection, running around uncontrolled, or otherwise creating a nuisance through behavior that is not necessary to provide the service required by the owner.

The service animal must be clean and in good health and must be free of fleas and external parasites. The owner/partner of a service animal must abide by current city ordinances regarding vaccination and waste clean-up and removal. For example, this includes but is not limited to Fla. Stat. § 828.30 (2016), which lists requirements for rabies vaccination of dogs, cats, and ferrets. It is the responsibility of the owner/partner of the service animal to know about and comply with these ordinances.

6. Responsibility for damages caused by service animals

Individuals with service animals may not be treated less favorably than other individuals on the premises or participating in an activity, and may not be charged an extra fee for their animal to accompany them. However, if damage is caused by a service animal, the individual may be required to cover the costs of repairs.

III. Emotional Support Animals

1. Definition of Emotional Support Animal.

ESAs provide emotional comfort or support by their mere presence, but are not specifically trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability.

2. Distinction between a Psychiatric Service Animal and ESA

There is a legal distinction between psychiatric service animals and ESAs.

A dog trained to sense an impending anxiety attack and to take a specific action to help mitigate its impact, such as reminding an individual to take their medication or to get to a safe place to avoid injury, would qualify as a service animal.

Alternatively, if the dog's mere presence provides comfort during an anxiety attack rather than a specific action, it is not offering a service, and would thus fail to meet the definition of a service animal. This animal may, however, qualify as an ESA. When Service Animals In Training are not actively being trained, they are not Service Animals in terms of Residence Life Housing, and must be a prescribed Emotional Support Animal to meet qualifications for campus residence, and be an approved Emotional Support Animal through Student Access Services and Residence Life.

3. General provisions for Emotional Support Animals in College residential housing

ESAs may be allowed in College Residential Housing if the animal is necessary to allow a student with a disability to have equal access to the on-campus housing opportunities provided to all students. Unlike service animals, ESAs are not permitted in any area other than the student's on-campus residence (bed space) and immediate surrounding area, when necessary to walk a dog for example. ESAs are not allowed in other College buildings, including academic buildings, the Student Center, or other facilities and buildings of the College. ESAs in the classroom may be considered as a reasonable accommodation, but must be requested and granted based upon an individualized assessment.

4. Safety, care and control of Emotional Support Animals

Consistent with federal and state law, an ESA may be prohibited from Ringling Residential Housing, as well as any other property of the College, if the animal's behavior poses a direct threat to the health or safety of other members of the Ringling community or to visitors. An animal may also be excluded if its presence fundamentally alters the nature of a program or activity, if the animal is disruptive, if the animal causes physical damage to Ringling property or the property of others, or if it substantially interferes with the reasonable enjoyment of residential housing by other students or visitors.

The student in Ringling housing who is the owner of the ESA is at all times responsible for the behavior and care of the animal, including state and local requirements regarding vaccination and licensure if applicable, leash control, animal health, clean up and appropriate disposal of all waste, noise or other disturbances caused by the animal.

The owner is at all times responsible to ensure that the animal is securely restrained in a manner that will not cause the animal harm, or cause the animal to act in a disruptive manner. When the owner is away from the residence hall or facility, the owner must ensure that the animal has adequate food and water. ESAs may not be left unattended for periods of time that may jeopardize the health or well-being of the animal or put others at risk. ESAs may never be left unattended overnight and may not be left in the residence halls over break weeks or other times that the residence halls are closed. Owners of Emotional Support Animals may not appoint others on Ringling College's campus to care for the animal in the owners absence.

IV. Conflicting disabilities or rights

A service animal may not be excluded solely because another individual attending an event or using a publicly accessible facility or space of the College has a fear of the service animal or an allergy or a religious or cultural objection to the animal. Efforts must be made to accommodate the needs of both individuals, such as arranging for seating in different areas.

To limit exposure to pet dander in dormitories to students with allergies, as well as to balance the needs of students who have other objections to living near animals with the needs of individuals with disabilities, specific residential halls have been designated for individuals residing with service or ESAs.

V. Owner dog bite liability

Florida law, Fla. Stat. § 767.04 (2016), establishes dog owner liability for damages to persons bitten as follows:

"The owner of any dog that bites any person while such person is on or in a public place, or lawfully on or in a private place, including the property of the owner of the dog, is liable for damages suffered by persons bitten, regardless of the former viciousness of the dog or the owners' knowledge of such viciousness."

This means that the owner of a dog can be successfully sued by someone their dog bites, regardless of what precautions the owner took to prevent the bite from happening, or whether the owner had any reason to know of the dog's propensity to bite.

Even an owner taking extreme safety precautions, whose dog has never before bitten any person or remotely showed any signs of viciousness, will still be successfully sued if their dog bites another person.

Because of the potential financial cost that a lawsuit might present, and the ease with which a dog-bite victim can establish a successful case under this statute, it is highly recommended that students bringing dogs to campus purchase some sort of liability insurance policy.

VI. Animal cruelty: compliance with Florida statute, wellness checks

Abandonment, neglect, and mistreatment of any animal by any member of Ringling College will not be tolerated. No warnings will be issued. In the case of abuse, the animal will be removed from the situation in order to prevent contact with the person(s) responsible for the abuse. These actions will be subject to disciplinary response.

To ensure the safety and well-being of animals on campus, periodic wellness checks will be conducted by College officials. These checks will consist of the following:

- A College official will arrive to the dorm of the student residing with either a service or ESA.
- The student will allow the College official entry into the dorm to check that the area is being kept in a sanitary state, that the animal is not living in filth, and that the animal is being properly cared for.
- The College official will see the animal, allowing the opportunity to assess for any clear indicators of abuse or neglect, as well as to ensure that the animal is still, in fact, living in the approved dorm and has not been abandoned.

Procedures

I. Service Animals

1. Definition of a Service Animal:

A service animal is defined by law as either a dog or a miniature horse that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability. The tasks that a service animal is trained to perform must be related to the person's disability, meaning the animal is trained to take a specific action to assist the person with a disability as necessary. Examples of such work or tasks include, but are not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals with impaired hearing to intruders or sounds, pulling a wheelchair, fetching dropped items, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, or performing other duties. Crime deterrence, emotional support and/or companionship are not "work" or "tasks" that qualify an animal as a "service animal."

A service dog can be any breed or size. It might wear specialized equipment such as a backpack, harness, or special collar or leash, but this is not a legal requirement. Further, presence of such a vest or certificate does not establish that an animal is a service animal. A dog is a service animal only if it provides a specific, demonstrable service to its partner. Campus personnel who are unsure whether an animal is a service animal should contact the Office of Disability Services. Staff there will then determine the animal's status and may request a meeting with the student to assist in that determination.

A miniature horse may be a service animal under this policy if (1) the miniature horse is housebroken; (2) the miniature horse is under the owner's control; (3) the premises or facility can accommodate the miniature horse's type, size, and weight; and (4) the miniature horse's presence will not compromise legitimate safety requirements necessary for safe operation of the facility or the program.

If an animal meets this definition, it is considered a service animal regardless of whether it has been licensed or certified by a state or local government or training program.

2. Procedures for Service Animal Requests

Student requests for disability accommodations, including requests to have a service animal accompany a student on campus and/or in classrooms or other programs of the College or to have a service animal live with a student in College housing should follow the procedures for determination of reasonable accommodations for students.

Students who are training a service animal and wish to have the animal accompany them on campus and/or in classrooms or in College Residential Housing as part of the training must register the animal with the Office of Disability Services. Service animals in training are already obedience trained and are undergoing specific training related to the tasks they will provide, and are only labeled Service Animal in training when actively training.

II. Emotional Support Animals

1. Definition of Emotional Support Animal

ESAs provide emotional comfort or support by their mere presence, but are not specifically trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability.

2. Obtaining approval to reside with an Emotional Support Animal

In order for the Office of Accessibility Services to consider eligibility of an ESA, students must submit an ESA request form along with documentation verifying (1) the student has a disability, (2) the animal is necessary to afford the student an equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, and (3) there is an identifiable relationship or nexus between the documented disability and the assistance the animal provides. This documentation can be requested from Student Access Services.

• Documentation requirements

Students must register with the Office of Accessibility Services at the Goldstein Library. The student will be required to provide the office with documentation from a qualified health provider that the student has a disability for which the animal is needed and how the animal provides support that alleviates at least one of the identified symptoms or effects of an existing disability. There are exclusions to certain types of animals that Ringling will permit as an Emotional Support Animal.

Such documentation must be provided by a licensed mental health provider or physician with a thorough understanding of the student's health history, with a thorough understanding of the following:

- i. The student's mental health history; which demonstrates that the ESA is part of an ongoing treatment plan and addresses the standards identified by the Fair Housing Act.
- ii. The professional literature concerning the therapeutic benefits of ESAs for individuals with disabilities.

ATTENTION: Incoming students looking for off-campus providers for an ESA letter should acquire this documentation from their home provider before coming to campus. The therapist cannot be someone who does not have a history and thorough understanding of their mental health.

Reports must be on letterhead, typed, dated, and have the original signature of the evaluator. Reports must also include the full name of the student and reflect the following:

- i. There is a medically diagnosed disability (substantial limitation to a major lifeactivity).
- ii. The animal is necessary to afford the person with a disability an equal opportunity to use and enjoy the dwelling.
- iii. There is an identifiable relationship or nexus between the disability and the assistance that the animal provides.

Students applying for an ESA are required to complete a Housing Request Form and meet with the Office of Accessibility Services prior to the Housing Request Deadlines. Timely requests for accommodations allow Ringling to better accommodate student needs.

While requests for accommodations submitted after these dates will be accepted and considered, it cannot be guaranteed that the College will be able to meet late applicants' accommodation needs, including those which may develop during the course of the semester.

All students approved for an ESA are required to complete subsequent housing procedures.

Furthermore, students approved for an ESA are required to attend an orientation training regarding their rights and responsibilities on campus.

For new incoming students for the Fall semester, the deadline for submission of required documentation is May 1. Requests after that date will be subject to availability.

• Steps for requesting to reside with an Assistance Animal:

1. Register with the Office of Accessibility Services in the Goldstein Library. The student will be required to provide documentation in compliance with the above guidelines. Accessibility Services will determine whether the documentation is sufficient and may request further information from a clinician and/or the student.

Documentation deemed sufficient will be forwarded to the Associate Dean of Students for Residence Life for review and potential housing assignment.

2. Meet with an Accessibility Services staff member to review any pertinent campus-wide policies that may relate to the animal. This includes a mandatory orientation training session.
3. Review and sign the Service or ESA Agreement.
4. Provide evidence that the animal is in good health, and has been vaccinated against diseases common to that breed of animal as recommended by the American Veterinary Medical Association, and according to Florida and Sarasota County Ordinances. Veterinary records attesting to that fact must be submitted and approved by the Associate Dean of Students for Residence Life prior to the animal taking residence.
5. Meet with a Residence Life staff member prior to the animal taking occupancy in order to review the agreement and expectations.

III. Appeals and Reports

College Officials may make inquiries within the parameters allowed by this procedure, to determine if the animal is an assistance animal and allowed on the premises. College Officials may also make decisions related to whether an individual with an assistance animal may be asked to remove or restrain an animal.

If an individual with an assistance animal is denied access to a College facility or program, or asked to remove an animal, and disagrees with the decision, appeal of the decision may be made to the following College officials or their designee: Vice President for Human and Organizational Development if the individual is a visitor (non-affiliate of the College) or if the individual is a faculty or staff member of the College; and to the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students if the individual is a student.

The reviewing office or designee shall determine whether the initial decision was based on legitimate health, safety or programmatic concerns. The reviewing official or designee will also determine whether modifications to the restrictions initially imposed are possible to meet the needs of the individual with the service animal without unduly interfering with the legitimate health, safety or programmatic needs of the College.

Any person who believes a decision to restrict or deny public access to a person with an assistance animal is discriminatory based on a disability may make a Report to Vice President for Human and Organizational Development, using the procedures set out in the Non-Discrimination Policy.

Communicable Diseases Policy

Ringling College of Art and Design's decisions involving persons who have communicable diseases shall be based on current and well-informed medical judgments concerning the disease, the risks of transmitting the illness to others, the symptoms and special circumstances of each individual who has a communicable disease, and a careful weighing of the identified risks and the available alternative for responding to a student, employee or job applicant with a communicable disease.

Communicable diseases include, but are not limited to, measles, influenza, viral hepatitis-A (infectious hepatitis), viral hepatitis-B (serum hepatitis), human immunodeficiency virus (HIV infection), AIDS, AIDS-Related Complex (ARC), leprosy, Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) and tuberculosis. Ringling College of Art and Design may choose to broaden this definition within its best interest and in accordance with information received through the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Ringling College of Art and Design will not discriminate against any student, employee or job applicant based on the individual having a communicable disease. Students, employees and job applicants shall not be denied access to the College solely on the grounds that they have a communicable disease. Ringling College of Art and Design reserves the right to exclude a person with a communicable disease from facilities, programs and functions if the organization finds that, based on a medical determination, such restriction is necessary for the welfare of the person who has the communicable disease and / or the welfare of others within the College.

Ringling College of Art and Design will comply with all applicable statutes and regulations that protect the privacy of persons who have a communicable disease. Every effort will be made to ensure procedurally sufficient safeguards to maintain the personal confidence about persons who have communicable diseases.

Any concerns about communicable diseases related to a student should be referred to the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students. Any concerns about communicable diseases related to an employee or job applicant should be referred to the Office of Human Resources.

COVID-19 Safe Community Standards Promise

At Ringling College it is our priority to provide a safe and welcoming environment for all. We care about everyone in our community. As a result, now more than ever, each student, faculty, and staff member needs to do their part to mitigate the spread of COVID-19. While the College will continue to do its part to minimize the risk of infection on campus, everyone must do their part to reduce exposure and spread to help maintain the health and safety of all members of our campus community.

Student Handbook 2021-2022

Specific to you as a student, what can you do to help keep our community healthy? First, you need to be mindful of your own actions and follow the Ringling College safety protocols, which are in accordance with recommendations from the CDC and the State of Florida Department of Health. Second, we expect you to take responsibility for your own health and help stop the spread of COVID-19 by acknowledging your understanding of and promising your commitment to the following Ringling College Safe Community Standards for behavior:

I promise to...

- Wear a face covering when in public and shared spaces, especially inside buildings, and when physical distancing is difficult, including outdoors during times of high-traffic across campus.
- When required by campus protocols, wear a face covering in classrooms, labs, or studios, during both scheduled class times and open lab times.
- Maintain physical distancing of at least 6 feet between myself and others when possible.
- Wash my hands frequently with soap and warm water, or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that aligns with CDC recommendations for alcohol content.
- Regularly clean personal work areas and frequently-touched surfaces and objects.
- Regularly clean personal shared spaces, such as kitchens and residence hall bathrooms.
- Limit in-person conversations to less than 15 minutes if possible and always wear a face covering while doing so.
- When I have approval from roommates/suitemates, I agree to limit other Ringling College student guests in my residence space and only when I and others are able to practice Safe Community Standards for behavior.
- No non-Ringling College guests/visitors are allowed in College residences.
- Only participate in social gatherings that are in accordance with public health and Ringling College guidelines. Presently, those guidelines call for social gatherings to be limited to 10 or less individuals, with attendees wearing face coverings and maintaining 6 feet of physical distance whenever possible. Social gatherings are considered to be any informal activity taking place in a space not designed to support physical distancing. Instructional activities, like classes and studios, and other College-sponsored programming are not categorized as social gatherings.
- Monitor my health:
 - If I feel generally like I have a cold or flu, or if I have specific symptoms of COVID-19 (a fever of 100.4 F or greater, cough, sore throat, shortness of breath or trouble breathing, headache, muscle pain, fatigue, new GI symptoms, loss of taste or smell, or a runny or stuffy nose not related to allergies), I WILL NOT GO TO CLASS OR REPORT TO WORK.
 - If I have any of these symptoms, I will contact the Ringling College Student Health Center at 941-309-4000 or medical@ringling.edu.
- I acknowledge that the College fully supports and strongly encourages the COVID-19 vaccine and can assist me in finding a vaccination clinic if I am not already vaccinated.
- I will provide proof of a negative Covid-19 test if required and complete testing if selected, throughout the year at the College's expense.
- I will make responsible choices with my off-campus behavior and continue the practice of the Safe Community Standards for behavior.
- I will look out for others and help to encourage their adherence to the Safe Community Standards for behavior.
- I will abide by institutional regulations that may change throughout the year as national, state, and College policies are updated in light of the changing landscape of COVID-19.
- I understand that Ringling College will have zero tolerance for any non-compliance to the required adherence to the Safe Community Standards for behavior and that violators will face disciplinary action up to and including suspension from Ringling College.

By signing this promise, I am acknowledging that I have read and understand what is expected of me as a student at Ringling College in terms of adherence to the Safe Community Standards for behavior.

(Before signing this document, if you have questions please contact studentlife@ringling.edu.)

Drug & Alcohol Policy

Ringling College considers the abuse of drugs or alcohol by its faculty, staff and students to be unsafe and counterproductive to the educational process and the work environment. It is Ringling College's policy that the illegal possession, use, consumption, sale, purchase or distribution of alcohol, illegal drugs or illegally possessed drugs by any employee, while in the workplace, on campus or in the conduct of Ringling College-related work off campus, is strictly prohibited.

For purposes of this policy, the campus is defined as any area used for work, educational, recreational, residence hall or parking purposes, including surrounding sidewalks and exterior areas.

Ringling College of Art and Design permits persons of legal drinking age or older to possess and consume alcoholic beverages within the confines of private units within the Bayou Village Apartments, Bradenton Apartments, Family Housing, Roy and Susan Palmer Quadrangle and residential houses subject to all Federal, State and Local laws, and the guidelines which have been established by the College.

Guests under the age of 21 are not allowed to be in a campus housing unit where alcohol is permitted, regardless of whether they are consuming alcoholic beverages or not.

This policy is not designed to interfere with the appropriate use of prescription drugs. Employees should notify their supervisors if the proper use of prescribed medication will affect work or academic performance. Abuse of prescription drugs will be treated as a violation of this policy.

Disciplinary Actions To Prevent Drug Abuse

Penalties or sanctions will be imposed by the College in accordance with procedures for disciplinary actions against employees and students as found in this Student Handbook, the Staff Handbook, the Faculty Handbook and other applicable documents.

Sanctions and penalties may range from referral to rehabilitation programs, written warnings with probationary status, to dismissal from academic programs and termination of employment.

Distribution & Review Of Policy

A copy of this policy will be given annually to each employee and to all new employees at the start of employment.

Each student registered during an academic year in any degree program will receive a copy of this policy within this Student Handbook.

The President will ensure that a biennial review of this policy will be conducted to determine its effectiveness and to implement any necessary changes.

Legal Sanctions

In addition to the disciplinary sanctions, Ringling College imposes for violations of this policy, employees and students are subject to state and / or Federal sanctions. Employees who work off-site are subject to the appropriate state and / or local sanctions for their work location.

Florida state law prohibits the possession of alcoholic beverages by persons under age 21, punishable for the first offense by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding 60 days and / or a $500 fine, and for a subsequent offense by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding 1 year and a fine of $1,000. It is similarly prohibited and punishable to distribute alcohol to minors.

State law makes it a crime for any person to possess or distribute illicit drugs (controlled substances as described in Section 893.03, Florida Statutes) under Section 893.13, Florida Statutes. Law provides certain limited exceptions. The crimes range from second-degree misdemeanors (up to 60 days imprisonment and up to a $500 fine) to first-degree felonies (up to 30 years imprisonment and up to $10,000 fine).

Trafficking (distributing specified large quantities of various controlled substances under Section 893.03, Florida Statutes) under Section 893.135, Florida Statutes is punishable, depending on the particular illicit drug, quantity involved and location, by a minimum term of imprisonment of 3 to 30 years and a fine of $25,000 to $500,000.

Federal trafficking penalties for first offenses, depending upon the illicit drug involved, range from not more than 1 year imprisonment and a fine of not more than $100,000 for an individual, to 40 years to life imprisonment and a fine of not more than $200,000 for an individual, to not less than life imprisonment and a fine of not more than $8 million for an individual.

It is unlawful for any person to misrepresent or misstate his or her age or the age of any other person for the purpose of inducing any licensee or his or her agents or employees to sell, give, serve or deliver any alcoholic beverages to a person under 21 years of age, or for any person under 21 years of age to purchase or attempt to purchase alcoholic beverages.

Health Risks Associated With The Use Of Illicit Drugs & The Abuse Of Alcohol

Illicit drugs and the health risks involved in using them include, but are not necessarily limited to:

Cannabis (Marijuana)

Use of cannabis may impair or reduce short-term memory and comprehension, alter sense of time and reduce ability to perform tasks requiring concentration and coordination, such as driving a car. Marijuana can also produce paranoia and psychosis.

Inhalants (gasses or volatile liquids)

Immediate negative effects may include nausea, sneezing, coughing, nose bleeds, fatigue, lack of coordination and loss of appetite. Solvents and aerosol sprays may also decrease the heart and respiratory rates and impair judgment. Amyl and Butyl nitrite cause rapid pulse, headaches and involuntary passing of urine and feces. Long-term use may result in hepatitis or brain damage.

Cocaine

Use causes the immediate effects of dilated pupils, elevated blood pressure, increased heart rate and elevated body temperature. Chronic use can cause ulceration of the mucous membrane in the nose and produce psychological dependency. Crack or freebase rock, a concentrated form of cocaine, produces effects within 10 seconds of administration. In addition to the above, additional effects include loss of appetite, tactile hallucinations, paranoia and seizures, Cocaine in any form may lead to death through disruption of the brain's control of heart and respiration.

Other Stimulants

These include amphetamines and methamphetamines. Users may perspire, experience headache, blurred vision, dizziness, sleeplessness and anxiety. Extremely high doses can cause physical collapse, very high fever, stroke or heart failure.

Depressants

Included are barbiturates, methaqualone and tranquilizers. Effects can cause slurred speech, staggering gait and altered perception. Very large doses can cause respiratory depression, coma and death. The combination of depressants and alcohol can be devastating. Babies born to mothers who abuse depressants during pregnancy may be physically dependent on the drugs. Some show birth defects and / or behavioral problems.

Hallucinogens

Effects of hallucinogens vary depending upon the type of drug. Chronic users may experience mood disorders, paranoia, violent behavior, hallucinations, panic, confusion, loss of control and death.

Narcotics (including heroin)

Overdose may produce slow and shallow breathing, clammy skin, convulsions, coma and death. Tolerance to narcotics develops rapidly and dependence is likely. Addiction in pregnant women can lead to premature, stillborn, or addicted infants.

Designer Drugs

These drugs have had their molecular structure changed chemically to produce analogs such as synthetic heroin and hallucinogens. These analogs can be hundreds of times stronger than the original drug, which they are designed to imitate. 1 dose can cause uncontrollable tremors, drooling, impaired speech, paralysis and irreversible brain damage.

Abuse Of Alcohol

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including murder, rape, armed robbery, vandalism, spouse and child abuse and drunk driving. Moderate to high doses of alcohol can cause marked impairment in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Heavy use may cause chronic depression and suicide, and is also greatly associated with the abuse of other drugs.

Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects described. The use of even small amounts of alcohol by pregnant women can damage their fetus.

Long-term heavy alcohol use can cause digestive disorders, cirrhosis of the liver, circulatory system disorders and impairment of the central nervous system, all of which may lead to an early death. Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence, particularly in persons with 1 or more parents or grandparents who were problem drinkers. At least 15-20% of heavy users will eventually become problem drinkers or alcoholics if they continue drinking. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations and convulsions, which can be life threatening.

Resources: Counseling, Treatment & Rehabilitation

Any employee or student who believes he or she has a problem with drug and / or alcohol abuse is urged, for his or her own benefit as well as the benefit of fellow employees and students, to seek counseling and treatment through a treatment program of his or her choice. Options for assistance and referral include:

- a) On-campus referral sources. Employees may contact the Office of Human Resources and students may contact the Office of Student Life for assistance in locating a treatment program. All requests for counseling and treatment sessions, as well as referrals, will be handled in a confidential manner.

- b) The Office of Student Life has professional mental health counselors on staff to assist members of the Ringling College community. In addition, the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students, Associate Dean of Students, and Student Life Staff are trained in crisis intervention and may provide assistance and / or implement the necessary conduct procedures regarding student behavior.
- c) Clinics and programs that provide counseling and / or treatment in this area can be found in the yellow pages of the local telephone directory under the heading of "Drug Abuse and Addiction Information and Treatment."

Guidelines For Legal Use Of Alcohol In Permitted Campus Housing

Alcoholic beverages shall not be possessed or consumed in any outdoor area, including: balconies, hallways, stairwells, the community room, work rooms, laundry rooms or any other common area of campus housing unless all parties are 21 years of age or older. Private parties in student units at which alcoholic beverages are distributed or consumed must comply with the following:

- 1) No alcohol is allowed in any residence hall, regardless of age of resident. Private parties may not be advertised. Residents are responsible for their own behavior and that of individuals in attendance.
- 2) The number of guests at a private party in a student unit shall not exceed 12, including residents of that unit. The party may not overflow into the hallway or any adjoining areas outside the residents' unit including stairwells, work or laundry rooms, the community room or other apartments. Any alcoholic beverage must be consumed and contained within the unit of the party. Common areas are not to be obstructed in any way.
- 3) The room or unit door and windows shall be closed and noise contained and not bother-some to other residents.
- 4) The room or unit may not become the point of dispensing alcohol for the floor or hall or adjacent areas.
- 5) The sale of alcoholic beverages by either an admission ticket, on a per drink basis or by any other means is prohibited.
- 6) All guests of the party who are consuming or in possession of alcoholic beverages must be of the legal drinking age and in compliance with all applicable Federal, State and Local laws.
- 7) Common source alcohol including kegs, party balls, and punches containing alcohol are prohibited.

Procedures For Events With Alcohol

Ringling College considers the abuse of alcohol by its faculty, staff and students to be unsafe and counterproductive to the educational process and the work environment. The College does not encourage the presence and use of alcohol at College sponsored events.

The College may, however, permit the legal purchase and use of alcoholic beverages at College related events that are properly organized and scheduled only when the event will not interfere with scheduled academic activities or the normal operations of the College. If such a program will involve students, permission to provide service must be acquired from the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students (and the Vice President for Academic Affairs in cases where a faculty member is the sponsor).

Requests for permission to serve alcohol will only be considered if a third party vendor properly licensed by appropriate state and local authorities has been contracted to serve alcohol. A copy of the appropriate license must be submitted with the request. Requests from the faculty or staff sponsor must be made in writing by completing the Alcohol Policy Exemption Form that is available in the Office of Student Life and on the web at least 2 weeks prior to the proposed event. Furthermore, only events where the majority of the intended Ringling College attendees will be of legal drinking age will be considered for approval.

Additionally, the following are specific policies and procedures that must be followed for the use of alcohol at College events:

These advertisements can display the following information: Beverages will be available. Must have valid state-issued picture identification for verification of age.

The amount of the food and beverages appropriate for the size of the event will be determined by the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students.
- 6) The sponsor is responsible for ensuring that all college policies and procedures are strictly obeyed.

the legal drinking age (21 in the State of Florida). These measures include having a designated individual, screening persons entering the event and attaching a wristband or stamp indicating those of legal drinking age. At any time during the event, the individual screening has the option to decline identification provided by an individual. The entire staff working the event has the right to refuse service to individuals deemed as having enough alcohol prior to or during the event.

For further information and guidance on the policies and procedures related to events with alcohol, please contact the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students.

Smoking Policy

Ringling College of Art and Design is committed to providing a safe and healthful environment for its students, faculty, staff, and visitors. Research findings show that tobacco use in general, including smoking, vaping, and breathing secondhand smoke, constitute a significant health hazard. In addition to causing direct health hazards, smoking contributes to institutional costs in other ways, including fire damage, cleaning and maintenance costs, and costs associated with employee absenteeism.

Ringling College of Art and Design therefore has set the following policy regarding tobacco use:

Smoking and vaping is prohibited on the Ringling College main campus except in outdoor designated smoking areas. Smoking and vaping is prohibited in all areas of the Museum Campus and at the Englewood Art Center. Smoking and vaping are also prohibited in all Ringling College vehicles including golf carts. For the purposes of this policy, smoking is defined as burning and vaping any type of product including, but not limited to, cigarettes, cigars, cigarillos and pipes, and additionally includes e-cigarettes and their associated products. Smoking and vaping materials will not be sold or dispensed within any property owned, leased, or controlled by Ringling College.

This policy applies to all persons including students, faculty, staff, visitors, contractors, subcontractors, and others on Ringling College property. Designated smoking areas on the main campus for smoking and vaping are identified by signage and contain receptacles for the proper disposal of cigarette butts. All students, faculty, staff, and visitors are expected to observe these designated smoking areas and to dispose of cigarette butts safely and only in the receptacles provided.

Organizers and attendees at public events, such as conferences, meetings, public lectures, social events and cultural events that use Ringling College facilities are required to abide by this policy. Organizers of such events are responsible for communicating this policy to attendees and for enforcing this policy.

Effective enforcement of this policy depends upon the courtesy, respect, and cooperation of all members of the Ringling College community.

Information about smoking and vaping cessation programs and resources is available from the Office of Student Life or the Office of Human Resources.

Intervention Policy

By enrolling in the Ringling College of Art and Design, the student acknowledges and agrees that the College has the right to be concerned about the health, safety and welfare of its students, staff and others that may be upon the College campus and other property. Accordingly, by enrolling in Ringling College, the student expressly consents to and authorizes the College to contact the student's spouse, parents, colleagues and other persons known to be associated with the student should the College, in its sole discretion, believe that the student's conduct may be potentially harmful to him or herself or others whether that conduct be caused by stress, mental disturbances or disorders, use or abuse of addictive substances or any other reason.

Furthermore, by enrolling in the College the student consents to and authorizes the College to refer the student to physicians, psychiatrists and / or other physical and / or mental health personnel of the College's choice for evaluation and / or treatment, or take such other action as the College may deem appropriate including though not limited to temporary or permanent suspension of the student's residence housing and / or enrollment in the College.

Medical Withdrawal Policy

For Serious Illness & / or Documented Disabilities

Medical withdrawals are not permitted at Ringling College of Art and Design except in extraordinary circumstances due to either documented serious illness or documented disabilities necessitating a medical withdrawal. A student who feels that such extraordinary circumstance exists must comply with the following requirements for consideration of a medical withdrawal:

- 1) A request for a medical withdrawal must be made in writing and directed to the Associate Dean/Director of Health Services. The writing must state the reason for the request, the particular semester or semesters for which the request is made, and the length of leave requested.
- 2) The medical withdrawal request must be accompanied by documentation supporting the reason for the request, including without limitation, documentation by any treating physician relating to any medical condition or disability which specifically relates to the requested medical withdrawal.
- 3) Following receipt of the documentation referenced above, a meeting with the Associate Dean/Director of Health Services or designee may or may not be offered or required at the discretion of the Associate Dean/Director and / or Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students. A recommendation will be made to the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students after review.

4) Decisions relating to medical withdrawals will be made by the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students, after submission of the foregoing documentation and interview.

5) Once medical withdrawal is granted, in order to return, the student will need to apply for readmission.

The student will need to provide a completed Provider Report Form and a letter from such student's attending physician stating that the student is able to return to College and will be able to perform the essential functions of the educational program. If the medical withdrawal is for psychological health reasons, the student will also need to follow the procedures in the Policy for Required Medical Withdrawal. See asterisk in next section.

Policy for Required Medical Withdrawal

Ringling College of Art and Design strives to provide a safe environment in which all students are free to pursue their academic and social development. Thus, Ringling College reserves the right to require a Medical Withdrawal of any student who is believed to pose a threat to the health or safety of others.

Required Medical Withdrawals (which may or may not include grade forgiveness or other considerations) are made only after extensive involvement with a student and may be withdrawn at any future point if a student fails to comply fully with the remainder of the process. Voluntary withdrawal after alternative actions have been exhausted is encouraged. A Medical Withdrawal may be required if any of the following situations arise:

- 1) A student has a medical or psychological problem, which cannot be properly treated in the college setting.
- 2) A student engages in any behaviors, or there is reason to suspect student has an elevated risk of engaging in behaviors, that threaten or could cause bodily harm to others.
- 3) A student engages in any behaviors, or there is reason to suspect student has an elevated risk of engaging in behaviors, that seriously interferes with the student's ability to function and/or interferes with or in any way disrupts the educational pursuits of other members of the Ringling College of Art and Design community.
- 4) A student refuses or is unable to cooperate with a recommended evaluation or treatment procedure.

It is the student's responsibility to comply with all treatment recommendations and where insufficient treatment options exist on campus to identify and obtain community treatment to manage their own health. Upon the recommendations of a qualified health professional who has evaluated a student, the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students makes the final decision regarding approval of a Required Medical Withdrawal for health reasons. The Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students reviews the recommendation to ensure that procedures were followed to protect the student's rights. The student will be given oral notification of the decision immediately to be followed by appropriate written notification.

The Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students places the student on a Required Medical Withdrawal and authorizes their return to the College after approval for the return has been granted by the health professional in an appropriate timeframe and with evidence of knowledge of the student's relevant conditions and reasons for the Required Medical Withdrawal. After a student has been granted a Required Medical Withdrawal for psychological health reasons, the student should consult a qualified mental health professional promptly. The student should initiate contact with the Counseling Center staff and Sarasota Memorial Hospital to assist with necessary and appropriate referrals.

*Students who take a medical withdrawal or who are placed on a Required Medical Withdrawal for psychological health reasons should participate fully in the process. This includes meeting with an off-campus Mental Health Provider to complete a Provider Report Form within 15 days of the date of the medical withdrawal and again no less than 30 days prior to the start of classes during any following term for which the student intends to re-apply. Readmission after any form of medical or non-medical withdrawal is not guaranteed. Failure to follow timelines, recommendations, or submit sufficient documentation of post-treatment stability and ability to function as a student in an academic community environment may result in an unsuccessful application for readmission.

When the student is ready to return to Ringling College of Art and Design, he / she student must arrange for the health professional who has evaluated or treated him / her to forward a copy of the Provider Report Form to both the Health Services and the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students stating that he / she is qualified to return as a student and that their presence at the College does not pose a threat to the health or safety of self or others. The report submitted by the health professional should be comprehensive and must include the Provider Report Form. Telephone calls or brief letters simply indicating that the student has received treatment will not be sufficient and will delay the return process. The student's continued participation with the recommendation from the health care provider will be monitored by the Peterson Counseling Center clinical staff. Failure to comply with any part of the process or recommendations may result in a required medical withdrawal.

Students may also be required to schedule interviews with the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students, the Associate Dean/Director of Health Services, an Associate Director of Counseling Services, or designee.

Such information will include description, cellular phone number, clothes last worn, where the student might be, who the student might be with, vehicle description, information about the physical and emotional well being of the student, an up to date photograph, a class schedule, etc..

3) Appropriate Office of Student Life staff and other personnel across campus will be notified to aid in the search and location of the student. Contact with the student will be attempted using text messaging, cellular phone calls, Facebook and e-mail.

1) In accordance with established College emergency guidelines procedures, the Campus Media and Community Relations designee will be part of the College administrative response team and is the designated spokesperson to handle media inquiries concerning a missing student.

2) The local law enforcement agency in charge of the investigation and the city public information officer (PIO) will be consulted by the Campus Media and Community Relations designee prior to any information release from the College so as not to jeopardize any investigation.

3) Information provided to the media to elicit public assistance in the search for the missing person will be handled by the local law enforcement agency.

Each Department Head assigning studio spaces is responsible for ensuring that this policy is distributed and signed.

Having a private studio space at RCAD is a privilege and is intended to support and acknowledge those students who have an active studio practice need. Studios MUST be used on a weekly basis. Students who do not actively access and work in the space, ON A REGULAR BASIS, will be subject to IMMEDIATE EVICTION. 8. Do not pour chemicals or other harmful products into the sinks or onto the ground. Contact your departmental technician or the EHS department for disposal.
9. The personal protective equipment that you would use in the workshops and studios should also be used in the private studio when working with hazardous chemicals or equipment.
10. Sleeping in the studio is prohibited. You cannot use the studio as a living space.
11. Electrical equipment should be plugged directly into wall outlets. Avoid causing trip hazards by carefully locating the electrical cord.

VIOLATING THE POLICY

The provision of a private studio space is a privilege. The following sequential actions will be initiated against individuals violating this policy. If a serious violation occurs, disciplinary action may be imposed without an initial or written warning. The disciplinary sanctions (Article VI) in the Student Handbook describe the list of sanctions that maybe imposed.

a) Initial Warning

A student who violates studio conduct will receive an initial warning either from faculty, a technician or from College Staff. This will be reported to a Public Safety Officer for record keeping.

Intellectual Property Policy

I. Introduction

A. Purpose. This document describes Ringling College of Art and Design's policy governing the ownership of intellectual property and reflects the current and past practice of the College regarding the intellectual property of the faculty, staff and students. This policy delineates the rights and responsibilities of Ringling College and those of its faculty, staff, students and others who are involved in the creation of intellectual property so that the ownership status of intellectual property can be clearly determined and understood. Ringling College faculty and students, as members of a community of scholar practitioners, serve the educational mission of Ringling College through their engagement as working artists, designers, writers and researchers. This policy affirms Ringling College's commitment to the free and open creation and exchange of creative works and scholarly information and an equitable division of ownership rights.

B. Application. This policy applies to all units of Ringling College, including all majors, programs, courses, departments, centers and institutes; and to all Ringling College personnel, including all students, faculty, staff, employees and independent contractors, all of whom are covered by this policy for the duration of their relationship with Ringling College.

Employees are defined as those who receive direct or indirect compensation from Ringling College, such as wages, salaries, stipends, free housing and the like.

It is acknowledged that a single person (referred to as the "creator") may create intellectual property in different or multiple capacities from time to time (e.g., a student acting as an employee or a member of the faculty acting in a staff capacity, as referenced in Sections II.D.2 and II.E.3). Ownership of intellectual property will be determined based on the particular capacity in which the creator is acting while creating it.

C. Intellectual Property Defined. As used in this policy, the term "Intellectual Property" means:

- 1) All works of authorship subject to copyright protection (including: for example, works of art, writings, pedagogical works, photographs, musical compositions, motion pictures, audiovisual works, multimedia works, sculpture, architectural works, data, designs and software, regardless of the extent to which any of the foregoing may be patentable).
- 2) All inventions subject to patent protection (including: for example, articles of manufacture, devices, compounds, plants, biological materials, processes, business methods, patentable designs and patentable software).
- 3) All brands, logos, taglines, visual identities and other source identifiers for goods or services.
- 4) All trade secrets, know-how and other proprietary information that obtains commercial value from being kept confidential.
- 5) All proprietary and intellectual property rights that apply to the foregoing in any jurisdiction, including without limitation patents, copyrights, trademarks and the right to apply for and renew the same.
- 6) The exclusive right to make, use, license, commercialize and deal in the foregoing.

II. Intellectual Property Ownership

A. Policy Summary

As further described in this Section II, it is the general policy of Ringling College that:

- 1) Intellectual property created by students and faculty is owned by the creator, unless the Intellectual Property has been specially commissioned by Ringling College from the creator(s).
- 2) Intellectual property created by staff and non-faculty employees is owned by Ringling College.
- 3) Ownership of the intellectual property of the work of independent contractors for Ringling College is determined by written agreements at the time the work is contracted.

B. Policy As To Staff & Non-Faculty Employees

Ringling College alone owns all intellectual property created by creators acting within their capacity as Ringling College staff and non-faculty employees within the scope of their employment by Ringling College.

C. Policy As To Independent Contractors

Ringling College's policy is to enter into written agreements with each of its independent contractors describing the intellectual property to be created, if any, prior to the independent contractor's creation thereof. Independent contractors are defined as non-employees.

D. Policy As To Faculty

Intellectual property created by faculty members acting solely within their capacity as Ringling College faculty is owned by and remains with the creator alone, and not Ringling College, unless the intellectual property is a commissioned work (as defined in Section II.H) or is created in furtherance of a faculty administrative, governance or other institutional service role (as defined in II.D.2).

1. Pedagogical Works

Creators acting solely within their capacity as faculty shall own all pedagogical works of their own creation, including without limitation all class notes, presentations, handouts, slides, demos and lectures. shall make recommendations for resolution to the President of Ringling College.

B. Regular Review

This policy shall be reviewed regularly.

C. Compliance With Law

Notwithstanding any other provision of this policy, this policy will be modified as necessary to comply with applicable Federal or State law (e.g., to ensure Ringling College's continued status as a tax-exempt entity) or otherwise as directed by Ringling College's governing board.

IV. General Provisions

A. Use of Resources

Ringling College resources are to be used for Ringling College purposes and in accordance with College policies. Use of institutional resources may result in an assertion of intellectual property ownership rights by Ringling College and creators should receive clearance to use those resources.

B. Limitations Imposed By Resources

Use of certain Ringling College resources, such as certain software packages, to create intellectual property may be subject to contractual obligations that impose certain limitations on use of the resulting intellectual property. (To illustrate: the educational edition of a Ringling College software package may require that the resulting intellectual property be used only for educational purposes and not for commercial exploitation, for example, or that the intellectual property not be distributed to third parties or posted to public websites.) Accordingly, owners of intellectual property as determined by this Policy may not enjoy complete freedom to use or commercially exploit the intellectual property if certain Ringling College resources were used in its creation. Such owners should confer with Ringling College administrative personnel to clarify whether such limitations apply with respect to any intellectual property intended for purposes other than educational purposes.

C. Likenesses

Each faculty member, staff member, and student hereby grants to Ringling College the right and license to use for promotional purposes such faculty member's, staff member's or student's likeness and right of persona.

D. Ringling College Trademarks

Nothing in this policy affects Ringling College's continued exclusive ownership in its name. Ringling College's registered trademarks, as well as other names, seals, logos, visual identities and other symbols and marks that are representative of Ringling College, may be used solely with Ringling College's permission. Items offered for sale bearing Ringling College's name or marks must be licensed.

E. Nondisclosure and Other Agreements

Prior to executing any third party nondisclosure agreement or other agreement respecting proprietary rights or intellectual property, Ringling College personnel should ensure that their doing so does not conflict with this or any other Ringling College policy.

F. Third Party Intellectual Property

Nothing in this policy authorizes any Ringling College personnel to make, use, sell, bring to Ringling College facilities or otherwise exploit any third party intellectual property in which such personnel does not have the necessary right or license to do so. (Adopted by the Ringling College of Art and Design Board of Trustees, February 14, 2008.)

Plan For Combating The Unauthorized Distribution Of Copyrighted Material By Users Of The Ringling College Of Art and Design Network

Ringling College of Art and Design complies with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA), and intellectual property laws through its policies and protocols. Sections § 668.14 and § 668.43 of HEOA include provisions to curb the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials, with particular attention to unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials on the campus network. These include, but are not limited to, movies, music, images, books, and software. The provisions of HEOA require that Ringling College of Art and Design:

- Develop and implement a written plan to effectively combat the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material by users of the institution's network; and
- Provide an annual disclosure to students informing them of federal copyright laws and explaining institutional policies and sanctions related to violations of copyright law;
- Periodically review and, to the extent practical, offer legal alternatives for acquiring copyrighted material.

The following is Ringling College of Art and Design's plan for complying with HEOA regarding the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials on the College's campus networks.

POLICIES AND SANCTIONS

Multiple policies of Ringling College of Art and Design address copyright/intellectual property.

The following policies are posted online for faculty, staff, students and trustees of Ringling College and included in the official Faculty, Staff and Student Handbooks, also online:

- Responsible Use of Electronic Communications Policy

- Responsible Use of Information Technology Resources

- Intellectual Property Ownership Policy

- Ringling's Position on Sharing Utilities such as Morpheus and Napster

When Ringling College faculty, students, and staff activate their network services, they must complete a Residential Data Network Connection Privilege Agreement (<http://www.it.ringling.edu/Policies.33.o.html>)

Additionally, these policies are included in the Student Handbook

- Residential Data Network Connection Privilege Agreement

- Notebook Computer Information Grant of License

Upon entering Ringling College, students sign a statement that they understand they are responsible for reading, understanding, and abiding by the Student Handbook which is posted on-line. Ringling College of Art and Design does not monitor P2P activities on its Data Network. External entities that protect the rights of the record companies and owners, such as the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) and Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), the Business Software Alliance (BSA), and the Entertainment Software Association (ESA) among others, monitor illegal downloading, copying or sharing of music, videos, commercial software and computer games using P2P programs across the Internet. When a copyright violation is discovered, copyright holders or their agents will report the alleged infringement to the Office of the President or the Office of Institutional Technology where the IP address is registered. Ringling College is required to respond to Reports from copyright holders, and entities representing copyright holders, regarding computers on campus that are illegally distributing copyrighted materials. Copyright holders or their agents will request that the Office of Institutional Technology identify the owner of the device associated with the reported IP address and relay the Takedown or DMCA Notice to the alleged copyright infringer and/or coordinate the removal of access to the infringing content.

Once Ringling College receives a valid DMCA notice, the Office of Institutional Technology disables network access for the device in question as identified in the notice.

Furthermore, the user who has violated copyright and fair use policy through downloading and sharing of copyright-protected materials must submit their device(s) to the Office of Institutional for verification that the material and applications used to download and share the materials are removed from their device(s). The responsible party must acknowledge breaching Responsible Use of Electronic Communications agreement and understanding of the federal law in order to regain network access privileges.

authority for potential disciplinary action in accordance with campus policies and procedures, e.g., for students, the Office of Student Life will be contacted.

Once the user confirms in writing that the required actions have been completed or provides proof that they were not responsible for the infringement, IT will:

1. Unblock the device in question or user ID and notify the user via email that their access is restored;
2. Notify the complainant via email that the matter has been resolved; and
3. Update and resolve the confidential ticket.

In addition, the Office of Institutional Technology monitors network activities and identifies potential violators and follows the above procedure.

Institutional Technology and Office of Student Life support staff, including student workers, are regularly trained on Ringling School's position with respect to copyright issues. Student workers provide an important channel for communicating with the student community. IT periodically briefs relevant governance bodies and the campus community on policy related to DMCA and has published Ringling College's response to infringement claims on Campus Portal.

ANNUAL DISCLOSURE TO STUDENTS

At the start of each academic year, the Office of Student Life will provide a written reminder to all students, which explains that the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials violates federal copyright laws as well as institutional policies. The message also contains links to the sites where students can access institutional policies, protocols, and guidelines. See Addendum A.

EDUCATION AND AWARENESS

Ringling College is committed to responsible use and protection of copyrighted content and educating its community in that regard.

•Ringling College employees and faculty are educated during new employee and new faculty orientation sessions by the Offices of Institutional Technology, Library Services, and Human Resources.

•When Ringling College faculty, students, and staff activate their network services, they must complete an acceptable usage agreement. The agreement includes several statements relating to copyright infringement and how it relates to Ringling College policies and the law

•Incoming students new to Ringling College are educated during orientation sessions. Students are directed to review the Student Handbook and must sign a statement that they understand that they are responsible for reading, understanding, and abiding by the Student Handbook which is posted online.

•Annually, students are sent a notice informing them of federal copyright laws and penalties and informing them of institutional policies and sanctions related to violations of copyright law.

•A web page dedicated to copyright and fair use is published and maintained by the Offices of Institutional Technology and Goldstein Library. Links to in-house and external information and training sources are included.

•Training and awareness presentations are offered on campus by such offices as Center for Career Services and incorporated into classroom instruction by faculty, the Instructional Design Librarians, and the Director of Library Services.

LEGAL ALTERNATIVES

In addition to its efforts to educate and inform the Ringling community about issues relating to copyrighted material and its procedures for handling notices and occurrences of unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material, the College provides sources of and information about legal means of downloading and acquiring copyrighted material. Goldstein Library, through its subscription licensing program and library acquisitions, provides electronic books and periodicals, sound effects and music, images, and other resources for legal download at www.ringling.edu/library.

TECHNOLOGY-BASED DETERRENTS

Ringling College of Art and Design complies with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act and the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) and vigorously attempts to identify alleged copyright infringers. In addition, the Office of Institutional Technology has protocols that result in escalating access restrictions for alleged copyright infringers on the campus wireless network and the residence hall network, the two networks for which the majority of copyright infringement notices are received when the College is notified of such instances of infringements.

Ringling College has implemented technology based solutions to:

1. Monitor bandwidth usage of users of the campus network resources,
2. Monitor network traffic to identify the largest bandwidth users via their assigned IP number,
3. Electronically block violator's devices from the Internet,
4. Accept and respond to DMCA notices in a timely fashion

PERIODIC REVIEW OF THE PLAN

The College shall review this Plan for Combating the Unauthorized Distribution of Copyrighted Material by Users of the Ringling College of Art and Design Data Network as necessary and appropriate given developments in technology, law, regulation and policy, but shall conduct a formal review of the Plan no less than every year. The review shall be led by the Office of Institutional Technology, Library, and Vice-President for Student Life and others as necessary.

ADDENDUM A : Annual Disclosure to Students

File Sharing and Copyright

Ringling College of Art and Design does not monitor P2P activities on its Data Network. External entities that protect the rights of the record companies and owners, such as the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) and Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), the Business Software Alliance (BSA), and the Entertainment Software Association (ESA) among others, monitor illegal downloading, copying or sharing of music, videos, commercial software and computer games using P2P programs across the Internet. When a copyright violation is discovered, copyright holders or their agents will report the alleged infringement to the Office of the President or the Office of Institutional Technology where the IP address is registered. Ringling College is required to respond to Reports from copyright holders, and entities representing copyright holders, regarding computers on campus that are illegally distributing copyrighted materials. Copyright holders or their agents will request that the Institutional Technology identify the owner of the device associated with the reported IP address and relay the Takedown or DMCA Notice to the alleged copyright infringer and/or coordinate the removal of access to the infringing content.

Penalties and Legal Actions

Penalties

A user in violation of copyright law may face the following penalties:

1. Suspension from Ringling Data Network.
2. Prosecution in criminal court or a civil lawsuit seeking damages. Civil liability for copyright infringement can be as high as $150,000 per instance of infringement in addition to legal fees. Criminal penalties for a first offense may be as high as three years in prison and a fine of $250,000.
3. Disciplinary action taken by Student Affairs or by an employees' supervisor in accordance with HR policy and procedures.

Legal Actions

1. Lawsuits - In January 21, 2004 the RIAA sued 532 people for large-scale copyright infringement.
2. Focusing on Higher Education Students - September 30, 2004, the RIAA Brings Lawsuits Against 762 Illegal File Sharers.
3. On June 18, 2009, a federal jury held an individual liable for $1.92 million ($80,000 per song) for copyright infringement of 24 songs using the Kazaa peer-to-peer network.

Using P2P File Sharing on-campus

When using P2P file sharing programs, users should be aware of what they are downloading and sharing to avoid violating copyright laws, because even accidental violations can result in penalties. If you choose to use a P2P program regardless of the risks, please take the following steps to protect yourself:

1. Prior to installing P2P software, make sure it provides you with the ability to restrict access to a designated shared folder. While installing the software, designate a folder that contains only the files you want others to see and access.
2. Turn off or disable the upload ability from your computer if you are not actively sharing documents. There may be an option in your software to "disable uploading to others", "disable file sharing" or reduce "upload rates" to zero.
3. Refrain from downloading files that are likely protected by the copyright law, and do not make such files available to others. While there are cases where the legal right to copy and distribute may not be clear, items such as commercial software with a "free" or "hacked" license, current movies and music, and other items that you would normally pay for, are likely not being shared legally.
4. Disable your file sharing applications when you are not using them. This will limit the amount of bandwidth consumption on your computer.
5. Please contact Institutional Technology Help Desk if you need further assistance.

Recommended Practices

1. Disable the Simple File Sharing feature on Windows machines. You can do so, by clicking on Start, Control Panel, Folder Options, Tab View, Uncheck "Use Simple File Sharing", Apply, OK.
2. Install and update anti-virus and anti-spyware software frequently. Please visit Institutional Technology website on operating systems update instructions for Microsoft Windows and Mac OS X platforms.
3. Install and maintain your personal firewall updates.
4. Adhere to Ringling College of Art and Design's copyright policies and copyright violation guidelines.
5. For more information on how to disable file sharing on your computer, please visit the Institutional Technology Documentation page on File Sharing.

Addendum B: For Website

Information to Students Regarding Copyright and Technology Resources

It is the policy of Ringling College of Art and Design to comply with copyright and other intellectual property laws. As a network and Internet user, you must be aware of laws and policies concerning the use of copyrighted material, especially digital material – music, movies, software, etc.

Students agree to comply with Ringling's policies and procedures with respect to copyright, intellectual property, and use of technology resources when then enroll at the College. These may be found in the Student Handbook and include: Responsible Use of Electronic Communications Policy, Responsible Use of Information Technology Resources, Intellectual Property Ownership Policy, Ringling's Position on Sharing Utilities such as Morpheus and Napster Residential Data Network Connection Privilege Agreement, and Notebook Computer Information Grant of License.

Copyright exists in any original work which exists or is fixed in any tangible medium of expression. Images displayable on computer screens, computer software, music, books, magazines, scientific and other journals, photographs and articles are some of the things subject to copyright. A copyright notice is not required for the work to be protected.

As provided in 17 U.S.C. §§ 107, 108, and 110, it is a violation of copyright law to copy, distribute, display, exhibit or perform copyrighted works without the authority of the owner of the copyright, except for those circumstances which meet the exemptions and exceptions as specified by law. For information about copyright law and various exceptions, see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov, especially the FAQs. In short, copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner. In the file sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Legal penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys’ fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense.

Institutional sanctions can include suspension of user’s access to Ringling College networks and referral to the appropriate College administrative office for disciplinary action.

Legal alternatives to illegal downloading include licensed resources provided by Ringling College’s Goldstein Library and Office of Institutional Technology and other suggested resources listed at <http://www.ringling.edu/iso/compliance/heoa/>.

Responsible Use Of Electronic Communications

Policy Statement

Ringling College of Art and Design provides an environment for the campus community to utilize appropriate computer and electronic information technologies in meeting the educational mission of the College. The College expects all members of its community to use electronic communications in a responsible manner. It is each individual’s responsibility to become familiar with their rights and responsibilities as outlined in this and other appropriate College documents. There are also Federal, State and Local laws governing some aspects of information use and distribution. While guidelines may be provided in the context of the classroom, each individual is responsible to remain knowledgeable about current laws and policies.

Ringling College seeks to enforce its policies regarding non-harassment and the safety of individuals; to protect the College against damage or legal consequences; to prevent the electronic posting or distributing of copyrighted material in violation of license restrictions or other contractual agreements; to safeguard the integrity of computers, networks and data, either at Ringling College of Art and Design or elsewhere; and to ensure use of electronic communications complies with this Student Handbook, the Faculty Handbook and the Staff Handbook.

Ringling College of Art and Design may restrict the use of its computers and network systems for electronic communications in response to Reports presenting evidence of violations of Ringling College policies or codes, or Local, State or Federal laws. Specifically, the College reserves the right to limit access to its networks through Ringling College-owned or other computers and to remove or limit access to material posted on Ringling College-owned computers. Users should also refer to the "Responsible Use of Electronics Communications Policy" (above) for additional examples of misuse of campus computing and information resources. Feedback as to the effectiveness of these guidelines is encouraged.

All members of the Ringling College community are expected to utilize information technology resources in a responsible and appropriate manner, respecting the rights of other users.

Users are responsible for becoming familiar with their rights and responsibilities and applicable laws and guidelines. By utilizing these services, an individual agrees to abide by the guidelines and

Failure to abide by these guidelines and other applicable codes or Local, State or Federal laws may result in disciplinary actions including, but not limited to, loss or limitation of privileges in using information technology resources.

Examples Of Violations

Misuse of computing and information resources and privileges includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Disclosing network account credentials to anyone.
- Re-broadcasting unsolicited e-mail or USENET news (spam or electronic junk mail).

Security & Confidentiality Of Information Storage & Transmission

Ringling College of Art and Design cannot guarantee the confidentiality or privacy of electronic mail messages and other documents stored on College computers. Ringling College assumes users are aware that electronic files and transmissions are not necessarily secure.

Furthermore, electronic mail in its present form is not secured and has the potential to be vulnerable to unauthorized access, modification and forgery. Such services should be utilized with this in mind.

World Wide Web users should be aware that it is possible for software on a website to explore and retrieve information from the user's computer without the user being aware of the invasion. Anyone who “downloads” software, certain applications or certain file types or receives email attachments should be aware of the possibility that such material could incorporate viruses, worms or other destructive materials.

Guidelines Relating To Confidentiality

- Ringling College reserves the right to conduct routine maintenance, track problems and maintain the integrity of its systems. As is the case with all data kept on Ringling College’s computer systems, the content of electronic mail or user files may be revealed by such activities.
- Ringling College does not routinely monitor the contents of email. However, such monitoring may be conducted when required to protect the integrity of the systems or to comply with legal obligations
- Ringling College reserves the right to inspect the contents of email and all disk files in the course of an investigation into alleged impropriety or as necessary, to locate substantive information not readily available by other means, or to ensure compliance with institutional policy
- Authorization to investigate the contents of user files or emails must be given by the Senior Officers.

Responsibilities Of System Administrators

System administrators shall perform their duties fairly, in cooperation with the user community, the appropriate higher-level administrators and College policies. System administrators shall respect the privacy of users as far as possible and shall refer all disciplinary matters to appropriate authorities.

Ringling’s Position On Sharing Utilities Such As Morpheus & Napster

The official Ringling College of Art and Design position on Napster and other sharing utilities such as Scour, iMesh and Gnutella is:

- The software itself is not illegal, nor banned at Ringling College of Art and Design.
- It is illegal to share copyrighted material for which you do not hold the copyright.

The Ringling College’s Internet link is a shared resource and primarily for academic use. Students who abuse this resource by generating high network traffic are tracked by Institutional Technology. The bandwidth offenders are contacted individually by the Institutional Technology. If the heavy usage is not academic related, then the student is advised on how to limit usage. Repeated offenses may result in turning over a student’s case to the Dean of Students who deals with conduct violations. The student housing network is not intended to enable Ringling College students to be Internet content providers. Using Napster with file sharing enabled increases the usage on the College’s Internet link to a point that the entire campus network is adversely affected. In Napster, students can turn sharing off. In other utilities, students can point to an empty folder and have

Failure to observe these policies can result in a conduct violation, having their campus housing data network connection deactivated or in severe cases, criminal proceedings. Ignorance of these policies is not an excuse for non-compliance.

Role Of The Instructor

The instructor is responsible for overseeing the work of the figure model during the class session. The instructor communicates the objectives and / or format of the class session to the figure model and offers criteria, suggestions and / or advice for poses. Figure models are asked to direct questions, ideas and concerns regarding the condition of the studio, the classroom environment or the pose, to the instructor.

All those who work in the studio share responsibility for behaving in a professional manner, and the instructor oversees the maintenance of the professional studio environment.

Role Of The Student

Students are responsible for following the guidelines set by the instructor, behaving in a professional manner, concentrating on their work and contributing to a positive learning experience in the studio.

Students should direct questions or concerns about the pose to the instructor.

Information & General Guidelines For Modeling Sessions

and comfort level is critical to the successful fulfillment of the instructor's objectives for the class. Professionalism is expected of all students at all times in their behavior toward figure models.

- 1) Students should be ready to work when the figure model takes the pose that has been determined by the instructor. It is impolite to continue talking or not work while the figure model is on the stand posing.
- 2) Students should not address the figure model directly regarding the pose that the instructor has determined. When students suspect that a figure model has not correctly resumed the pose or shifted out of the pose, they should inform the instructor. It is recommended that students first verify that it is not their perspective of the pose that has changed such as a shift in their view of the figure model. If the instructor asks for feedback from students about correction of a pose, students should address the figure model in a professional manner.
- 3) If the instructor will not be present for any part of a scheduled session, the designated student monitor will assume responsibility for the session. The monitor will refer to the "Standard Model Instructions" developed by the instructor at the beginning of the semester, specifically for use in the event of an instructor absence. The student monitor will handle questions and concerns from the students and / or figure model regarding the pose.
- 4) Figure models appreciate knowing they have done a good job and it is appropriate to thank them for the contribution they have made to the learning experience.
- 5) Concerns related to the figure modeling session should be directed to the instructor privately. Such concerns might include the figure model's inability to hold a pose, excessive breaks taken by the figure model or students being rude or not working while the figure model is posing.
- 6) The model stand is the figure model's private space. Students should not sit or lean on the model stand while the figure model is posing.
- 7) Figure models have been asked to avoid prolonged eye contact with students while posing, as this is distracting to all. Students should also avoid prolonged eye contact with the figure model.
- 8) Students should refrain from making comments regarding the body type or personality of the figure model that could be interpreted as derogatory.
- 9) Maintain friendly and polite interactions with figure models while on break. Figure models may want to look at student work to assist them in their posing.
- 10) Always ask for permission to work in close proximity to the model stand if required for observational detail.
- 11) The Ringling College Non-harassment Policy prohibits forms of harassment including, but not limited to, harassment based on gender, race, national origin, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation and disability. Students should inform the instructor about any issues they may encounter in regards to inappropriate behavior in class or during breaks.

Use Of Undraped Figure Models At Ringling College Of Art and Design:

- Undraped figure models will be used only in studios.
- Unauthorized visitors are not permitted in studios when an undraped figure model is posing.
- The instructor is responsible for authorizing access to the studio. Generally, only the instructor and students in the class may enter the studio once a class is in session. Individuals requesting entry must knock on the door and wait outside for the instructor to allow time for an undraped figure model to put on a robe.
- Unauthorized photography in the studio while the figure model is posing draped or undraped is NOT permitted. Cameras (including cell phone or PDA cameras) and photography by any parties are not permitted without prior, written approval of both the instructor AND the model coordinator. Release forms must be signed by the model and are kept on file with the model coordinator.

Public Relations & Publicity

Ringling College documents student achievements and campus activities throughout the year for publication or public relations purposes. Students who do not wish to be photographed, video- or audio-taped, or who do not want to have their written comments reproduced in publications or publicity by the College must notify the Office of Advising, Records and Registration Services during registration.

Promotional Releases

When students are recording, copying, or capturing (in photos, drawings, videos, recordings, etc.) the likeness, voice, appearance or personal property of other people, for either classwork or on behalf of the College, the student must have first secured each subject's signature on an appropriate promotional release form. Once signed, release forms must be filed with a designated department on-campus (depending on the nature of the assignment, e.g., academic department etc.). For more information about the process and appropriate release forms, please contact the Editorial and Public Relations Manager at slederer@ringling.edu. or by phone at 941.309.4110.

Media Relations / News Releases

To present consistent and accurate institutional messaging and information about Ringling College of Art and Design, all external communication representing Ringling College, its people, programs and events must be coordinated through Stephanie Lederer, Editorial and Public Relations Manager, 941.309-4110 (cell 502.931.0654) or slederer@ringling.edu. This includes information published by Ringling College, (such as news releases written by students to promote a student event, etc.) as well as all news coverage produced about Ringling College and its programs by outside sources, regardless of medium (print/broadcast/ digital). This also includes all news produced for outside media by students using a byline. (The only exception to this is when a student is writing about his or her own endeavors with no mention of a connection to Ringling College of Art and Design.) The Office of the President constantly strives to create opportunities to generate awareness for Ringling College and to promote the College's various events and accomplishments. The College encourages students to submit news items to Stephanie Lederer focusing on such student achievements and special class projects. The College uses this information in the form of a media calendar to plan coverage for significant events far ahead of their anticipated date as well as to pitch stories to the media on a local, regional or national level. News is also posted to the College's news and press pages on the website www.ringling.edu/news and <http://www.ringling.edu/content/media-press> and distributed via Facebook, Twitter (<http://twitter.com/RinglingCollege>), Instagram, Snapchat, and Periscope. To submit news and notes or to arrange for publicity of a school-sponsored program, or to suggest a possible story idea send via email to communications@ringling.edu. For the best opportunity for media placement, information is requested a minimum of 4 to 6 weeks in advance. For placement in magazines, 3 to 6 months in advance is necessary to accommodate publishing schedules. Images with accompanying photography credits and captions that illustrate the story are greatly encouraged.

Media Policy

The Senior Copywriter and Editorial Manager is charged with coordinating all public information provided by the College to the media and others seeking information and comment. If any member of the media contacts a student directly with requests for College-related information or comment as a representative of Ringling College, the student must contact Chelsea Garner-Ferris, Senior Copywriter and Editorial Manager at 941.309.4110, cferris@ringling.edu before speaking to the reporter about the topic. (This does not apply if the call is made in reference to the student's own work with no mention of a connection to Ringling College of Art and Design. In this case, the student should make it clear to the reporter they are speaking on their own behalf and not as a representative of Ringling College.) This allows all individuals who speak to the media on the College's behalf to be well informed and well prepared. If a student receives a general media inquiry, please refer the journalist to Chelsea Garner-Ferris and she will follow up with them to coordinate any interviews and to ensure appropriate access to campus. Policy to Photo / Film on the Ringling College of Art and Design Campus All requests from outside persons or organizations wishing to photograph or film on the Ringling College campus must have the approval of the Communications Office and be cleared through the Office of Public Safety. Outside parties must also provide a certificate of insurance prior to any authorized shoot. Please email cferris@ringling.edu or call 941.309.4110 for more information.

If a printed piece does not name a sponsor, the College reserves the right to remove such publicity. If materials about events held on Ringling College's campus are being distributed off campus as well, all collateral, including posters, fliers, etc., must be reviewed by the Senior Copywriter and Editorial Manager, regardless of who sponsors them. Fliers for posting in glass showcases and in residence halls will be hung by the Office of Student Life student staff members; fliers posted on bulletin boards and / or other unrestricted spaces may be hung by department or student organization members. Material may not be of an offensive nature (e.g. language, sexist or racial, obscene). Material must state the exact date and time of the event (i.e. "today" or "tomorrow" is not sufficient). Suitable materials must be used for adhering fliers and posters so as not to remove paint or cause any other damage. Small pins or tacks should be used rather than staples or nails. If inappropriate materials are utilized for hanging, the posting will be removed.

Redress of Grievance/Student Reports

Ringling College of Art and Design has established procedures for addressing and resolving student Reports in a fair and professional manner. All policies and procedures for handling student Reports are detailed in this Student Handbook, and are available to all students through the College website. All new students are oriented to the Student Handbook and College policies during Ringling College's New Student Orientation.

Students sign an acknowledgment during Orientation that they are responsible for reading and knowing the contents of the Student Handbook. An announcement is also sent out via student email and portal to remind students of the importance of knowing the contents of the Student Handbook and how it can be accessed. Ringling College takes student grievances/ Reports very seriously. Please see the Policy below.

Student Grievance Policy

(See also Reporting of Incidents and Concerns)

The primary objective of a student grievance process is to ensure concerns are promptly dealt with and resolutions reached in a fair manner. It is essential each student be given adequate opportunity to bring Reports and problems to the attention of Ringling College. The student grievance process may only be used to make a Report about a College action or decision when there is no other process to address that particular issue (e.g. Code of Conduct, Grade Appeal, Sexual Misconduct, Discrimination, etc.).

Students are encouraged to resolve concerns by first talking directly with the College representative involved. If a student has not been able to resolve his or her Report by speaking directly with the individual, he or she should discuss it with the College official responsible for that area of the College. The student should attempt to resolve the issue within 30 days of the occurrence. If the student is still not satisfied, he or she may file a written Report, using the Student Grievance Form, with the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students as soon as possible, but no later than 6 months from the date of the incident. The Vice President of Student Life and Dean of Students will review the Report and determine the appropriate Office or Department to respond to the Report. If the Report is about the Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students, the student should direct the Report to the President.

If the Report involves allegations of harassment, sexual misconduct, or any form of unlawful discrimination, the Report should be made using the procedures specific to those policies. The Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Students (Deputy Title IX Coordinator) and the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development (Title IX Coordinator) will assist the student in processing the Report.

Reporting of Incidents and Concerns

Students, faculty and staff may also report any alleged code of conduct violations or other concerns by using the Incident Report E-Form. There is the option to remain anonymous, but this may limit the college's ability to respond and take action. Please save this link. It is also available on the college's website. https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?RinglingCollege&layout_id=0.

Whistleblower Policy

An employee who reasonably believes that a policy, practice or activity of Ringling College of Art and Design is in violation of a Federal, State or Local law, rule or regulation may file a written Report with the Vice President for Human and Organizational Development or with the President of the College.

It is the intent of Ringling College of Art and Design to adhere to all laws, rules and regulations that apply to the College, and the underlying purpose of this Policy is to support the Ringling College of Art and Design goal of legal compliance. The support of all employees is necessary to achieving compliance with various laws, rules and regulations. The protection described below is only available to employees that comply with this requirement.

Ringling College of Art and Design will not retaliate against an employee who, in good faith, has made a protest or raised a Report against some practice of the College or of another individual or entity with whom Ringling College of Art and Design had a business relationship, on the basis of a reasonable belief that the practice is in violation of law, rule, regulation or a clear mandate of public policy.

Ringling College will not retaliate against an employee who discloses or threatens to disclose to an appropriate governmental agency any activity, policy or practice of the College that the employee reasonably believes is in violation of a law, a rule or regulation mandated pursuant to law or is in violation of a clear mandate or public policy concerning health, safety, welfare or protection of the environment.

Student Exhibitions & Installations Policies

Ringling College of Art and Design respects and supports the freedom of expression of artists and therefore does not restrict the contents of student, faculty or alumni professional work exhibited on the Ringling College of Art and Design campus. All work represents the views of the individual artists and authors who created them, and are not those of Ringling College.

The institution acknowledges the difference between public spaces and formal exhibitions spaces, such as Basch Gallery, Willis Smith Gallery, and Crossley Gallery where individuals make a decision to enter for the purpose of viewing art. Public spaces include the grounds, Library, offices, building entrances and residence halls. Since a variety of individuals use these public spaces for purposes other than viewing art, students should be aware that some work might not be suitable for display in these public spaces.
